02 Bộ câu hỏi tự đánh giá

Trước khi bắt đầu viết bài, thí sinh cần dành thời gian phân tích đề bài. Việc này đặc biệt quan trọng với writing task 2 vì nó sẽ ảnh hưởng trực tiếp tới kết quả của tiêu chí Task response (đánh giá liệu thí sinh có trả lời được yêu cầu của đề hay không?). Để có thể làm tốt bước phân tích, thí sinh cần lần lượt trả lời các câu hỏi:

- Chủ đề của bài viết là gì?
- Đề bài có những từ khóa nào?
- Đây là dạng bài nào?
- Có thể tiếp cận đề bài dưới cách nào?
- Đề bài có những chỉ tiết nào cần chú ý?

- Để bài trả lời câu hỏi dưới đây:
1. Bài viết đã trả lời được yêu cầu của bài chưa?
 2. Các thông tin mà bài đưa ra có liên quan tới nội dung chính không?
 3. Mỗi đoạn đã có một chủ điểm xuyên suốt chưa?
 4. Các từ ngữ đã được sử dụng một cách hợp lý chưa?
- Tham khảo phần phân tích dưới đây để hiểu rõ hơn về các lỗi sử dụng ngôn từ và lập luận của bài viết.

03 Phân tích theo 4 tiêu chí

Ước lượng điểm cho 4 tiêu chí:

Task response: 7.0

- Các yêu cầu của đề bài đều được trả lời, các ý主旨 đều được phát triển với thông tin liên quan (tương ứng với band 8.0 tiêu chí Task response: sufficiently addresses all parts of the task, presents a well-developed response to the question with relevant, extended and supported ideas).
- Tuy nhiên, ý cuối cùng của body 2 vẫn chưa được phát triển đủ sâu (tương ứng với band 8.0 tiêu chí Task response: present relevant main ideas but some may be inadequately developed).

- Bên cạnh đó, một số phát triển ở body 1 không còn cần thiết, không giúp làm rõ nội dung chính của bài (tương ứng với band 7.0 tiêu chí Task response: supporting idea may lack focus).

Như vậy, mức điểm 7.0 sẽ là mức điểm phù hợp cho tiêu chí Task response của bài viết.

Coherence and cohesion: 8.0

- Bài viết đã sử dụng được đa dạng từ nối và các từ thay thế xuyên suốt bài.
- Các ý主旨 không bị trùng lặp nhau và có sự tiến triển rõ ràng. Mỗi đoạn đều bám sát một nội dung chính.

Lexical resource: 9.0

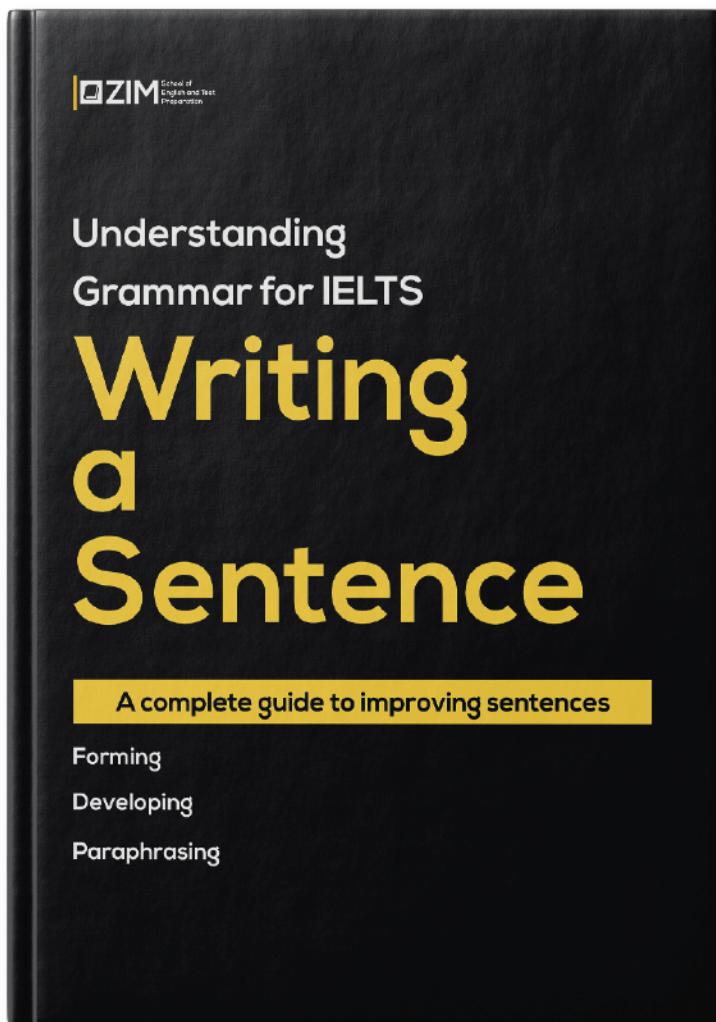

- Bài viết sử dụng được nhiều và chính xác từ vựng về chủ đề đề bài, giao thông.

Grammatical range and accuracy: 9.0

- Bài đã sử dụng được đa dạng các cấu trúc ngữ pháp từ câu đơn, câu ghép tới câu phức và không có lỗi sai.

Cách phát triển khi viết câu

Một câu đơn được cấu tạo bởi 1 mệnh đề. Cấu trúc một mệnh đề cơ bản gồm:

CHỦ NGỮ (S) + ĐỘNG TỬ (V)

Câu có hai mệnh đề trên có thể là câu ghép, câu phức, hoặc câu phức ghép.

Lesson 6.1: Câu ghép

1. Tổng quan về câu ghép

Câu ghép là câu có chứa ít nhất 2 mệnh đề độc lập được nối với nhau bằng các liên từ đồng lập, bao gồm: for, and, nor, but, or, yet, và so. Các mệnh đề trong câu có thể có quan hệ thời gian và có thể dùng cách riêng ra tạo thành các câu đơn độc lập.

Sinh is working. Lam is starting.

Câu đơn 1 Câu đơn 2

→ Câu ghép: She is working, and I am playing. (với nối bằng liên từ đồng lập "and")

Liên từ trong câu ghép trong các liên từ đồng lập được sử dụng để nối các mệnh đề trong câu ghép có 4 liên từ thường dùng: sự đồng nhất đó là and - or - but - so

Ví dụ:

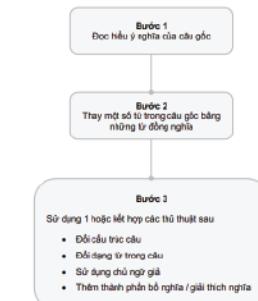

- My phone is an indispensable device, and I have to bring it everywhere with me. (độn thoại là vật thiết bị không thể thiếu, và tôi phải mang theo nó đến mọi nơi.)
- The company needs to constantly innovate its products, or they will be outdated. (Công ty này cần phải luôn đổi mới các sản phẩm, hoặc họ sẽ bị lạc hậu.)
- People now can use Facebook to connect with each other, but their personal information can be abused by identity thieves. (người ta nay có thể sử dụng Facebook để kết nối với nhau, nhưng thông tin cá nhân của họ có thể bị trộm lừa đảo.)

01 Chiến lược làm bài Task 1

1. Cấu trúc bài viết

Một bài viết Task 1 thường được chia ra thành 4 phần (4 đoạn):

- | | |
|----------|--|
| Mở bài | • 1 câu - Viết để bắt đầu theo cách khác |
| Overview | • 1-2 câu - Tóm tắt một hay hai điểm đáng chú ý nhất của biểu đồ |
| Detail 1 | • 3-4 câu - Mô tả nhóm thông tin 1 |
| Detail 2 | • 3-4 câu - Mô tả nhóm thông tin 2 |

Ví dụ

The chart shows the annual GDP growth rates in 3 countries from 2007 to 2010.

GDP Growth (annual %)

Year

Country

Branch

02 Cách triển khai một đoạn văn

Có 2 loại đoạn văn thường được sử dụng trong IELTS: Single-idea paragraph (đoạn văn 1 ý) và Double-idea paragraph (đoạn văn 2 ý).

Lý do	Single-idea paragraph	Double-idea paragraph
Cấu trúc
Ví dụ	People should cycle more often because regular cycling sessions guarantee good health (Luận điểm). A number of researchers have suggested a link between cycling and the reduction of certain illnesses. While cycling, excess visceral fat is burnt. This in turn helps eliminate the main cause of high blood pressure and other health risks, including cancer and cardiovascular disease amongst cyclists. (Các câu phát triển luận điểm)	Cycling is beneficial in several ways (Luận điểm). First, it guarantees better health (Ý 1). While cycling, excess visceral fat is burnt. This in turn helps eliminate the main cause of high blood pressure and other health risks, including cancer and cardiovascular disease amongst cyclists. (Các câu phát triển ý 2)

03 Cấu trúc 4P viết bài Task 2

1. Dạng "2-part question".

Người viết cần phải trả lời đầy đủ cả 2 câu hỏi này ở 2 đoạn thân bài. Câu trả lời ở 2 đoạn này độc lập với nhau, không cần phải có sự liên kết về ý tưởng giữa 2 đoạn.

Ví dụ:

Children nowadays are spending too much time playing video games and very little time playing sports. Why is this happening? Is this a positive or negative development?

- | | |
|---|---|
| Why are children spending time playing games? | Why aren't they spending time playing sports? |
|---|---|

- Bản thân game hiện nay có độ họa đẹp, hình ảnh bắt mắt.

- Trẻ em, đặc biệt là ở các thành phố lớn, đang sống một lối sống thụ động và bừa bãi.

- Is playing games too much positive or negative?

- Tiêu cực, vì trẻ em chơi game quá nhiều và không có thời gian để giao tiếp với bạn bè.

- Tiêu cực, vì trẻ em nếu không chơi thể thao sẽ rất dễ gặp các vấn đề về sức khỏe.

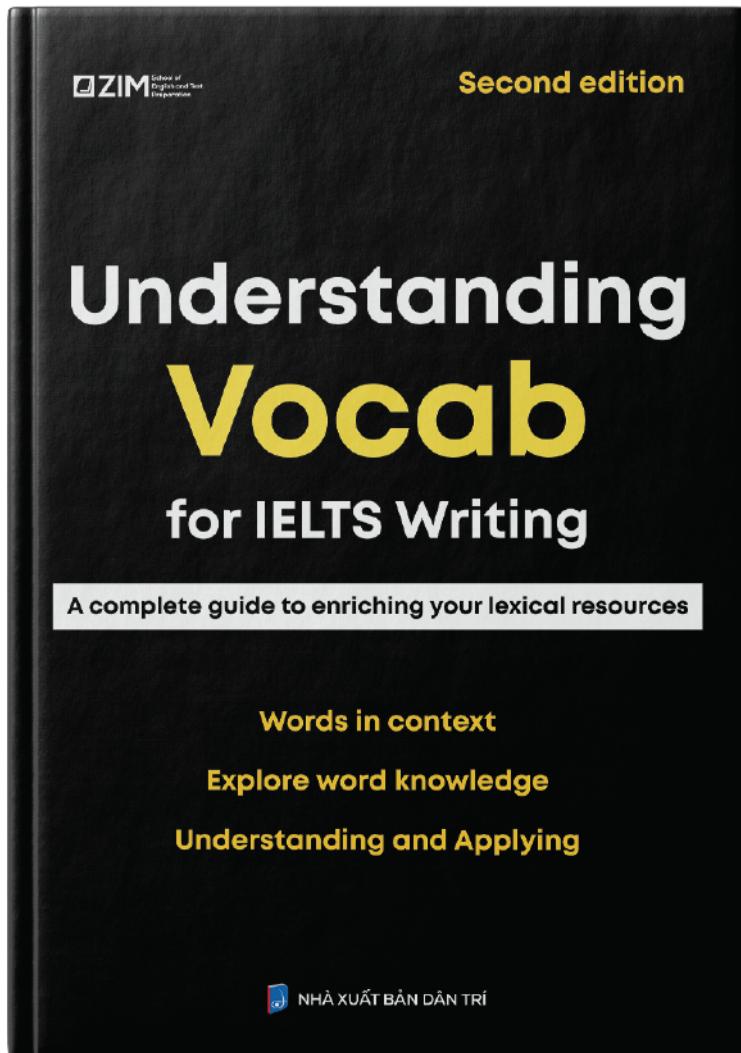

Bài mẫu

Nowadays, many children spend the majority of their time playing video games and hardly engage in any sport or exercises. Overall, I believe this is definitely a negative trend and will discuss the reasons why in the following essay.

Đoạn trả lời bài thi sẽ chỉ và xác định cách người viết rõ câu trả lời.

Giáo dục đại học có đang làm chứng ta thất vọng?

Ở nhiều nơi trên thế giới, university education^① đang không đem lại kết quả như chúng ta mong đợi. Thay vì được cung cấp những kiến thức cần thiết, kỹ năng cần thiết cho công việc trong tương lai, học sinh đại học hầu như bị rủi ro vào theoretical knowledge^②, thênh借此 thực tiễn để có thể qua được các bài kiểm tra trên trường. Traditional learning model^③ không còn phát huy tác dụng, trong khi đó các hình thức interactive learning^④ không được phổ cập ở môi trường đại học.

Thời gian dành cho extracurricular activities^⑤ từ đó cũng bị hạn chế dần. Tuy rằng nhiều ngành nghề yêu cầu formal qualifications^⑥ với những điều đó không có nghĩa những practical skills^⑦ như Interpersonal and teamwork skills^⑧ là không cần thiết. Knowledge-based society^⑩ hiện nay cần những cá nhân toàn vẹn cả về kiến thức lẫn kỹ năng. Chính vì vậy, tertiary education^⑪ cần cung cấp cái cách lớn để có thể đáp ứng được nhu cầu của xã hội.

I'm going to tell you the story of when I studied university.

It was way back⁰¹ in 2011. I had taken a gap year⁰² after high school and it turned out to be one of the best decisions I'd ever made. I found my true passion in⁰³ banking and financing. Then I attended RMIT university⁰⁴, which is one of the top schools in Vietnam with competitive admission⁰⁵. I majored in⁰⁶ Finance because I wanted to fulfil my dream of⁰⁷ working in a bank. You know, being a finance major meant that I had to work with numbers and meet deadlines⁰⁸ on a regular basis.

The environment was what I liked most in my university – I mean, the facilities were top-notch⁰⁹ with air conditioners and Apple iMac computers.

On top of that, teachers were very supportive and friendly, and I always turned to them for advice¹⁰ before sitting for an exam¹¹.

In a nutshell, I really enjoyed my time at RMIT and I wish I could somehow relive my time there once more.

1 Way back = A long time ago: Rồi lâu về trước

2 To take a gap year = To take a year off before college: Đánh rì r Ebook: Học hỏi làm việc

3 To find my true passion in something = To enjoy very much doing something: Tôi rất thích làm điều này

4 To attend university = To study at university: Học tại đại học

5 Competitive admission = To be very difficult to get into university: Tôi bị chọi đầu vào

6 To major in something: Học chuyên ngành nào đó

7 To fulfil my dream of something = To make my dream come true: Hiện thực hóa ước mơ của tôi

8 To meet deadlines: Hết thời hạn nộp bài/công việc

9 Top - notch = Excellent: Hàng đầu, chất lượng

10 To turn to for advice = To ask for help from: Tôi kh蹶n đến ai đó

11 To sit for an exam = To take an examination: Tham gia kỳ thi

01 Kỹ thuật xác định Keywords

Từ khóa được chia thành ba loại:

- Từ khóa khó thay thế: bao gồm các tên riêng, con số nổi bật, hầu như không bao giờ bị thay thế trong bài đọc → Ưu tiên sử dụng bài từ khóa này để tìm kiếm thông tin.

- Từ khóa dễ thay thế: bao gồm các danh từ và có thể bị thay thế bằng cách diễn đạt khác trong bài đọc → Sử dụng loại từ khóa này để tìm kiếm thông tin khi đề bài không chứa từ khóa khó thay thế.

- Từ khóa chính: bao gồm các động từ, tính từ, hoặc chủ đề của bài đọc. Động từ và tính từ trong hầu hết các trường hợp sẽ bị thay thế bằng từ đồng nghĩa hoặc cách diễn đạt khác trong bài đọc. Chủ đề của bài đọc sẽ được lặp lại nhiều lần không có nhiều giá trị trong việc xác định thông tin cần thiết → Sử dụng loại từ khóa này để hiểu nội dung chính của đề bài. Chỉ dùng để tìm kiếm thông tin khi đề bài không chứa 2 loại từ khóa trên, hoặc khi không xác định được cách diễn đạt thay thế cho 2 loại từ khóa trên trong bài đọc.

In 1945, Fleming received recognition for his work on the discovery of penicillin.

In 1945, Fleming received recognition for his work on the discovery of penicillin.

Lưu ý: Fleming là từ chủ đề - được lặp lại nhiều lần trong bài.

In 1945, Fleming received recognition for his work on the discovery of penicillin.

Từ khóa khó thay thế - đã tìm

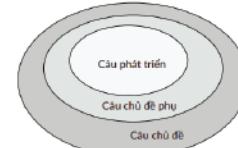

02 Kỹ thuật Skimming

2. Kỹ thuật skimming đoạn văn

Mỗi đoạn văn thường có một ý chính được thể hiện qua câu chủ đề (topic sentence) của đoạn.

Mỗi đoạn văn có:

- Câu chủ đề (topic sentence): nêu lên nội dung chính của đoạn.
- Câu chủ đề phụ (sub-topic sentence): đưa ý nhỏ hơn nội dung chính.
- Câu phát triển (supporting sentence): bổ sung ý nghĩa cho câu chủ đề hay câu chủ đề phụ.

Làm thế nào để tìm được câu chủ đề, câu chủ đề phụ và mối quan hệ của các thông tin?
→ Thủ sinh cần chú ý tới những đặc điểm hình thức sau để tìm ra câu chủ đề và câu chủ đề phụ.

03 Kỹ thuật Scanning và di chuyển mắt

Amy Ploofman is the director of living collections at Paignton Zoo in Devon, UK, and has done pioneering research on the diets of non-human primates in captivity for the last 10 years. She observed that the food given to zebu monkeys was often a poor reflection of what they ate in the wild. In fact, the diet of these animals in some 2005 is more like the food preferences of their human keepers. "We have, whether consciously or unconsciously, assumed that human food is suitable for non-human primates," she says. In some leading zoos, primate species fed in the wild is made up overwhelmingly of leaves are routinely fed chicken, eggs, cheese, yogurt, bread and noodles. This understanding of primate nutrition is, Ploofman says, "far removed from reality".

Điểm nhìn đầu tiên và hướng di chuyển của mắt

4. Phương pháp scan hiệu quả

Ghi nhớ các từ khóa cần tìm (ghi nhớ ý nghĩa từ)

Xác định keywords và từ đồng nghĩa với keywords khi scan

Áp dụng kỹ năng chuyển động mắt (Eye movement)

Tăng tốc tìm keywords để xác định thông tin trả lời trước khi đọc hiểu nội dung (chưa cần đọc hiểu ở bước này)

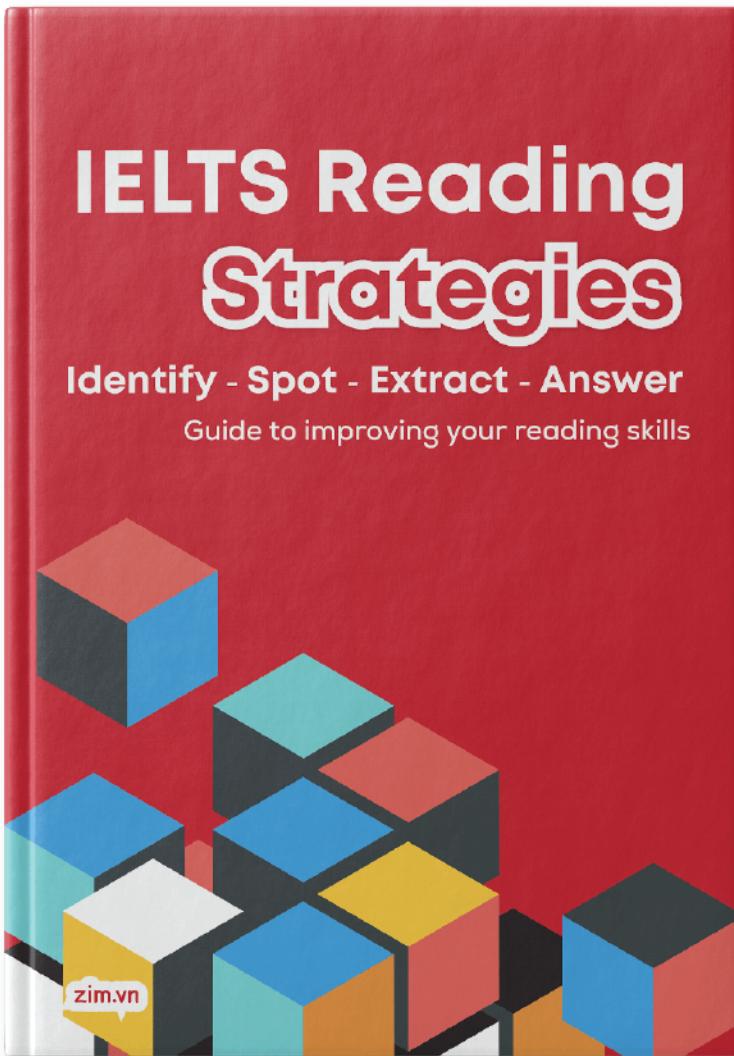

Đánh dấu từ khóa tìm được (gạch chân, khanh tròn)

Triệt kiệm thời gian cho lần tiếp theo sử dụng từ khóa (kiêm tra đáp án, trả lời câu hỏi khác)

Áp dụng phương pháp scan này cho bài đọc trên.

Kiến thức tổng quan các dạng IELTS Reading

IELTS Reading (Academic Module) là bài thi đánh giá kỹ năng đọc hiểu của thí sinh gồm 40 câu hỏi, thời gian làm bài trong khoảng 60 phút (không có thời gian dành cho ghi lại câu trả lời vào phiếu trả lời Answer Sheet cuối bài thi), kết quả của phần Reading sẽ chỉ được tính dựa trên phiếu trả lời, không đưa vào đáp án mà thí sinh ghi chú ở tờ đề. Bài thi thông thường bao gồm 3 phần và phần trả lời câu hỏi. Mỗi phần có 1 bài đọc dài khoảng 1000 – 1500 từ với câu hỏi được chia tương đối đều. Các đề tài thường trích dẫn từ sách, báo, tạp chí hoặc tạp san và những đề tài này không mang tính chất chuyên môn sâu, nếu bài đọc chứa các thuật ngữ hoặc khái niệm chuyên môn phức tạp có thể được giải thích trong phần chú giải (glossary).

Phần thi Reading Academic được thiết kế để kiểm tra một loạt các kỹ năng của thí sinh bao gồm khả năng đọc nhanh và hiểu ý chính của văn bản, đọc hiểu chi tiết, lập luận logic và đánh giá ý kiến, thái độ và mục đích của người viết.

40 câu hỏi gồm nhiều dạng khác nhau bao gồm:

1. Hoàn thành câu (Sentence Completion)
2. Trả lời câu hỏi (Short – Answer Questions)
3. Hoàn thành bảng (Notes – Table Completion)
4. TRUE/FALSE/NOT GIVEN
5. YES/NO/NOT GIVEN
6. Trắc nghiệm (Multiple Choice)

Phương pháp I.S.E.A & chiến lược làm bài

Bước 1 Identifying Bước 2 Spotting Bước 3 Extracting & Answering

- Xác định và phân loại từ khóa.
- Xác định dạng từ cần diễn vào chỗ trống và số từ cần diễn dựa theo đề bài.
- Scan bài đọc để tìm khu vực chứa thông tin cần thiết (dựa trên những từ khóa đã tìm).
- Khi scan đoạn văn, thí sinh lưu ý cần sử dụng kỹ thuật Eye-movement.
- Đổi chiều phần chứa thông tin và câu hỏi. Đọc hiểu phần thông tin vừa tìm được.
- Chọn từ và đổi chiều với dạng từ cần diễn đã xác định ở bước 1.
- Đọc lại câu để một lần nữa kiểm tra độ chính xác của thông tin.

Speaking Part 1

Conversation With A Stranger

1.1

1. Is it hard to start a conversation with a stranger?

→ No, it's not a problem to me, honestly. You know, I'm an extrovert⁽¹⁾ and so, when meeting new people, I'm always the person who breaks the ice⁽²⁾ and strikes up a conversation.⁽³⁾

Ví dụ: Most sales people are extroverts.

⁽²⁾To break the ice: nói chuyện một cách thoải mái, cởi mở với người mới gặp lần đầu tiên
Break /breɪk/: Phá vỡ
Ice /aɪs/: băng đá
Ví dụ: Someone suggested that we play a party game to break the ice.

⁽³⁾To strike up a conversation: bắt chuyện
Conversation /kɔ:n.və'seɪʃən/: cuộc hội thoại
Ví dụ: It's easy to strike up a conversation with someone when you're traveling.

2. Do you normally carry on a conversation with strangers?

→ Well, it depends. I mean, if the person is approachable⁽⁴⁾ and he or she can leave a good impression⁽⁵⁾ on me, then I will absolutely spend more time talking. Otherwise, it would be pretty awkward⁽⁶⁾ to hold a conversation with a guy who is unwilling to let people get to know⁽⁷⁾ him.

⁽⁴⁾Approachable /'prəʊ.tʃə.bəl/: thân thiện và dễ bắt chuyện
Ví dụ: Graham's always very approachable.

⁽⁵⁾To leave a good impression on someone: để lại một ấn tượng tốt cho ai đó

Impression /ɪm'preʃən/: ấn tượng
Ví dụ: She leave a good impression on us.

⁽⁶⁾Awkward /'ɔ:kwəd/: cảm giác ngượng nghịu
Ví dụ: Some of the questions were rather awkward.

⁽⁷⁾Get to know someone: làm quen và tìm hiểu về ai đó
Ví dụ: The first couple of meetings are for the doctor and patient to get to know each other.

3. Are you afraid of being evaluated when you meet someone for the first time?

→ Honestly speaking, I don't really mind. I try not to think about it much because actually, how I'm perceived by others is not as important as how I value myself.

Mở rộng

Chủ đề tương tự: Friends/ relatives/ celebrities (part I)/ nhóm chủ đề tả người (part II)

- Các từ vựng trên có thể được dùng để diễn tả về tính cách của một người

Ví dụ: What kinds of people do you like to make friends with?

Well, anyone who is approachable can leave a very good impression on me. If I find him/ her interesting, I would be ready to get to know and make friends with that person.

- Mở rộng cho câu trả lời ở part II

Ví dụ: Describe an interesting conversation you had with someone

I do remember a time when I had to talk to a complete stranger. It was around 5 years ago, on my very first trip to Ho Chi Minh City. It was just a short moment but I still remember that I was the one who broke the ice and struck up the conversation...

Opinions/ideas

1. When children should have their own ideas/opinions?

→ Well, I suppose that children should be encouraged to form their own ideas when they start school. At that time, kids can not always be reliant on⁽¹⁾ their parents so it's necessary to develop the ability to think for themselves and even make their own decisions in some cases.

Reliant /rɪ'lænt/: dựa dẫm

Ví dụ: The project is reliant on volunteers.

2. What are the benefits when children have their own ideas/opinions?

→ An obvious advantage is that children will become more independent. Well, it's true that there will not always be someone to guide or tell them what to do; therefore, developing their own ways of thinking will gradually help kids find solutions to their own problems later on.

3. What are the responsibilities of teachers to help children develop their ideas/opinions?

→ Well, quite a tough question since I don't usually spend time with children or teach them actually. But I guess the best way is to ask questions and give prompts⁽²⁾ or examples so that they can spark ideas⁽³⁾ themselves. On top of that, teachers also need to encourage them and let them be creative.

⁽²⁾To give prompts /gɪv prɒmptz/: đưa ra gợi ý
Ví dụ: Adults give prompts or hints to enable children to respond.

⁽³⁾To spark idea /spa:k aɪ'dɪə/: nảy ra ý tưởng
Ví dụ: They spark ideas for stories.

4. Do you think children are taught to have the same ideas with their parents?

→ Honestly, I don't agree with that. You know, there are always differences between generations. I mean, children are influenced by other people rather than just their parents and they will definitely have their own perspective⁽⁴⁾ on life. Sometimes, they may come up with⁽⁵⁾ different ideas from their parents, so forcing kids to think like adults only limits their imagination and creativity.

⁽⁴⁾Perspective /pə'spektɪv/: Góc nhìn, quan điểm
Ví dụ: Her attitude lends a fresh perspective to the subject

⁽⁵⁾To come up with: nghĩ ra (ý tưởng)
Ví dụ: She's come up with some amazing scheme to double her income.

Tea or Coffee

1.3

1. Do Vietnamese people like to drink tea or coffee?

→ Well, I think coffee is more popular. You see, drinking a cup of coffee is a daily habit⁽¹⁾ of many Vietnamese people, and coffee shops can be found at every corner in this city. Coffee is my preference⁽²⁾ too, just because it tastes better.

Daily /'deɪ.li/: hằng ngày

Habit /'hæb.it/: thói quen

⁽²⁾Preference /'pref.ər.əns/: sở thích, sự ưa thích

2. Do you prepare tea or coffee for the guests at home?

→ Although I'm more into coffee, I just offer tea to my guests since many of them can't stand the bitterness⁽³⁾ of coffee. Also, coffee contains a lot of caffeine, which may make people stay awake at night. Well, I don't want to ruin⁽⁴⁾ their sleep.

⁽³⁾Can't stand the bitterness /'bɪt.ə.nəs/: không thể chịu được vị đắng

⁽⁴⁾To ruin /'ru:n/: phá hủy

3. When was the last time you drank tea or coffee?

→ Let me see, it probably was last weekend when I hung out with some friends of mine. After doing some shopping, we ended up at a small coffee shop. You know, it was raining at that time, and so enjoying a hot cup of coffee while having chit-chat⁽⁵⁾ was the best option.

⁽⁵⁾To have a chat /hæv ə tʃæt/: trò chuyện phiếm, tán gẫu

Mở rộng

Chủ đề tương tự: weekends, visiting relatives, travelling/ holidays

Những chủ đề trên thường có cùng dạng câu hỏi về hoạt động bạn hay làm, do đó có thể dùng cách diễn đạt chung là đi trò chuyện và thưởng thức trà/ cà phê

Ví dụ:

- What do you do when you visit your relatives?
- What do you often do on the weekends?

Trả lời: Well, we tend to have a chat while sipping a hot cup of tea.

Nhóm chủ đề khác cũng có thể vận dụng ý tưởng là: concentration, sleep, staying up late

Ví dụ:

- What can help you concentrate better?
- What can affect your sleep?

Trả lời: Having a cup of coffee which contains a lot of caffeine can help me stay mentally alert/ keep awake all night.

1. What do you think is the best age to learn to drive?

→ The ideal time to learn is when people turn 16. Well, this is the legal minimum driving ages⁽¹⁾ in my country. At this age, people are mature⁽²⁾ enough to be responsible for everything they do. Besides, acquiring new skills⁽³⁾ at a young age is also much faster and easier.

Driving /'draɪ.vɪŋ/: lái xe

Ages /eɪ.dʒɪz/: độ tuổi

Ví dụ: The article also misstated the position taken by another researcher on voting and driving ages.

⁽²⁾To be mature /mə'tʃʊər/: trưởng thành

Ví dụ: He's very mature for his age.

⁽³⁾To acquire new skills: tiếp thu các kỹ năng mới

Acquire /ə'kwaɪər/: tiếp thu

Ví dụ: The nagging sense of needing to acquire new skills, all the time, is palpable.

2. How do you feel about getting older?

→ It would be a lie if I say I'm not sad about it. Actually, there is nothing I can do to stop being older, so just let it be. I'd better enjoy every second of my life, live happily and do meaningful things so that I can have a life without regretting.

3. Should we treat people of different ages in the same way?

→ No, I don't think so. You cannot treat a 5-year-old kid just like the way you behave when meeting your grandparents, right? Older people always need to be respected.

Mở rộng

Chủ đề tương tự: Marriage

Những chủ đề trên thường có cùng dạng câu hỏi như "What is the best age for people to + V" và có thể dùng cách diễn đạt chung đó là: "khi họ trưởng thành và biết chịu trách nhiệm"

Ví dụ

Trả lời: When they are mature enough/ when they are both physically and mentally ready. At that time, they have responsibility for everything they've done.

Public Transportation

1. What's the most popular means of transportation in your hometown?

→ It's the bus, I would say. I see many students in my university going to school by bus on a daily basis⁽¹⁾, simply because it's cheap. You know, a bus ticket costs only around five thousand VND, such an affordable price⁽²⁾ for anyone who is living on a tight budget⁽³⁾ and doesn't have enough money to buy their own vehicle.

⁽²⁾ Affordable price /ə'fɔ:.də.bəl prɪs/: mức giá phải chăng, có thể chi trả được

⁽³⁾ A tight budget: ngân sách hạn hẹp

Tight /taɪt/: eo hẹp

Budget /'bʌdʒ.tʃə.t/: ngân sách

Ví dụ: I am on a tight budget.

2. How often do you take buses?

→ I use the bus almost everyday because like I said, it's the cheapest way to get around even though it's always overcrowded⁽⁴⁾ and not very punctual⁽⁵⁾.

⁽⁴⁾ To be overcrowded /,əʊ.və'kraʊ.dɪd/: đông nghẹt, chật ních

Ví dụ: The prisons are overcrowded

⁽⁵⁾ To be punctual /'pʌŋk.tʃu.əl/: đúng giờ

Ví dụ: He's fairly punctual

3. Do you prefer public transportation or private transportation?

→ I think a private vehicle is a better choice for me. To be honest with you, I can get car-sick⁽⁶⁾ easily. If I travel a far distance⁽⁷⁾ by bus or coach, I will get a terrible headache and even vomit⁽⁸⁾.

⁽⁶⁾ To get carsick /get 'ka:.sɪk/: bị say xe

Ví dụ: If you know you are likely to get carsick, there are several ways you can prevent it.

⁽⁷⁾ To travel a far distance: di chuyển khoảng cách xa

Travel /'træv.el/: di chuyển

Far /fa:r/: xa

Distance /'dɪs.təns/: khoảng cách

Ví dụ: Notably, men who travelled far distances for a job obligation mainly stated travel for work.

⁽⁸⁾ To vomit /'vom.it/: Nôn, buồn nôn

Ví dụ: He came home drunk and vomited all over the kitchen floor.

4. Do you think people will drive more in the future?

→ It's hard to say about the future but I hope people will use more public transport instead of cars and motorbikes. Driving more just makes the air quality deteriorate⁽⁹⁾, which negatively affects people's health.

⁽⁹⁾ To deteriorate /dɪ'tɪə.ri.e.reɪt/: Trở nên xấu hơn, tồi tệ hơn

Ví dụ: The political situation in the region has deteriorated rapidly.

Mở rộng

Changes

1.6

1. Do you think you have changed a lot since you were young?

→ Of course yes, not to mention⁽¹⁾ changes regarding my physical look⁽²⁾, I would say that I'm now more confident, talkative and social than I was many years back. At that time, I was just so shy that I hardly had any friends.

Mention /'men.ʃən/: đề cập

Ví dụ: I promised never to mention the incident again.

⁽²⁾Physical look /'fɪz.ɪ.kəl lʊk/: bề ngoài, ngoại hình

Ví dụ: The physical look of the movie is a revelation of a lost past.

2. What positive change might happen in your life in the next few years?

→ Well, I cannot say anything now but I hope it will be related to my career path⁽³⁾. You know, I have just started my job for a couple of months. Currently I'm trying to learn and gain experience so that I can be offered a higher position with a better salary in the near future.

⁽³⁾Career path: con đường sự nghiệp

Career /kə'reɪər/: sự nghiệp

Path /pa:θ/: con đường

Ví dụ: Ortiz's career path seemed equally unorthodox.

3. Have there been a lot of changes in your town/city?

→ Without a doubt. HCMC is developing really fast but at the same time, it is gradually becoming a concrete jungle⁽⁴⁾. I mean more and more skyscrapers⁽⁵⁾ are being built and there is less green in this city. Unfortunately, it's a negative side.

⁽⁴⁾A concrete jungle: một "khu rừng bê tông" (ám chỉ một khu vực với nhiều tòa nhà cao tầng, không gian trống và cây xanh khá ít)

Concrete /'kɒn.kri:t/: bê tông

Jungle /'dʒʌŋ.gəl/: rừng

Ví dụ: New York may be a concrete jungle, but it does have some soil and sky

⁽⁵⁾Skyscraper /'skai.skreɪ.pər/: Tòa nhà chọc trời

Ví dụ: The restaurant is at the top of one of the big downtown skyscrapers.

Picnics

1.7

1. When you were a child, did you ever go on picnics?

→ No, I didn't. Back then, my parents were so busy with their farm work and so I remember that during my childhood, I just studied hard on weekdays and played hide and seek⁽¹⁾ with some other kids living next door after school.

⁽¹⁾To play hide and seek: chơi trốn tìm

Hide /haɪd/: trốn

Seek /si:k/ : Tìm

Ví dụ: We'd play hide and seek with guns.

2. How often do you go on picnics now?

→ Rarely. To tell you the truth, I am not really interested in picnicking now. What's more, my hectic schedule⁽²⁾ doesn't allow me to enjoy it. If I have some days off, I just wanna sleep, you know, to unwind a bit before getting back to work.

⁽²⁾Hectic schedule: lịch trình bận rộn

Hectic /'hek.tɪk/: Bận rộn, tất bật

Schedule /'seɪdʒ.u:l/ : lịch trình

Ví dụ: Mr. Vas has a very hectic schedule.

3. Where would people go for a picnic in your country?

→ Well, I don't even care about it. Let me see, maybe on a park or on the outskirts of the city. I just can only think of these two places which may be nice spots for a picnic. People can also have a chance to unwind⁽³⁾ and enjoy some fresh air.

⁽³⁾To unwind /ʌn'waɪnd/ : thư giãn

Ví dụ: A glass of wine in the evening helps me to unwind after work.

Being in a hurry

1.8

1. What do you often have to do very quickly?

→ Frankly, I always have to eat breakfast in a rush⁽¹⁾. Well, sleeping in⁽²⁾ is my bad habit, so every morning I just have a short period of time to be ready for heading to work. You know, things like doing personal hygiene⁽³⁾, putting on makeup⁽⁴⁾ and getting dressed all take me lots of time so I have to eat quickly.

Rush /rʌʃ/: vội vã

Ví dụ: In a rush about so many things

⁽²⁾To sleep in: ngủ nướng

Personal /'pɜː.sən.əl/: Cá nhân
Hygiene /'haɪ.dʒiːn/: vệ sinh
Ví dụ: I do personal hygiene everyday

⁽⁴⁾To put on makeup: trang điểm
Ví dụ: Anyone, after all, can put on makeup.

2. Do you think you do things well when you're in a hurry?

→ I don't think so. I have to admit that I've got into trouble a thousand times because I was in a hurry. Once I broke a vase on the table while hurriedly⁽⁵⁾ moving around to find my phone and get to work. I just left the mess and went out so that I could catch the bus on time.

⁽⁵⁾Hurriedly /'hʌr.id.li/: Một cách vội vã
Ví dụ: The party was a rather hurriedly arranged affair.

Clothes

1.9

1. What kinds of clothes do you usually wear?

→ Casual clothes like jeans and T-shirts are my best choice in the wardrobe⁽¹⁾. Putting on these clothes makes me comfortable. It's also easy to mix and match⁽²⁾ and I still look very stylish⁽³⁾.

2. Are there any colors you do not like to wear?

→ I try to avoid wearing white clothes since they tend to get dirty easily, even a small stain⁽⁴⁾ can also be easily recognizable⁽⁵⁾. Washing it up and removing the dirt is much harder too.

Ví dụ: You can remove a red wine stain from a carpet by sprinkling salt over it.

⁽⁴⁾Stain /steɪn/: vết bẩn, vết ố

⁽⁵⁾To be recognizable /'rek.eɡ.nai.zə.bəl/ : có thể nhận ra được
Ví dụ: The cartoon character was instantly recognizable to millions of children.

3. Do you wear the same kind of clothes on weekends and weekdays?

→ Not really. During weekdays when being at work, I have to wear a uniform which is a white shirt and a black skirt. It fits me too closely so I feel a bit uncomfortable. Well, weekends are the time for me to put off⁽⁷⁾ my boring uniform and dress casually.

Ví dụ: She was eager to help.

2. Did you enjoy trying new activities when you were younger?

→ I tend to hesitate⁽⁴⁾ a bit back then. I think I had much more fear of failure at that time but now I just try things without thinking about it so much. Even if it's something difficult and I don't succeed in the first attempt⁽⁵⁾, I still have a sense of achievement⁽⁶⁾ at the end.

Ví dụ: Jane and Lyn sat in the kitchen having a good gossip about their friends.

3. Do you think there are enough interesting things to do in your city at weekends?

2. Do you prefer the sky in the morning or the sky at night?

3. Can you see the moon and stars at night where you live?

→ Due to light pollution, the stars are too faint⁽¹⁾ to be seen in Ho Chi Minh City, but we can easily catch sight of⁽²⁾ the moon. Once a month, from here we can see the full moon which is incredibly beautiful.

⁽¹⁾Faint /feɪnt/: mờ nhạt

Performance

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a performance you watched recently

You should say:

- What it was
- When you watched it
- Who you were with
- And explain why you watched it

Answer

I'd like to tell you about the performance of my favorite rock band called Oldcodex.

First, let me give you some background information about the band: Oldcodex is a Japanese rock band formed by a singer named Ta_2 and a painter Yorke. At their concerts⁽¹⁾, they give one-and-only performances with Ta_2 singing and Yorke simultaneously⁽²⁾ painting dynamic artworks.

I've been their fan for years. Last week, they uploaded a new video on their channel on Youtube, which included highlights⁽³⁾ of their biggest concert in Japan last year.

In the video, they performed a song called "Aching Horns", one of their most popular songs. Ta_2 sang so energetically⁽⁴⁾ that it seemed like he was pouring his heart out⁽⁵⁾. While I got absorbed in Ta_2's sorrowful⁽⁶⁾ singing, my eyes were also pleased by the beautiful psychedelic⁽⁷⁾ horns Yorke was painting on a canvas on the stage.

That was one of the most impressive performances I've ever watched. Oldcodex is not really a kind of worldwide famous band, but they are unique. They've produced great songs and performances that only they can create. One day, when I save enough money, I hope that I can travel to Japan and enjoy their performances with my own eyes rather than watching them on my laptop's screen.

That's all I want to share with you.

1. A concert /'kɔn.sət/: buổi trình diễn ca nhạc

Ví dụ: The musicians are busy rehearsing for the concert.

2. Simultaneously /,sɪm.əl'teɪ.ni.əs.li/: đồng thời

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What's the difference between watching a live performance and watching it on TV?

Gợi ý: enjoyable (thú vị, thích thú), extroverts (những người hướng ngoại), chant (hô khẩu hiệu), introverts (những người hướng nội), in the comfort of their home (sự thoải mái ở nhà).

I think watching live performances and watching them on TV is more enjoyable than one another to audiences with different characteristics. On the one hand, extroverts who want to dance and chant with other fellow fans prefer watching performances live. On the other hand, introverts who want full control of their surroundings and no distraction opt for enjoying events on TV in the comfort of their home.

2. Should governments provide financial support to promote traditional performance?

Gợi ý: preservation (sự bảo tồn), survive (sống sót), cultural values (những giá trị văn hóa)

Definitely! The preservation of traditional performances requires a lot of money, and without the financial support of the government, these performances may not survive. As a result, we lose some of our cultural values.

3. Is learning drama or dancing helpful for children?

Gợi ý: stressful (căng thẳng/ đầy áp lực), relaxation (hoạt động thư giãn), creative (sáng tạo), confident (tự tin)

Yes, it is. First, learning drama or dancing is less stressful than science subjects such as math or chemistry. Therefore, dancing and drama classes can be a good relaxation for children. Also, studying performing arts like drama or dancing and even painting can help children become more creative and confident.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a family member who you spend the most time with

You should say:

- Who this person is
- What kind of person he /she is
- What you usually do together
- And explain why you spend most time with him/her

Answer

She's my aunt, and we live in the same house, so I'd say I've known her since forever. She is in her 70s now, but she looks a lot younger than her age. I guess it's because she does yoga every day. She's also very healthy and lucid⁽¹⁾.

My aunt is a warm-hearted⁽²⁾ and friendly woman. Since I was a child, she has looked after me, and I really love spending time with her. She's my confidant. Every day, after getting back home from work, I share with her everything on my mind whether it is relationship problems or conflicts at work.

She often listens to me carefully and asks questions that help me gain a better understanding of⁽³⁾ the issue. She also gives feedback to help me clarify my thinking⁽⁴⁾ and make suggestions⁽⁵⁾. When she was younger, she worked in many fields ranging from HR to marketing, so she has a wealth of knowledge, skills and experience. Therefore, her feedback and suggestions are always of great help to me.

Besides, she is very patient with me. There have been times when I was fully aware that I was just talking nonsense⁽⁶⁾, complaining about school or work. Still, she was there for me, listening to my grumbles and offering comfort.

Whenever I face problems in my life and need someone to turn to for advice, she is the first person that comes to mind.

1. Lucid /lu:.sɪd/: minh mẫn, sáng suốt
Ví dụ: She gave a clear and lucid account of her plans for the company's future.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What are the benefits of younger and older generations living together?

Gợi ý: generation (thế hệ), take care of each other (chăm sóc lẫn nhau), learn from each other (học hỏi lẫn nhau), valuable (có giá trị/ quý giá), life experience (kinh nghiệm sống)

Both younger and older generations can enjoy the benefits of living together. First, family members can take care of each other. Also, they can learn from each other. For example, children can help their parents with technology. In return, their parents can teach them a lot of valuable life lessons.

2. What about the drawbacks?

Gợi ý: tension (sự căng thẳng), privacy (sự riêng tư), alone time (thời gian một mình)

One drawback is that living together may lead to tension in a family when different generations have some kind of conflict. Besides, having more people in the home means less privacy, which may be stressful for introverts who need to be alone.

3. Which do you prefer, support from family members or friends? Why?

Gợi ý: trustworthy (đáng tin cậy), deceive (lừa dối), beholden (mắc nợ)

Personally, I prefer support from family members. Not every one of our friends is trustworthy, and thus we aren't sure if they are deceiving us or not. Another reason is that it is really uncomfortable feeling beholden to others.

Apologize

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a time when someone apologized to you

You should say:

- When it was
- Who this person is
- Why he or she apologized to you
- And how you felt about it

Answer

I'd like to talk about the waiter whom I met at a restaurant near my house last week.

Back then, my friend and I decided to have dinner at a Korean restaurant near my house, as we are both Korean food lovers. I had made a reservation⁽¹⁾ because I was well aware of how famous this restaurant was and how crowded it could be. However, when we arrived at the restaurant, it was full of people, and we had to wait for around 15 minutes.

We were starving⁽²⁾ at that time and really upset, and I was ready to make a very ugly scene⁽³⁾. Yet, as I looked at the waiter, I didn't have the heart to do⁽⁴⁾ so. He looked so young that I guessed he was just a newbie⁽⁵⁾, maybe just a college student doing his part-time job, and it seemed that having to serve so many customers completely drained him.

Therefore, after some minutes to compose myself, I approached the waiter and politely explained what had happened.

He panicked at first, but then immediately apologized and prepared a table for us in just a blink of eyes. Seeing that, I really couldn't be angry at him.

Before we left, he came to us and said that he's sorry once again.

To me, it was forgivable that the waiters made mistakes in such a stressful time, and I really liked how he sincerely⁽⁶⁾ apologized and compensated for his mistakes.

1. To make a reservation /mək'zɜːvɪʃn/: đặt chỗ

Ví dụ: I'd like to make a table reservation for two people for nine o'clock.

2. To starve /sta:v/: cực kỳ đói

Ví dụ: Whole communities starved to death during the long drought.

3. To make a very ugly scene: gây nên một trận tranh cãi ugly /'ʌg.li/: xấu xí

Ví dụ: I was ready to make a very ugly scene

4. Do not have the heart to do something: không nỡ làm điều gì đó

5. Newbie /'nju:.bi/: người mới

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. On what occasion do people usually apologize to others?

Gợi ý: mumble (lầm bầm), hurt someone's feelings (làm tổn thương người khác – về mặt tình cảm/cảm xúc), make an apology (xin lỗi)

Obviously when we make mistakes. When we do something wrong, making an apology is always a must. For example, when you accidentally hit someone on the road, you should apologize immediately. Or when you hurt someone's feelings, it'd be terrible if you just leave it there without any apology.

2. Do people in your country like to say "sorry"?

No, they don't. Vietnamese children are taught to apologize when they do something wrong, yet they forget all about it when they get older. Many adults never apologize to others even though they're the ones at fault.

3. Do you think people should apologize for anything wrong they do?

Gợi ý: unreasonable (bất hợp lý), regret (hối hận)

They definitely should. It is unreasonable when we make mistakes and pretend that nothing happened. Apologizing shows that we regret what we did, or that we didn't mean to hurt them.

4. Why do some people refuse to say "sorry" to others?

Gợi ý: arrogant (kiêu ngạo), maintain their personal image (giữ hình ảnh cá nhân), lose face (mất mặt), guilty (cảm thấy tội lỗi)

This is because they're arrogant, I believe. Those people are afraid that admitting their mistakes and apologizing may make them lose their face. On the other hand, some other people refuse to apologize because it makes them feel even more guilty about their actions.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe an important journey that was delayed

You should say:

- When it was
- Why it was important
- How it was delayed
- And how you felt about it

Answer

I would like to talk about the time when my journey was delayed due to the bad weather.

I can't remember precisely when it was because I have a terrible memory for dates, but it was several years ago when my besties⁽¹⁾ and I decided to make a 3-day trip to Nha Trang, which is a coastal city in the South of Vietnam.

We booked a flight to Nha Trang. I expected we would arrive in Nha Trang in the afternoon, and then we could enjoy sunny weather and beautiful beaches. However, the weather, unfortunately, is unpredictable⁽²⁾. To my great disappointment, when we arrived at the airport on our departure day, it rained heavily and was so windy that our flight to Nha Trang was delayed for 4 hours.

To say we were disappointed is an understatement. We had already checked in, so we had no choice but to stay in the waiting room.

When we finally arrived in Nha Trang, it was quite late. Therefore, instead of sunbathing⁽³⁾ and swimming in the water, we just ended up⁽⁴⁾ staying in the boring hotel and complaining about the unexpected⁽⁵⁾ weather.

Luckily, the weather was really nice the next day, and we could enjoy the sun and the beach to our heart's content⁽⁶⁾.

1. Bestie /'bes.ti/: bạn thân nhất

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Why do people have to travel every day?

Gợi ý: travel to work (đi làm), go out for a coffee (ra ngoài đi cà phê).

Well in general, there are thousands of reasons for us to travel, and it's impossible to know all of them. Some people have to travel to work or to school every day. Some others just simply go out for a coffee, to see a movie with friends or to visit someone they know.

2. What problems can occur during people's daily travel?

Gợi ý: congestion (kẹt xe), drunk drivers (lái xe say xỉn), bump into (gặp phải, chạm mặt).

There are a lot. Congestion might be the most popular problem, especially in big and crowded cities. Besides, there's also a chance people may encounter an accident when travelling. There are many careless or even drunk drivers out there and who knows when we'll bump into them.

3. Do you think people won't have to travel to work and instead work from home in the future?

Gợi ý: erase the need (xóa bỏ nhu cầu), be present (có mặt).

No, I don't think so. Working from home might be a thing in the future, but it can never erase the need to travel. Doctors still need to be present at the hospital to treat their patients, for example, and it still requires them to travel. I don't think that we can do some kind of remote operation, not in at least the next 50 years.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a successful small company that you know

You should say:

- What it is
- How you know about it
- How it becomes successful
- And explain how you felt about it

Answer

I don't know much about the business world, and no company immediately came to mind, so I will talk about a small business near my house. Many family-owned companies have struggled in recent decades and have closed down or have been acquired by larger companies in my country. However, this business is quite successful.

It is not really a company whose office is in a building. It is just a takeaway⁽¹⁾ that specializes in⁽²⁾ Chinese food.

The restaurant was established by a Chinese couple who are now living in my country. Before the opening of their business, they both worked at a renowned Chinese restaurant in HCM city. Still, they then decided to leave and set up their own business⁽³⁾. While the father is the main cook, the mother is in charge of the management. Their son, who is still in university, sometimes helps with the cooking.

I frequently visited the restaurant where they worked so when they left to start their own one, I was keen to⁽⁴⁾ visit it. Now, I'm one of their regulars because their place is close to my house and their delicious dishes always make my mouth water.

Also, I believe that what makes this business a success is not only the food but also their excellent customer service. All their customers are treated like friends. The family will happily adapt the dishes to suit your tastes and food requirements, for instance, if you are vegan or vegetarian.

I really enjoy both the food and the service here. I hope they will grow the business to become a big restaurant and open more branches soon.

1. Which do you prefer, family firms or non-family ones?

Gợi ý: separate (tách biệt), conflict (mâu thuẫn), family bond (mối liên kết trong gia đình), Favoritism (sự thiên vị)

Personally, I prefer non-family companies, as we can completely separate our work from relationships. Let's imagine that we work with other members of our family. In that case, there are times when conflicts happening at work cause severe damage to our relationships. Also, our personal feelings may lead to favoritism and negatively affect our decisions at work.

2. What are the important factors in making a company successful?

Gợi ý: take sth into consideration (cân nhắc), strategy (chiến lược), assemble (tập hợp), capability (khả năng), derail (cản trở sự thành công)

When it comes to a company's success, different factors must be taken into consideration. Firstly, businesses need to have the right strategies. They need to decide their goals and make plans to achieve these goals. Also, companies need to assemble the right people to achieve success. No matter how well the strategy is designed, one person who does not have the capabilities to fulfill his role can completely slow down the company's progress.

3. What kinds of qualities should a successful businessperson have?

Gợi ý: leadership (khả năng lãnh đạo), supervise (giám sát), achieve one's full potential (phá huy hết tiềm năng), persuasively (một cách thuyết phục)

One of the most essential qualities of a good businessperson is to have leadership skills. He needs to supervise his employees and motivate them to reach their full potential. Communication skills also play a significant role. A good businessperson should deliver his ideas clearly and persuasively to his customers and coworkers.

4. What emerging industries do you know?

Gợi ý: AI healthcare (chăm sóc sức khỏe nhờ trí thông minh nhân tạo – robot, máy móc,..), virtual doctor (bác sĩ ảo), personal coaching (huấn luyện cá nhân), consult (hỏi ý kiến)

I don't have much knowledge of this topic. Still, according to some articles I've read on the Internet, AI healthcare has become popular these days with virtual doctors and automated health apps. Another industry is personal coaching. In the past, one might gain experience by consulting their seniors. Yet, there are now many companies that offer personal coaches.

You should say:

- And explain why you want to meet him/her

Answer

I'd like to meet Bill Gates, who is well-known as Microsoft's co-founder and one of the world's richest people.

I was immediately captivated⁽¹⁾ not only by his inspiring⁽²⁾ talk but also by his articulate⁽³⁾ expressions and his charisma⁽⁴⁾. I then searched his name on Google, and the more I know about him, the more I want to meet him in real life.

First, Bill Gates is obviously an incredibly talented and ambitious man; otherwise, he wouldn't have started Microsoft and been so successful. In 1975, the young college dropout⁽⁵⁾ Bill Gates started Microsoft in a garage. His talent, ambition, determination⁽⁶⁾, and dedication⁽⁷⁾ led Microsoft to become one of the largest tech companies.

Furthermore, I really admire his kindness. He is so benevolent⁽⁸⁾ and warm-hearted. For years, he has been a philanthropist⁽⁹⁾, donating his money to help less fortunate people and investing in developing education or technology. Also, he always inspires others, through his talks, to persist in pursuing the goals and achieve immense success.

I wish that I would meet Bill Gate once in my life, as no one can become a source of motivation to me like him. If I really had the privilege⁽¹⁰⁾ of meeting him, I would ask him for an autograph⁽¹¹⁾ or a picture, and say my thanks for all he has done for the world.

Describe a team where you were a member

You should say:

- What it was like
- Why you joined it
- What you did in it
- And how you felt about it

Answer

I'd like to talk about a team that I was involved in during my university's final term. There were four of us on the team, and our task was to identify the differences in the lifestyle of people from northern and southern Vietnam. Our objective was to produce a report and give a presentation.

The first thing we did was doing a lot of research to gather in-depth information. Then, we met up to organize the information we have, make an outline for our report and our presentation before adding graphs and photos to make our point clearer and more attractive. These discussions took a lot of time, though. We had very different personalities⁽¹⁾ as well as working styles, and we held very different opinions⁽²⁾. Therefore, it took us a while to figure out the best way to cooperate⁽³⁾ and reach a consensus⁽⁴⁾. In the end, we were able to hand in a detailed and well-organized report⁽⁵⁾, and our group presentation also went really well. Everyone in our class gave us a big round of applause.

It was really a memorable experience for all of us, and I felt a real sense of accomplishment⁽⁶⁾ when we handed in our report and delivered our presentation. But what I was most proud of was how well our team worked together. There were still some minor tiffs⁽⁷⁾ between some of the team members, but overall I think each member showed a good level of responsibility and teamwork.

1. Which one do you think is more important: individual development or teams' goals?

Gợi ý: create structure (tạo cấu trúc, kết cấu), give directions (định hướng), shared success (thành công chung)

Gợi ý: poke holes in (tim ra lỗi sai trong việc gì đó), conflict (mâu thuẫn), tension (sự căng thẳng)

Yes, I do think so. People disagree with others because they can poke holes in their arguments. This creates opportunities for new ideas and improvement. However, as long as conflicts are resolved properly to avoid harming relationships, they can increase the team's productivity and efficiency.

3. Do you think it is good for kids to join a team?

Gợi ý: communication skills (kỹ năng giao tiếp), resolve conflicts (giải quyết mâu thuẫn), be more aware of (có ý thức hơn về việc gì đó)

The most important quality is to be responsible. A good member should take responsibility and get his job done so that he won't slow down the team's progress. Also, a good team member needs to show respect and are willing to offer support to other members. Not only can this enhance your team's productivity but it also helps you to build trust and connection.

You should say:

- Where this family lives
- How you know them
- What each person in this family does in life (student/work/retired etc.)
- And explain why you like this family

Answer

Well, I wanna tell you about a young married couple who has just moved to live next door to me. Despite having known each other for just a short period of time, we now become very close.

Umm, I'm currently living in a rented flat with 2 friends of mine. Although it has been almost 2 years since we moved there, we hardly know any next-door neighbors, maybe because everyone is so busy with their own hectic schedule and the fast pace of city life⁽¹⁾. That's why even a friendly person like me sometimes finds it hard to get to know more about the people around me.

A couple of months ago, our apartment building welcomed some new residents, a young couple who I guess are now in their late twenties. Only a few days later, after having their house furnished⁽²⁾, they invited me to their housewarming⁽³⁾ because we had helped them to move some furniture. At the party, I felt quite awkward⁽⁴⁾ at first but you know, the wife always broke the ice to strike up a conversation⁽⁵⁾ with me. She was so nice and approachable⁽⁶⁾, so was her husband. After finding that she and I had a lot in common, we both felt eager to know more about each other.

Well, the young couple got married 2 years ago and now they are running their own business, a small and lovely café just downstairs, on the ground floor. I often come there in my free time, not only to taste new drinks, but also to talk and confide in⁽⁷⁾ them. You know, they have given me really good advice whenever I encounter difficulties⁽⁸⁾. On top of that, they are always willing to lend a hand when I'm in need, like, help me do up⁽⁹⁾ my house. Well, I look up to⁽¹⁰⁾ them because of their talents and I'm also glad knowing them.

1. Fast pace of city life /fa:st persəv 'sɪt.i laɪf/: Nhịp sống hối hả của thành phố

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Who is usually the head of a Vietnamese family?

Gợi ý: the breadwinner (người trụ cột nuôi cả gia đình), men and women now have equal rights (nam nữ đều có quyền bình đẳng), stereotype (định kiến), make vital decisions (đưa ra quyết định quan trọng)

As far as I see, men are usually the breadwinners and take the leading position in the family. Actually, it doesn't mean that women cannot play that role, you know, because men and women now have equal rights in society. But there is still a stereotype that men are born to be stronger than women, so they tend to be considered the head of a family and have to make vital decisions in difficult situations. Women, otherwise, will be responsible for raising kids and doing housework.

2. How do grandparents take care of grandchildren?

Gợi ý: retirement (nghỉ hưu), have lots of time on their hand (có nhiều thời gian rảnh)

Well, busy parents often have their kids looked after by grandparents. Old people, after retirement, tend to have lots of time on their hand to spend on child care. They can talk to their grandchildren, play with them, teach them or take them to school.

3. What's the most important quality of parents? How can new parents learn about parenting?

Gợi ý: good listener (người biết lắng nghe), confide in (tâm sự), be patient (kiên nhẫn)

I think the priority is that parents must be good listeners. You know, to educate children, at first parents should learn to become their friends to whom a child can talk to and confide in when they have problems. They need to be patient and listen to everything their children are sharing every day. This is only one of the important qualities I think parents need. Such parental skills are normally gained through real-life experience and sometimes, learned from others. To be honest, classes teaching those skills are still rare.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe something you bought but difficult to use at first

You should say:

- What it was
- Where you bought it
- How you used it successfully
- And how you felt about it

Answer

I'd like to talk about my mobile phone.

I'm not a tech-savvy person⁽¹⁾, and it is challenging for me to adopt new technologies. Therefore, I have a tendency to⁽²⁾ keep using my outdated phone until it's broken. Until a year ago, I had been using my iPhone 5. However, it was suddenly broken, so I had no choice but to buy a new one. I decided to buy Samsung J7 Prime because it was highly recommended on the Internet at that time, and the most important thing is that it was affordable⁽³⁾.

Although it was said to be very user-friendly⁽⁴⁾, I had a lot of trouble⁽⁵⁾ using it at first. The reason is that iOS and android are different in many ways: interface, icons of applications, and after using iPhone 5 for quite a long time, I struggled a lot to get used to the android system of this phone.

When I first got the phone, I couldn't even work out how to do simple things such as adding contacts to my phone. I was totally baffled⁽⁶⁾. The problem was that there were no specific instructions for doing such things, so I needed to go online and find out. Sometimes, even though I followed the instructions I had found online, I didn't have a clue what I was doing. And sometimes, I couldn't be bothered, so I just tried to do things on my own.

However, once I could use it smoothly, it turned out to be way too awesome⁽⁷⁾. The phone has a good design and is quite light. I can fit it easily into my pocket. Besides, the bigger screen allows me to enjoy videos, and I can take photos with better quality and save a lot of them on my phone. Now that I've come to like this phone very much, I'm not planning to change to a new one any time soon.

Ví dụ: Affordable housing isn't enough – we also need job opportunities.

4. To be user-friendly /juː.zə'frend.li/: thân thiện với người dùng

Gợi ý: makeup (đồ trang điểm), appearance (vẻ ngoài), time-consuming (tốn thời gian), technology devices (các thiết bị công nghệ), tech-savvy (sành công nghệ)

The first product that came to mind is makeup. While young people care a lot about their appearance, especially when going to work or hanging out, many old people find putting on makeup time-consuming. Also, some old people don't like technology devices. These people struggle a lot when trying to use smartphones or tablets and often turn to their tech-savvy children for help.

2. Do you think product instructions are useful for users to use products better?

Gợi ý: ensure (bảo đảm), properly (đúng), safety tips (những mẹo vặt an toàn), minimize (giảm thiểu)

Definitely! Product instructions ensure that customers can use the products properly. Besides, I think some safety tips should also be involved in the instructions, as these tips play an important role in minimizing the risks of accidents happening when using the products.

3. What do you usually do if you don't know how to use the things you have bought?

Gợi ý: FAQs section (mục những câu hỏi thường gặp), customer service department (phòng chăm sóc khách hàng)

The first solution I will take is to look at the product instructions. After that, I may try to look for some information on the Internet, either by reading the FAQs section on the company's website or asking other users on social media. Finally, if I still can't solve the problem, I'll call the customer service department of the company.

4. Do you think it is necessary to produce many new products nowadays?

Gợi ý: facilitate (làm cho dễ dàng/ tạo điều kiện thuận lợi), comfortable lifestyle (lối sống thoải mái), revenue (doanh thu), economic development (sự phát triển về kinh tế)

Yes, I do think so. New products offer new value to customers, which can facilitate their work or leisure activities, allowing them to enjoy a more comfortable lifestyle. Besides, new products allow companies to increase their revenue, and this contributes greatly to the economic development of nations.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a change that can improve your local area

You should say:

- What it is
- How it can be made
- What problem it will bring
- And how you feel about it

Answer

One change that can improve my local area is to include lessons about road safety⁽¹⁾ in the school curriculum.

First, let me explain the problem in my hometown. I'm currently living in Ho Chi Minh city, which is the biggest city of Vietnam, and there is heavy traffic in the city. The problem is that many people commuting⁽²⁾ around the city do not obey traffic laws⁽³⁾. It isn't uncommon to see people running the red light⁽⁴⁾ or driving when being under the influence⁽⁵⁾. This recklessness⁽⁶⁾ leads to many traffic accidents in the city with a lot of people losing their lives.

Even worse, many parents instil in their children this carelessness. I once saw a Mom let her son climb over the barriers to cross the street or some parents just let their kids play and run along the sidewalk.

Therefore, I think it is necessary to include lessons about road safety as a compulsory⁽⁷⁾ part of school curriculums⁽⁸⁾. To avoid putting too much pressure on students, we don't have to teach them the whole traffic law system, only some basic road rules and pedestrian safety like waiting for the red light to cross the streets.

This will not only reduce the risk of children being harmed by vehicles but also raise their awareness of road safety, making them realize that their parents' behavior could put other people's lives in danger, and therefore when they grow up, they are more likely to follow traffic laws.

1. Road safety /'rəʊd ,sef.ti/: an toàn đường xá

Road /'rəʊd/: đường xá

Safety /,sef.ti/: an toàn

Ví dụ: The government has launched a new road safety campaign in an attempt to reduce the number of road accidents.

2. To commute /kə'mju:t/: di chuyển giữa nhà và nơi làm việc

Ví dụ: It's at least an hour's commute to work.

3. To obey traffic laws: tuân thủ luật giao thông

obey /əʊ'beɪ/: tuân thủ

traffic /'træf.ɪk/: giao thông

Law /lɔ:/: luật

Ví dụ: Teens should obey traffic laws that are in place to keep them safe.

4. To run the red light /rʌn/ /ðə/ /,red 'laɪt/: vượt đèn đỏ

Ví dụ: The police fined her for running a red light.

5 .To be under the influence /'ʌn.dər/ /'ði:/ /'ɪn.flu.əns/: đang trong tình trạng say xỉn

Ví dụ: Driving under the influence is a very serious offence.

6. Recklessness /'rek.ləs.nəs/: sự thiếu thận trọng

Ví dụ: The accident was a result of recklessness.

7. To be compulsory /kəm'pɔ:l.sər.i/: bắt buộc

Ví dụ: Swimming was compulsory at my school.

8. School curriculums /sku:l kə'rɪk.jə.ləm/: chương trình học ở trường curriculum /kə'rɪk.jə.ləm/: Giáo trình

Ví dụ: Maths is an intrinsic part of the school curriculum.

Mở rộng

Những từ vựng và ý tưởng trong bài có thể áp dụng cho chủ đề:

- Describe a problem in your city

One serious problem in Ho Chi Minh city is that many people commuting around the city do not obey traffic laws. It isn't uncommon to see people blowing the red light or driving when being under the influence. This recklessness leads to many traffic accidents in the city with a lot of people losing their lives.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Why are people living in communities friendly with others?

Gợi ý: warm atmosphere (không khí ấm cúng), cranky (cáu kỉnh), come in handy (tiện lợi, thuận tiện)

There are many reasons why people living in a community are friendly with each other. First, it will help to create a warm atmosphere in the neighborhood, which is essential to a comfortable life. After long hours of working or studying, nobody wants to be welcomed by cranky neighbors and arguments when they come home. Besides, having good relationships with neighbors can come in handy when we need their help, such as looking after our houses when we're out of town.

2. What are popular activities in a community?

Gợi ý: gather (tụ họp), special occasions (những dịp đặc biệt), join social clubs (tham gia các câu lạc bộ xã hội)

I think the most popular activity is to gather together on special occasions. For example, people living in the same neighborhood in Vietnam often throw a drinking party on Lunar New Year. Other activities include joining social clubs or travelling together.

3. Do people like living in a community?

Gợi ý: isolated (cô lập), mental health (sức khỏe tinh thần), emergencies (tình huống khẩn cấp)

Most people do, I think. Living alone away from the community can make people feel isolated, which can negatively affect their mental health. Besides, living alone can be quite dangerous, as no one will be there for them in case of emergencies.

4. Where do people in a community usually have social gatherings?

Gợi ý: community centers (trung tâm cộng đồng)

I rarely engage in those activities, so I don't really have any ideas about it. I guess they may just go to someone's house or community centers. Occasionally, when there are some outdoor activities, people can gather at a park.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a piece of important news you got through a text message

You should say:

- What it was
- When you got it
- Who you got it from
- And how you felt about it

Answer

I'd like to talk about the time I received an announcement from the Ministry of Health during the Covid-19 pandemic.

The outbreak of the Covid-19 pandemic⁽¹⁾ began in Vietnam at the end of March. The number of people tested positive for the virus rapidly increased, and by the beginning of April, there had been nearly 200 cases confirmed. This virus is highly infectious⁽²⁾, spreading from one person to another through respiratory droplets⁽³⁾. The best way to stop the spread of this virus is to minimize contact between people. Therefore, the government decided to carry out social-distance in Ho Chi Minh city.

I was working when I received a text message from the health ministry announcing that the government was going to impose a lockdown⁽⁴⁾ in HCM city. Restaurants, hotels and many other amenities would be closed, and citizens only went out when necessary.

This news gave me quite a shock, just like when I heard about the situation in Wuhan last year, but I had never thought that it would happen in Ho Chi Minh city. Social distancing⁽⁵⁾ meant that the pandemic became really serious, and that was scary.

However, looking at the bright side, we would have 15 days off, the longest vacation at home ever. We could laze around the house or take advantage of this time to do what we had wanted to do but hadn't had time yet. Personally, I would dabble in writing short stories, playing the guitar and painting. In this situation, I think that the most important thing is staying positive, mentally I mean.

1. Pandemic /pæn'dem.ɪk/: đại dịch

Ví dụ: In some parts of the world malaria is still pandemic.

2. To be infectious /ɪn'fek.ʃəs/: có

tính lây nhiễm

Ví dụ: After the 21-day isolation period, Ebola survivors are no longer infectious.

3. Respiratory droplets: Giọt bắn hô hấp

Respiratory /rɪ'spir.ə.tər.i/: hô hấp

Droplet /drɒp.lət/: Giọt bắn

Ví dụ: A respiratory droplet is a small aqueous droplet produced by exhalation, consisting of saliva or mucus and other matter derived from respiratory tract surfaces.

4. Lockdown /'lɒk.daʊn/: lệnh đóng cửa

Ví dụ: The prime minister placed the UK on lockdown with drastic new measures to fight the coronavirus outbreak.

5. Social distancing /səʊ.ʃel'dɪs.təns.ɪŋ/: giãn cách xã hội

Ví dụ: WHO has drawn up a list of 140 possible interventions, such as social distancing, entry screening, and exit screening.

- Describe the article on health you read on the Internet

It was an article about the new coronavirus outbreak and necessary protective measures against it.

This virus is highly infectious, spreading from one person to another through respiratory droplets.

The best way to stop the spread of this virus is to minimize contact between people. Therefore, the government decided to carry out social-distance in Ho Chi Minh city.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Do you think traditional letters are a good way to send messages?

Gợi ý: handwritten letters (thư viết tay), sentimental values (những giá trị tình cảm), time-consuming (tốn thời gian), costly (tốn chi phí)

I don't think so. Although traditional handwritten letters can have some sentimental values, they are quite inconvenient. Compared to emails, they are more time-consuming and more costly, as a lot of time and money are needed to transport these letters.

2. Why do people make phone calls instead of sending messages when there is something important?

Gợi ý: effective (hiệu quả), give or ask for more explanation (đưa ra hoặc đòi giải thích thêm)

One reason is that calling someone is faster and more effective in sharing information than texting. During a phone call, it is easier to give or ask for more explanations when necessary. Besides, when we take time to call people, they will know that we care about them or that what we want to talk about is really important.

3. Is it more polite to make phone calls than send text messages?

Gợi ý: immediate answers (trả lời lặp tức), bothersome (gây khó chịu), arrange time (sắp xếp thời gian)

I think sending messages is more polite. This is because phone calls require immediate answers and therefore are quite bothersome when people are busy. On the other hand, text messages allow people to arrange their time or gather necessary information before replying.

4. Does technological development have a negative impact on communication among people?

Gợi ý: advent (sự ra đời), social media (mạng xã hội) weaken the bonds (làm suy yếu mối liên kết)

Definitely! With the advent of the Internet and social media, many people now spend more time chatting with their friends on Facebook or Twitter instead of hanging out in real life. This weakens the bonds among friends, or even among members in a family.

Skills

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a new skill you learned that you think is important

You should say:

- What it is
- Whether it is difficult or not
- How you learned it
- And explain why you think it is important

Answer

I'm going to talk about cooking which is a practical skill that we use almost every day.

It may sound strange as a lot of people learned how to cook when they were still teenagers. But to be honest, I hadn't been able to cook until my grandma talked me into learning it, and I started to learn this skill with her just two months ago.

My grandma is very good at cooking and is the main cook in my family. She can cook many Vietnamese dishes, and her specialty⁽¹⁾ is curry, which is also my favorite.

Honestly, I'm quite hopeless when it comes to cooking. It took me around 2 weeks to use the knife properly and make a sunny-side-up egg⁽²⁾. However, I made good progress⁽³⁾. I learned some basic cooking practices, and now I can cook some simple dishes such as some kinds of soup, omelette and fried rice. Sadly, due to my busy work schedule, I can only practice cooking with my grandma on weekends when we prepare meals for my family.

I used to think that cooking is kind of a burden⁽⁴⁾, and there are plenty of places where we can buy food. But now, I completely changed my mind. I find that learning how to cook is extremely useful, as this skill is extremely beneficial to our life. Cooking by ourselves allows us to have better control of our nutrition⁽⁵⁾, which is essential to maintaining a balanced diet⁽⁶⁾ and staying healthy.

1. A specialty /'speʃ.əl.ti/: đặc sản

Ví dụ: Oysters are a local specialty of the area.

2. A sunny-side-up egg /'sʌn.i/ /

sərd/ /ʌp/ /eg/: trứng ốp la một mặt
Ví dụ: Add some chunks of fried potatoes, topped with a sunny side up fried egg.

3. To make good progress: có tiến bộ tốt

Progress /'prəʊ.gres/: tiến triển, tiến bộ

Ví dụ: The doctor said that she was making good progress.

4. Burden /'bə:.dən/: gánh nặng

Ví dụ: I don't want to be a burden on my children.

5. Nutrition /nju:ˈtrɪʃ.ən/: dinh dưỡng

Ví dụ: Good nutrition is essential if patients are to make a quick recovery.

6. A balanced diet /'bæl.ənst 'daɪ.ət/: chế độ ăn cân bằng

Diet /'daɪ.ət/: chế độ ăn

Balance /'bæl.əns/: cân bằng

Ví dụ: If you have a balanced diet, you are getting all the vitamins you need.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What skills are important for a businessperson to succeed?

Gợi ý: planning skills (kỹ năng lên kế hoạch), teamwork skills (kỹ năng làm việc nhóm), collaborate (cộng tác, phối hợp), productivity (năng suất)

First, managers are required to have excellent planning skills, which help companies to set their goals and make plans to achieve these goals. On the other hand, good teamwork skills of employees are another contributor to the success of an organization. Only when workers in a company collaborate effectively with each other will work productivity increase significantly.

2. Why do people make phone calls instead of sending messages when there is something important?

Gợi ý: time (thời đại), Stone Age (thời kỳ đồ đá), survive (sống sót), industrial revolution (cuộc cách mạng công nghiệp), mechanical skills (kỹ năng về cơ khí), human interaction (sự tương tác giữa người với người), interpersonal skills (kỹ năng xã hội)

In different times, people are required to have different sets of skills.

During the Stone Age, people needed skills such as hunting or food-gathering to survive in the harsh living condition.

After the industrial revolution, workers were expected to work in factories and handle machines, so mechanical skills were the most essential skills during this period.

Nowadays, I think because human interaction and cooperation are highly promoted in the world of business, people place greater importance on interpersonal skills.

3. What kinds of skills should successful people have?

Gợi ý: expertise (chuyên môn), technical skills (kỹ năng kỹ thuật), communication skills (kỹ năng giao tiếp), build relationships (xây dựng các mối quan hệ), increase productivity (tăng năng suất)

The most important skill is having higher level of expertise. Without the technical skills to perform their tasks, other soft skills are just meaningless. Another skill that plays a significant role in achieving success is communication skills. When working, workers need to collaborate with their customers, managers and coworkers, so having good communication skills enables employees to build good relationships and increase their productivity.

Places (not home)

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a place (not home) you spent time relaxing

You should say:

- Where this place is
- When you go there
- What you do there
- How you spend time there and explain why you choose to go to this place to relax.

Answer

Today, I'm going to share with you about my favorite coffee shop named The Hidden Elephant, which is located on Phan Boi Chau street, right opposite Ben Thanh market.

I still vividly remember that the first time I went there was 10 months ago, which was also the opening day. That was entirely coincidental⁽¹⁾. I came across this coffee shop when I was taking a walk around the city center on my day off, and it caught my eye immediately.

Inside, the coffee shop is decorated in a vintage style, with a lot of flowers, paintings on the wall and shelves full of books. What I really love is its warm ambience⁽²⁾, which I haven't found in any other coffee shop yet.

The coffee in this shop is lukewarm. Also, their cheesecakes can make even the mouth of the pickiest customer water⁽³⁾. Besides, most of the customers go there to focus on their work, or just to silently enjoy their coffee and the music, so there is hardly any noise except for the background music.

The coffee shop gives me some peace, especially during nerve-racking times⁽⁴⁾ when I am involved in many projects from my job. Whenever I feel stressed, I will go there, order a cup of coffee and hum⁽⁵⁾ along with my favorite songs. It always works wonderfully.

Unfortunately, the coffee shop is currently closed for redecoration, and it may take around 2 - 3 months. I sure will visit the shop as soon as they open again. I really can't wait to see the upgraded version of my favorite cafe'.

4. A nerve-racking time /'nɜ:v.ræk.

Ví dụ: I had to go out and find a new job, which is always a nerve-racking experience.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. How do people in Vietnam relax?

Gợi ý: Gợi ý: high social status (địa vị xã hội cao), luxurious activities (những hoạt động xa hoa), meager (ít ỏi, không đủ), low-budget activities (những hoạt động với chi phí thấp)

On the one hand, people with high social status tend to favor luxurious activities such as dining in a fancy restaurant or perhaps driving around the city in a Ferrari. On the other hand, people whose incomes are a little meager will choose low-budget activities such as drinking in a drinking stall or getting away on a motorbike.

2. What should employers do to help their employees relax?

Gợi ý: let off some steam (xả hơi, giải tỏa căng thẳng), background music (nhạc nền), ease the pressure of work (giảm áp lực công việc)

There are a handful of things employers can do to bring relaxation to their employees. First, employers can hold events on special occasions like Christmas, which allows people to let off some steam during working hours. Another effective method which employers can use is turning on soothing background music during the break time to ease the pressure of work.

3. Is relaxation important to students?

Gợi ý: a recovery time (một giai đoạn phục hồi), momentarily (tạm thời, trong giây lát), overstretch their brains (căng não), absorb (thấm thấu), consolidate (củng cố)

Yes. Relaxation can act as a recovery time, during which students can momentarily take their mind away from their study. This prevents them from overstretching their brains and allows for some gap time in between, which enables knowledge to be absorbed more easily and eventually consolidate students' memory.

4. Which place is better for relaxing, an indoor place or an outdoor place?

Gợi ý: characteristics (đặc điểm tính cách), natural lovers (những người yêu thiên nhiên), comfort (sự thoải mái)

I think whether indoor places or outdoor places are better for relaxing depends on each person's characteristics. People who are nature lovers will choose to spend their time picnicking or going for a run in a park. However, there are others who prefer the comfort of their home, and they are more into lying on their sofa and enjoying their favorite books or movies.

Meeting a friend

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a time you were surprised to meet a friend

You should say:

- When this happened
- Who this person was
- What you did together on that day
- And explain why you thought it was a surprise to meet this person

Answer

I'm working as a teaching assistant at ZIM for about 2 years now. I'd like to tell you about a time I was really surprised to see Linh - an old friend of mine – giving a demo lesson to apply for a teaching assistant position in my company.

In my company, we have a weekly discussion among teaching assistants. The main purpose of this meeting is to encourage the exchange of ideas⁽¹⁾ among us to come up with practical solutions for different types of problems that our students are having. It's also a chance for new teaching assistants to prove their expertise⁽²⁾ by giving a demo lesson. The HR manager will then collect our feedback on the overall performance of a candidate to see if they have what it takes to become an official member of our academic department.

So in a meeting a year ago, I met Linh – the girl whom I had a secret crush on when I was a secondary school student. We studied in the same class, and I had admired her diligence⁽³⁾ and dynamic personality from day one. She performed extremely well in pretty much all subjects, especially in English, so I wasn't surprised when she passed the entrance exam to a prestigious⁽⁴⁾ high school for gifted students after that. Then we took different paths, and I thought I'll never see her again because you know we were not that close. So when I saw her at the meeting, I was really surprised. Of all training centers, she decided to apply for ZIM – where I'm also working at.

I was pretty impressed by her performance. She had a pretty smart approach⁽⁵⁾ to a tricky topic. Her demo lesson was of course not flawless⁽⁶⁾, but she definitely showed how far she could go. Hence, a week later we officially became coworkers.

3. Diligence /'dɪl.ɪ.dʒəns/: tính siêng năng

Ví dụ: She hoped that her diligence would be noticed at work.

4. Prestigious /'prestɪdʒ.əs/: có uy tín

Ví dụ: The car won some of the industry's most prestigious awards.

5. A pretty smart approach: một cách tiếp cận khá thông minh pretty /'prɪt.i/: khá là

smart /smɑːt/: thông minh

approach /ə'prəʊtʃ/: tiếp cận

Ví dụ: She had a pretty smart approach to this problem

6. Be flawless /'flɔː.ləs/: hoàn hảo, không có lỗi

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What happens when someone has an appointment with you but they cancel it?

Gợi ý: unreasonable (phi lý), get mad at (nổi giận với), reschedule (sắp xếp lại thời gian), appreciate (cảm kích)

I'm okay with it. I think that people only cancel an appointment when they have no other choices, so it is unreasonable to get mad at them. Therefore, when my appointment with others is cancelled, I will discuss with them to reschedule it. However, I will really appreciate it if people don't wait until the last minute to tell me about their cancellation.

2. Do you think it's strange to meet friends online?

Gợi ý: advent (sự đến, sự ra đời), interact (tương tác), soulmates (bạn tâm giao), disapproval (sự phản đối)

Absolutely not! The advent of social media allows people to meet and interact with others who have the same interests around the world. A great number of people make friends online now, and many of them are even able to find their soulmates. There was some disapproval when the idea of making friends online first arose, but now people get used to it.

3. Why do some people have few friends?

Gợi ý: introverts (những người hướng nội), strike conversations (bắt chuyện), make friends (kết bạn), truly (thật sự)

There are some reasons why people do not have many friends. First, some introverts may find it difficult to strike conversations and make friends. Another reason is that some people prefer quality to quantity. Instead of having a lot of friends, these people want to be surrounded by only people who truly understand them.

4. What is more important: new friends or old ones?

Gợi ý: be with someone through ups and downs (cùng ai đó trải qua những thăng trầm), maintain relationships (duy trì các mối quan hệ), seek opportunities (tim kiếm cơ hội)

In my opinion, old friends are definitely of greater importance. While having new friends can make our life more interesting, old friends are those who understand us better and have been with us through ups and downs. Therefore, I think we should try our best to maintain relationships with old friends rather than seeking opportunities to make new friends.

An occasion

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe an occasion you got lost that you didn't know

You should say:

- When you got lost
- Where you got lost
- And explain why you got lost

Answer

It was 3 years ago when I was on a trip to Da Lat. That was not the first time that I've visited Da Lat but I did something different that time. Instead of travelling by airplane or bus, my friends and I went to Da Lat on our own motorbikes.

It was a risky but exciting trip because that was our first time to ride motorbikes on such a long distance. We didn't know the directions so we decided to use Google Maps – a very common online mapping app⁽¹⁾ nowadays. My two best friends and I were extremely excited to start our very first motorbike trip. With the help of the digital app⁽²⁾, we left Ho Chi Minh City without any difficulty.

As we had studied, it took around 9 hours to ride motorbikes to Da Lat. However, we were riding continuously for 10 hours and still didn't reach Lam Dong Province, in which Da Lat is located. We were exhausted but still made an effort to keep going because the app said we were reaching the place in 30 minutes. We came to the "Da Lat", which was shown in the app, but it was actually a jungle. We were confused and scared at the same time. It was dark and foggy and there was no one nearby. So at that time we were sure that we got lost. Maybe there are no streets in a mountainous area like Da Lat so the app made some mistakes in locating the place. We didn't know what to do next, our phones ran out of battery⁽³⁾ and we just had some snacks left. Luckily, a local passed by and we asked him for directions. He was such a nice guy that he wrote down the directions on a piece of paper to make sure that we wouldn't get lost again. He even gave us some fruits from his garden. It turned out that our hotel was not so far from the jungle, just about 40 km away. With his enthusiastic help, we finally arrived at our hotel safe and sound⁽⁴⁾ and we were truly on our last leg⁽⁵⁾. It was a scary but memorable experience that we may never forget. After such an unexpected accident, we all learned that we must have better preparation for our trips in the future.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Were maps more important in the past?

Gợi ý: one-way streets (đường một chiều), absent-minded (hay quên)

Probably not. Because in the past, people didn't travel as much as today. Besides, there were not so many streets but just some main roads in villages so people were likely to learn the roads by heart. Nowadays, there are too many streets and some are one-way streets so it's hard for people to remember the directions, especially for those who are absent-minded like me. So I think maps are more necessary these days.

2. Are map reading skills important?

Gợi ý: street networks (hệ thống đường sá), crucial (cực kì quan trọng), travel freak (người đam mê du lịch)

It depends, I think. Because when I was still in my village, I nearly never used maps because there are not many roads to remember and I've never gone out of my town so it's not really necessary for me to learn how to read maps. However, when living in Ho Chi Minh City, since the street networks are quite complex and I always need maps to find directions if I have to go somewhere I haven't been to. So map reading skills are important. It's also crucial for travel freaks to master the skill because if they don't, they may get lost when traveling.

3. In this aspect, what is the role of technology?

Gợi ý: ipaper maps (bản đồ giấy), bulky (cồng kềnh)

Well, technology helps people save their time and makes it much more convenient when reading maps. Compared to the past when people relied mostly on paper maps, today people can use maps anywhere and any time just with their smartphone. They don't need to bring the bulky paper maps with them or bring different maps for different places. Technology also greatly helps people who are not good at reading maps. They can just simply follow the directions of the maps, such as turn left into this street, turn right into that street and they finally come to their place.

A polluted place

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a place you visited that has been affected by pollution

You should say:

- Where it is
- When you visited this place
- What kinds of pollution you saw there And explain how this place was affected

Answer

Well, if I have to talk about a polluted place I've been to, it would be Ho Chi Minh City. It's located in the Southern part of Vietnam.

I've been living here for around 2 years. When I first came here, I was so surprised how polluted the city is. It's so different from my hometown which is a green and clean rural area. There are many kinds of pollution here: air pollution, water pollution and even noise pollution⁽¹⁾. There are so many vehicles on the streets and they make noises and emit fumes⁽²⁾ all the time. It was especially terrible travelling on the street during peak hours⁽³⁾. Besides, it's easy to see trash in rivers and lakes because some people just throw their waste into these community water sources⁽⁴⁾ without any awareness of the damage to the surrounding environment. It's even worse that some factories also dump dirty water⁽⁵⁾ and other waste directly into rivers so many of them are black and smelly. I think the pollution affects people's lives in a negative way.

Air pollution can cause serious respiratory diseases⁽⁶⁾ such as asthma⁽⁷⁾ or lung cancer⁽⁸⁾. Water is polluted so people may face water scarcity⁽⁹⁾ in the future and the noise can drive people crazy⁽¹⁰⁾ because it's really annoying and distracting. Many animals living in water are also affected, too. They are losing their habitats or food source since the water is contaminated. Some of them may become extinct if we do not take action⁽¹¹⁾ now. I hope the government will have some kinds of campaigns or TV shows to raise people's awareness of protecting the environment and plant more trees in the city to improve air quality⁽¹²⁾.

1. Noise pollution /'nɔɪz pə,lu:.ʃən/: Ô nhiễm tiếng ồn

Noise /'nɔɪz/ : tiếng ồn

Ví dụ: Trolleybuses – a quiet form of public transport that was cheap and did not emit fumes – were also culled.

3. Peak hours /pi:k/ /əʊər/: Giờ cao điểm

10. Drive someone crazy /draɪv/ /'sʌm.wʌn/ /'kreɪ.zi/: Khiến ai đó phát điên

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Why do people throw waste material on roads?

Gợi ý: a waste of time (lãng phí thời gian), trash bin (thùng rác), street cleaner (lao công), personal properties (tài sản cá nhân)

Simply because they don't care. Those people have no idea about keeping streets clean or protecting the environment. They may think that it is a waste of time to find a trash bin while they can just throw the garbage on roads and someone such as a street cleaner will collect the waste later on. Besides, people might think that roads are not their personal properties so it's not their responsibility to keep it clean.

2. How can the government encourage people to keep their city clean?

Gợi ý: trash bin (thùng rác), raise public awareness (tăng ý thức cộng đồng)

Personally, I believe that the most important thing is to keep trash bins at all public places and at a proper distance on roads. The government should make sure that it would not take people too much time to find a trash bin so that it can be convenient for them to throw trash in the right place. Besides, the government should spend more money on raising public awareness of the importance of having a clean environment. They should give some examples of illnesses that people may suffer from if their surroundings are dirty.

3. Do you think it is a good idea or bad idea to relocate factories far from cities?

Gợi ý: crowded (đông đúc), overpopulation (sự đông dân quá mức), more or less (hầu như, hầu hết), living standard (chất lượng cuộc sống)

Well, I think it would be amazing. You know, cities are so crowded already so if many factories are established here, the problem of pollution and overpopulation will become worse. Instead, if more factories are moved to rural areas, these problems will be more or less solved. Besides, living costs in small towns are much lower than in big cities so the life standard of factory workers will be improved. They can even save more money. So it is undoubtedly a great idea.

A mistake

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a time you made a mistake and how you dealt with it

You should say:

- What the mistake was
- When, where you made it
- And explain how you deal with it

Answer

Everyone in this world makes mistakes at least once in their life and I'm not an exception.

I've made many silly mistakes but I'd like to talk about the one that I've just made recently. It was last month when I booked flight tickets for Lunar New Year family gatherings. It was not my first time booking tickets online, I can say confidently that I'm a professional at this. But at that time, for some reasons, I chose the wrong flight. I was supposed to fly from Ho Chi Minh City to Hue City but I accidentally made it Ho Chi Minh City to Hanoi. I had no idea about my mistake until I received the ticket in my email.

I was truly frustrated and had to contact the airline to change my ticket. I had to follow many procedures, and it was really time-consuming. Luckily, I was finally able to change my ticket but had to pay extra money for the ticket changing fee, which was about 50$.

This incident gave me such a valuable lesson in my life, which is to be careful at everything I do. And even though making mistakes is not a comfortable feeling, the lessons you learn are worthy, and I believe it helps us not to make the same mistakes in the future.

Exception /ɪk'sep.ʃən/: ngoại lệ

Silly /'sɪl.i/: ngốc nghênh

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What do parents do when children make mistakes at home?

I think some parents will have some kinds of punishment for their kids. They punish their kids by asking them to stay in their room alone for a while or not allowing them to eat sweets or play with their toys. For some parents, they just gently give their children good advice and help them understand the consequences of the mistakes they've just made.

2. What should teachers do when students make mistakes?

Gợi ý: sympathetic (cảm thông), learn from their mistakes (học hỏi từ lỗi lầm)

Well, that's a tough question. I think teachers should help students realize their mistakes and teach them how to deal with it. Teachers should be calm and sympathetic instead of being angry at their children. Since no one is perfect and even adults make mistakes. So it's much better to help students learn from their mistakes and it's also a good way to educate children.

3. What can people learn from mistakes?

Gợi ý: insignificant (nhỏ nhặt, không quan trọng)

I believe mistakes help people learn how to deal with problems. Because whenever they make a mistake, even if it is just an insignificant one, they have to find a solution. Making mistakes and trying to solve them helps people to become mature.

4. Can mistakes help people to be more successful?

Gợi ý: encountering (đối mặt), problem solver (người giải quyết vấn đề)

I believe mistakes help people learn how to deal with problems. Because whenever they make a mistake, even if it is just an insignificant one, they have to find a solution. Making mistakes and trying to solve them helps people to become mature.

A person

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a person whom you met for the first time and made you happy

You should say:

- Who the person is
- What things you do with him/her
- How long you have known this person
- And explain why he/she made you happy

Answer

I'm going to talk about my teacher at secondary school. His name is Hung.

My first impression⁽¹⁾ of him was his smile. He had a smile that can light up the room⁽²⁾. He was about 50 at that time but he looked much younger than his real age⁽³⁾. I first met him on my first Math lesson in grade 8, and he was also my class teacher. Right on the first day of meeting my class, he told a lot of funny stories that made us laugh our heads off⁽⁴⁾. But he was a strict teacher. He was very dedicated and passionate when he taught and his lessons were very easy to understand. That was the first time I could understand a math lesson thoroughly even though I wasn't good at this subject. I was so happy that I had a wonderful teacher. My studying result that year was improved thanks to his continuous encouragement and support.

Now we don't see each other frequently, though. I live in Ho Chi Minh City while he stays in my hometown with his family. He is probably over 60 now, and he doesn't teach anymore. Whenever I come back home, I always visit him and bring him some specialties from Ho Chi Minh city. He is still a funny person. He always makes me laugh whenever I talk to him. And I have to say that I'm really grateful for what he did for me.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Are children happier now than in the past?

Gợi ý: innocent (ngây thơ), bedtime story (truyện trước lúc ngủ), make their day (làm cho một ngày trở nên tuyệt vời)

Well, it's a tough question to answer. I think children are always happy, no matter now or in the past. Children are always innocent, and even the smallest things can make them happy. A new toy, some delicious candies that they've never tried or even just a good bedtime story told by parents can make their day. You know, children have nothing to worry about so what can make them unhappy?

2. What's the difference between the happiness of children and adults?

Gợi ý: achieve their goals (đạt được mục tiêu), pursue (theo đuổi)

Well, I think while children enjoy small things such as toys, favorite food or picnics, adults will be happy when they achieve their goals. For example, when they make their dreams come true or gain something they've pursued for a long time, such as getting promoted or buying a new house.

3. How can people make children happy?

Gợi ý: pure (thuần khiết), quality time (thời gian chất lượng)

Children are pure, and they can be happy easily so just simply give them more toys and let them play freely with their friends. Besides, parents should spend quality time with their kids, take them to the local zoo or park at weekends. Those things can make children overjoyed, and it's very easy to do.

4. Why people want to buy expensive things to make themselves happy?

Gợi ý: valuable items (những món đồ giá trị), boost their confidence (tăng sự tự tin)

Well, I think because those luxury products can bring them a rewarding feeling. People may think that they work hard so they deserve those expensive things. Besides, owning valuable items can boost their confidence, I suppose.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe something you did which was a waste of time.

You should say:

- What the thing was
- When you did it
- How you did it
- And explain why it was a waste of time.

Answer

Well, last year I bought a new phone and can you believe it? I spent the whole day playing with it.

Right after unboxing the phone, I downloaded some apps I often use, such as Facebook, YouTube or Dictionary. Besides, I spent around 1 or 2 hours just checking the phone's camera. I took a bunch of pictures and then posted them on my Facebook account. Then I spent approximately 2 hours answering my friends' comments on Facebook and chit-chatting with my bosom buddy⁽¹⁾, and two more hours playing the new role-playing games⁽²⁾ that I've just downloaded.

I was so addicted to the phone that I even used it when I was having lunch and dinner. I was supposed to complete my assignment and submitted it the next day. But I totally forgot the task, and it was not until 11 pm of the day when I was dead on my feet⁽³⁾, and my eyes were tired after a long day doing nothing but looking at the screen that I suddenly remembered the assignment. I was panic and didn't know what to do because that assignment was very important. If I didn't submit it on time, I would fail my course. I really regretted wasting too much time on such a meaningless⁽⁴⁾ thing. I regained my composure⁽⁵⁾ and drank a cup of coffee to refresh myself and to stay focused⁽⁶⁾. That night I burnt the midnight oil⁽⁷⁾ and finally finished my assignment at 5 a.m.

It was such an unforgettable experience for me. After that unexpected accident, I promised myself that I will never ever spend too much time on my phone unless it is for studying.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Do you think time is very important?

Gợi ý: Time is gold (thời gian là vàng), time management skill (kỹ năng quản lý thời gian), take good advantage of something (tận dụng tốt điều gì)

Of course! Time is gold. It's even more important than money. You can use money to buy almost everything in this world but not time. Time is something that you can not bring back. That's why people always learn how to improve their time management skills so that they can take good advantage of their time to do meaningful things.

2. Do you think time is very important?

Gợi ý: punctuality (sự đúng giờ), feel guilty (cảm thấy có lỗi)

Well, I'm a person who highly appreciates punctuality, so I'm rarely late. But when I am, I feel so guilty because I make people wait for me. I believe everyone should manage to be on time because if you don't, you will waste people's time. Of course, there are some situations that you can not manage to be on time such as traffic jams or unexpected accidents.

3. When does time seem to move fast and when does it seem to move slowly?

Gợi ý: time flies (thời gian trôi qua nhanh), time goes by (thời gian trôi qua)

Basically, time flies when we don't have enough time to do something, especially when it is an important thing like completing an assignment, preparing for a test or making a project plan. Otherwise, when we have to wait for something or someone, like your IELTS test result or the occasion when our beloved one is returning after years staying abroad, we feel that time goes by so slowly.

A volunteering experience

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a volunteering experience you have had.

You should say:

- When it was
- Where it was
- Why you volunteered
- And explain how you felt

Answer

I'd like to talk about a humanitarian medical program⁽¹⁾ in which I joined as a voluntary interpreter. It was probably 2 years ago when I was going to graduate from university.

The program took place in A Luoi – a mountainous area⁽²⁾ of Hue where there were many ethnic people. It was held by a group of retired American doctors and nurses who used to serve in the Vietnam war. The program aimed to give free medical treatment and medicines to the ethnic people living in that area because they were so poor that they didn't have money to go to the hospital. The American doctors and nurses obviously did not know any Vietnamese, so they needed someone like me who could speak both English and Vietnamese to help them communicate with the locals.

I participated in this program because I wanted to help those disadvantaged people. Besides, my major is Interpretation so that was a good chance for me to apply what I've learned into practice⁽³⁾ and get some practical experience. The project lasted for 2 weeks and every day, I had to get up at 5 a.m and went on a bus with the team to travel from the city center to that remote area. I'm not used to being an early bird⁽⁴⁾, but the thought of helping people motivated me to get out of bed. I was interpreting for a nurse, and I also did other jobs as setting up and collecting equipment at the end of the day.

During the program, many local people received our help to treat their illness. One child who had heart disease was also exempted from all the surgery cost. The decision to join this program is the best one I've ever made. I feel that I've done something meaningful for society and my community. After the program, I also learned many great things and improved my interpretation skills.

1. humanitarian medical program

/hju:ən.ɪ'teə.rɪ.ən/ /'med.ɪ.kəl/ /'prəʊ.græm/: chương trình y tế nhân đạo

Ví dụ: "That's when we stopped demining and the de-miners all went home and we switched our work to humanitarian medical programs," Mr. Willoughby said.

2. mountainous area

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What personalities and qualities are required for being a volunteer?

Gợi ý: enthusiasm (nhiệt tình), energetic (đầy năng lượng), voluntary program (chương trình tình nguyện)

I think the first and most important quality of a volunteer is enthusiasm. They must be energetic and interested in what they are doing. Besides, they should not think about money because they don't normally get paid when joining voluntary programs.

2. Do you think people nowadays should volunteer more?

Gợi ý: voluntary activities (hoạt động tình nguyện), good deeds (việc làm tốt), build a supportive community (xây dựng một cộng đồng tương trợ lẫn nhau)

Well, I think it depends on people's preference and we shouldn't force anyone to participate in voluntary activities just because we think it's good. But I do believe that people should be encouraged to do more good deeds in their life. Because giving is receiving and it helps build a supportive community.

3. How does modern technologies assist volunteers and volunteering experiences?

Gợi ý: volunteer recruitment announcement (thông báo tuyển tình nguyện viên), registration process (quá trình đăng ký), time-saving (tiết kiệm thời gian)

You know, technology development and its widespread use help people easily approach volunteer recruitment announcements. It can be posted on social media where there are a lot of users, so there will be more people signing in. Besides, the registration process is also easy and time-saving. People just need to stay at home, then fill in and submit an online form.

A project

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a project you worked on in your school/college or office

You should say:

- What the project was
- Who else was involved in it
- How long it took to be completed
- And explain what you learned from this project

Answer

Well, it was 3 years ago when I joined in a project called CET – Duke Engage. At that time I was still a third-year student. The project aimed to give American students at Duke University a chance to experience life in South Asia and contribute to the community. Mrs. Melinda Gates funded the project, and it was in Quang Tri Province. I joined in the project as a Vietnamese volunteer who supported American students in learning Vietnamese culture and language. Each Vietnamese student stayed in the same room with an American student. Besides, I joined in all activities in the program. I decided to be a part of⁽¹⁾ this program because I wanted to improve my English.

The project lasted for 2 months, and it was one of the most amazing time in my life. Every morning, we had to ride a bike to the worksite, where we built a concrete path for local people to replace the muddy⁽²⁾ one. It was our first time to work with cement, rocks, wheelbarrows⁽³⁾, trowels and shovels. In the afternoon, we went to the Youth Center to teach English for local children. Of course it was free. Every evening, we played some sports and made lesson plans together. We also held a soccer tournament⁽⁴⁾ and a culture show for local children to participate in during the program. The program gave me many things: friendships, knowledge and a will of never giving up. When I was working in the program, there were many times that I just wanted to quit because the building task was so physically demanding⁽⁵⁾. But thanks to my friends' encouragement, I overcame the difficulties and completed all tasks. Even though the project was closed 3 years ago, I still keep in touch with other participants on social media⁽⁶⁾. My roommate – who was an American Medical student, even came back to visit me last year. It was without doubt the most memorable experience in my student life.

3. Wheelbarrow /'wi:l,bær.əʊ/: xe rùa

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What kind of activities do adults and children participate in together?

Gợi ý: family bonding (sự gắn kết gia đình)

Basically, adults and children can enjoy all family activities together. For example, parents and children can go on a picnic together. They all can enjoy the activity because while adults can have some talks and take some pictures, children may play around with their siblings or learn about trees and flowers. Another example is to read stories together. Even though this sounds quite boring for adults, I believe it's a good way to improve family bonding and it's also a common activity of every family in the world.

2. In your opinion, why in some cases is teamwork less effective than personal work?

Gợi ý: the nature of the tasks (bản chất công việc), work independently (làm việc một mình), cooperate (phối hợp)

Well, it's because of the people's personality and the nature of the tasks. People who are better at working independently than working in a team will not perform well in teamwork because they don't know how to cooperate with other teammates, which will lead to the whole team's bad performance. Besides, some tasks such as typing or making phone calls cannot be done by teamwork.

3. What personalities do team members need to make a successful team?

Gợi ý: good communication skill (kỹ năng giao tiếp tốt), positive attitude (thái độ tích cực), conflict (mâu thuẫn)

There are many personalities that form a good team member but I believe a good communication skill and a positive attitude are the most important qualities. When people work in a team, they have to talk and discuss with other members to figure out the most feasible solutions to their problems. So they need to be eager to speak out their ideas and listen to others' opinions. Besides, conflict when doing teamwork is unavoidable so a positive attitude will help them get over the argument to focus on the team's goals.

Describe a person who is full of energy

You should say:

- Who he or she is
- What he or she does
- Why he or she is full of energy
- And explain how you feel about this person

Answer

I'm going to talk about my sister who is the most energetic person I've ever known. She is working as an event planner at a famous company in Ho Chi Minh City. She also has her part-time job as a yoga teacher. She's always full of beans⁽¹⁾ and the smile is always on her lips. Every day, she gets up at 5 a.m and starts her day⁽²⁾ with 1 hour of yoga and meditation⁽³⁾. She always has self-made healthy breakfast with fruit smoothies and veggies. Her job requires multitasking⁽⁴⁾ and creativity and she also has to move from place to place during the day.

After work, she goes to the yoga center where she works part-time and does not come home until 10 p.m. Even though she has a long day's work, she's never tired or shows that she loses her energy. Besides, she's always in a good mood⁽⁵⁾. Even when she faces the biggest problem in her life, she still keeps a positive attitude. She's always the life and soul of the party⁽⁶⁾. Her energy and enthusiasm makes people happy and motivated when being with her. I'm grateful that I am her younger sister. She gives me a lot of inspiration to work harder and maintain a positive mindset⁽⁷⁾. Whenever I have difficulties, she always encourages me not to give up and thanks to her kind words, I become a better version of myself⁽⁸⁾ every day.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What kind of jobs require much energy?

Gợi ý: physical activities (hoạt động thể chất), maintain enthusiasm (duy trì sự nhiệt huyết)

Well, I think the jobs in which people have to do a lot of physical activities or talking with customers all the time require a lot of energy. Besides, being a teacher also requires people to have a high level of energy. I myself am a teacher, so I always have to maintain my enthusiasm. Because whenever I show that I'm tired or not active, my lessons are boring and not interactive.

2. Do you think manual work will all be done by machines in the future?

Gợi ý: on the rise (ngày càng tăng), save time and energy (tiết kiệm thời gian và công sức), unskilled people (người không có chuyên môn)

Yes, for sure. Using machines for physically demanding work is on the rise. Just take household chores as a simple example: Instead of washing clothes or dishes by hand, now we have a washing machine and dishwasher to complete those tasks. Using machines helps people save time and energy, but when it comes to jobs, I believe a lot of manual jobs will disappear in the future, and many unskilled people may be unemployed.

3. Do you think manual workers will earn more in the future?

Gợi ý: Be highly appreciated (được đánh giá cao), a large volume of work (một khối lượng công việc lớn), lose jobs (mất việc)

I don't think so. As I mentioned before, machines are gradually replacing humans in manual work, so of course manual labor will not be as highly appreciated as they are now. Employers will prefer robots that can handle a large volume of work in a shorter time than humans. So manual workers may even lose their jobs if their work can be done more efficiently by a machine.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a person who taught you something (knowledge or principles)

You should say:

- Who this person is
- What he/she is like
- What he/she taught you
- And how you felt about him/her

Answer

Today I'd like to talk about my father, who not only has the most profound influence on me but also has taught me many valuable lessons. The first thing that springs to mind was when I learned that "giving is receiving" from him. About my dad, he is in his fifties but he looks much younger than his real age due to regular exercise and a balanced diet. He impresses everyone with his charming smile and I feel really lucky to take after him. He never fails to make a good first impression.

So, if I remember correctly, it was 8 years ago when I was in grade 6, I was enjoying my days off from school because Tet holiday was coming. My dad, together with his friends, organized a charity trip at Binh Duong province, with a plan to visit and support underprivileged⁽¹⁾ children. I wasn't into that at first, as the idea of going on a charity trip had never occurred to me. However, my dad asked me to follow him because he said there were many things for me to learn from so I had no choice but to agree.

Arriving at the place, I was surprised because as Tet was coming and everyone in my city was celebrating and decorating their houses, this place had almost no festive atmosphere. Going inside, I saw a group of children playing together and they were surprisingly cheerful, regardless of how run-down⁽²⁾ the place looked. My dad and his friends started giving them new clothes as well as some decorations for Tet holiday. The kids were very well-behaved and some of them even started jumping around me. At that time, somehow, I was flooded with joy⁽³⁾ and positive thoughts. I realised how lucky I was and that there are many less fortunate lives around me. The kids here had spread their positivity to me and my father had already taught me more than I had expected. I must say, my dad has taught me many things in life and he is forever a role model for me to follow.

1. Underprivileged /ʌn.də'prɪv.
əl.ɪdʒd/ : kém may mắn, thiệt thòi
Ví dụ: A summer camp for underprivileged children

2. Run-down /rʌn'daʊn/ : xuống
cấp
Ví dụ: My doctor said I was looking run-down.

3. flooded with joy: ngập tràn
niềm vui
Flood /flʌd/ : ngập chàm
Joy /dʒɔɪ/ : niềm vui
Ví dụ: The house was flooded with joy

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What qualities do you think a good teacher should have?

Gợi ý: springs to my mind (xuất hiện/ nảy ra trong đầu)

The first quality that springs to mind is patience. Teaching is a challenging job and students sometimes are hard to deal with. Moreover, I believe that a teacher should also be a good listener. Being a teacher is not only about delivering lessons but also about being a mentor or a friend who gives useful advice to students. So, if a teacher and his or her students can build a strong connection, that teacher has succeeded in being a teacher.

2. Who do you think can learn better? Old or young people?

Gợi ý: Sound (minh mẫn)

I would say the younger ones. The younger they are, the easier for them to acquire new knowledge because they have more energy and willingness to learn. On the other hand, old people would definitely have a hard time memorizing things because they are distracted by other things in life and their minds are not as sound as they used to be.

3. What do you think is the best age for children to go to school?

Gợi ý: comfort zone (khu vực làm mình cảm thấy an toàn, thoả mái)

Perhaps 5. At that age, children are ready both mentally and physically. At the age of 5, a normal kid would be capable of understanding, following instructions without their parents' help as well as getting along with other people. On top of that, a 5-year-old kid should start learning from other people, besides their parents, like their teachers and friends and step out of their comfort zone.

A piece of advice

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a piece of advice you received when choosing your major or job

You should say:

- What it was
- Who you received it from
- When you received it
- And explain how you felt about it

Answer

I've always considered myself as a free spirit⁽¹⁾. In the past, the idea of becoming a teacher never came across my mind, not even once.

When I was a high school student, I was so sick and tired⁽²⁾ of all the regulations and always saw most of my teachers under a lot of pressure and overloaded with work. I thought that I would never, not even in a million years⁽³⁾, choose teaching in the future. My family, on the other hand, encouraged me to study pedagogy⁽⁴⁾.

I still remembered, during a family dinner during my 12th school year, my dad suggested that I follow in my mother's footsteps⁽⁵⁾ and become a teacher. I burst into laughter and thought it was a ridiculous idea. However, my dad still insisted on me giving it a try⁽⁶⁾ by tutoring his friend's daughter. Well, I unwillingly⁽⁷⁾ followed his advice to try tutoring, knowing things wouldn't work out⁽⁸⁾.

After two months of tutoring, his friend's daughter passed her final exams with flying colors⁽⁹⁾. At that time, I also realised that I really enjoyed sharing my knowledge and encouraging others, not to mention the fact that I was even quite good at it!

You know, at the end of that year, I finally decided to pursue⁽¹⁰⁾ an education in English Pedagogy.

Ví dụ: They are being unwillingly dragged into the debate

8. work out /wɜ:k/ /əʊt/ : kết thúc với kết quả tốt
Ví dụ: Let's hope this new job works out well for him

9. passed her final exams with flying colors: qua kì thi với kết quả cao
Pass /pa:s/: vượt qua

Final /'faɪ.nəl/: cuối cùng

Exams /ɪg'zæm/: kỳ thi

Ví dụ: They often pass their final exams with flying colors

10. pursue /pə'sju:/ : theo đuổi

Ví dụ: The car was pursued by helicopters.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. On what occasions should we look for advice from other people?

Gợi ý: buying a birthday present - a pity if giving them what they dislike

I think when buying a birthday present, it is sensible to seek advice from the receiver because it would be a pity if we give them something they dislike on their birthday.

2. Are there any cases when we shouldn't?

Gợi ý: choosing loved ones-follow your gut

At times, especially when choosing your partner. Although the people around you may or may not support your decisions, it's best just to follow your guts.

3. Do you think we should believe in the advice given by famous people? Why?

Gợi ý: career-related - trustworthy

It really depends. I mean, if the advice is related to their career, it would be trustworthy because it would be full of insights. However, sometimes, they do try to sell a product by advising their followers to purchase it and that kind of advice is highly unreliable.

A popular product

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a popular product that is made in your region e.g. food, handicraft

You should say:

- What it is
- What it is like
- How it is made
- And explain why it is popular

Answer

I'd like to talk about kites, children's favorite toys which are very popular in my country.

I still remember when I was 7, I went back to my hometown and spent the summer with my grandparents. Every afternoon, when the wind tenderly blew, other kids in the neighborhood ran to the field near my grandparents' house and flew colorful objects to the sky, which are called "kites". Kites have many different shapes and colors, which is the reason why they attract children. One day, I was so curious that I decided to join them and immersed myself into the peaceful atmosphere of the countryside while flying the kite which I pestered my grandma to buy for me.

As I grew older, I noticed that children are no longer interested in flying kites because they are more into technology devices. However, the International Kite Festival, which is held annually in Vung Tau to promote unique and diverse kites, still attracts many local and foreign tourists. Nowadays, people make more sophisticated⁽¹⁾ kites in the shape of phoenixes, butterflies and even dragons. They also replace thick bamboo strings with thinner ones or plastic ropes. Unlike the traditional ones, modern kites are light and cost little since the materials to make them are available everywhere.

All in all, kites are easy to make and are often seen flying high in the sky during summertime.

1. sophisticated /sə'fɪs.tɪ.kɪ.tɪd/: tinh vi
Ví dụ: She was slim, svelte, and sophisticated.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Why are some locally made products very expensive? /Do you think they're worth that price?

Gợi ý: pay for skilled labour, local materials,... unique

It is common that traditional or local crafts are usually costly because, you know, buyers are not only paying for skilled labour but also for local raw materials. Besides, most local crafts are unique so they are definitely worth spending money on.

2. Do you think machines will replace humans in future production? Will it be a good or bad thing?

Gợi ý: already -> contribute greatly to mass production

As a matter of fact, they have already, but not entirely. I think machines stepping into production is a huge advancement since the advent of technology would contribute greatly to mass production, which has a direct effect on economic growth.

A famous person

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe your favorite actor/ actress or dancer.

You should say:

- Who he/she is
- What type of actor/actress or dancer he/she is
- What are some programs/movies he/she acted in

Answer

To begin with, I have to admit that I am a huge fan of the Hollywood film industry and I hardly ever miss any Hollywood blockbuster⁽¹⁾. And my all-time favorite actor is Ryan Reynolds, a renowned⁽²⁾ Canadian-American actor who has starred in multiple top-grossing⁽³⁾ movies.

Well, his full name is Ryan Rodney Reynolds and he is probably in his forties now but he looks much younger than his real age. He is married to actress Blake Lively, a beautiful actress starring in the famous series Gossip Girl. He began his acting in the early 1990s and rose to stardom⁽⁴⁾ in 2016 through the movie Deadpool, in which he played the title character. The movie set numerous records and earned him many nominations⁽⁵⁾. You know, he was even awarded a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame, where I would definitely check in if I ever had a chance to travel to California.

Unlike most of his fans, I first noticed him when he was playing in The Proposal and became his fan after watching the movie Blade: Trinity, in which he acted as Hannibal King. He usually acts in comedies and drama and his acting really varies and simply excellent. On top of that, I can't help laughing every time he posts something on his social media accounts because he has such a great sense of humour.

I find him a very charming actor and a superb⁽⁶⁾ human being with his hard work in social welfare work together with his wife.

That's all I want to share.

1. Blockbuster /'blɒk,bʌs.tər/: phim bom tấn

Ví dụ: We all felt the movie was a potential blockbuster.

2. Renown /rə'naʊn/: nổi tiếng

Ví dụ: Her renown spread across the country.

3. Top-grossing /tɒp grəʊsing/: doanh số cao

4. rose to stardom /rəʊz tu: 'sta:.dəm/: được biết đến/ trở thành ngôi sao

Ví dụ: He rose to stardom in the mid-aughts by becoming the W.W.E.'s youngest champ

5. Nominations /,nɒm.i'neɪ.ʃənz/: các đề cử

Ví dụ: There have been two nominations for the new job.

6. Superb /su:'pɜ:b/: tuyệt vời

Ví dụ: He is a superb dancer.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Do you think celebrities deserve to earn so much money?

I think somehow they do. Some people may think that celebs make money too easily, but we're just seeing the tip of the iceberg⁽¹⁾. I believe they have sacrificed quite a lot to be what they are today, and also they're doing things, bringing values that others can't. We often get what we deserve⁽²⁾, you know, so I don't think there's anything unfair about that.

1. the tip of the iceberg: bờ nổi của một ván đềm
Iceberg /'aɪs.bɜ:g/ : tảng băng trôi

Ví dụ: This year's purchases are only the tip of the iceberg

2. get what we deserve: nhận những gì mình xứng đáng

Deserve /dɜ:'zɜ:v/ : xứng đáng

Ví dụ: I will do whatever has to be done to get what we deserve

2. Do many young people (or children) try to imitate film stars (e.g., imitate their lifestyle, clothes, etc)? (If yes, how, why?)

Most of them do, honestly. Film stars, or celebrities, can also be known as key opinion leaders⁽³⁾, which means whatever they do or put on can easily become a trend. So, it's understandable if the young copy famous people because young people always want to stay up-to-date with the latest trend⁽⁴⁾.

3. key opinion leaders /ki: ə'pɪn.jən 'li:.dər/: người định hướng công chúng

Ví dụ: Getting feedback from key opinion leaders

4. stay up-to-date with the latest trend: cập nhật các xu hướng mới nhất

Ví dụ: Young people always stay up-to-date with the latest trend on social media.

3. What forms of entertainment are most popular in your country?

It would probably depend on where you live or what age you are at. But I think the majority of people in my country would choose to watch something, like TV shows or dramas. It's a great way for the family to get together, sitting behind the TV screen, watching TV and chatting. Besides, on the weekend, Vietnamese people also enjoy going to malls to shop or go to the movie theater.

4. Do you think men and women have different tastes in entertainment?

It's the norm⁽⁵⁾ that males usually are more into action or thrilling movies, while females' top choice is rom-com⁽⁶⁾. But I don't think gender has anything to do with taste in recreation⁽⁷⁾, it is mostly dependent on their personality or simply preference.

5. the norm: điều bình thường

6. rom-com: thể loại hài kịch lãng mạn

7. recreation: giải trí

5. Do you think children (or young people) can learn anything from entertainment?

Yes, all sorts of things. They can learn about foreign customs and languages through movies; they can even learn moral lessons and how to tell right from wrong. However, I think parents should supervise the content their children watch. Without parents' guidance and observation, children can learn negative things through different channels of entertainment.

A person

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a person you want to enjoy dinner with

You should say:

- Who you were with
- When it was
- What you ate
- And explain why you enjoyed it

Answer

So today I'd like to talk about Serena, a good friend of mine who I really enjoy dining out with.

As I remember, 2 years ago, I flew to Singapore alone to treat myself⁽¹⁾ after a year of hard work. It took me less than two hours to get to Singapore and the weather was super nice that day.

Well, the first thing on my to-do list was to visit Marina Bay Sands, an iconic integrated resort which attracts thousands of visitors every year. As I was wandering in The Shoppes to collect some sale items, I bumped into⁽²⁾ an old friend of mine who moved to Singapore many years ago. At first glance⁽³⁾, I didn't recognize her since we both had grown physically but then I knew it was her thanks to her big brown eyes. I ran towards her and that really surprised her. I immediately asked her out for dinner to catch up with each other and she agreed with no hesitation⁽⁴⁾.

Being a local, she took me to Amoy street Food Centre, and ate at a place called A Noodle Story. This place was very well-known for its Singaporean-flavoured ramen and that was what we had for dinner. While eating, we picked up where we left off⁽⁶⁾ and exchanged our contacts. She was as sweet as I remembered and was such a wonderful companion for the night. On top of that, words are not enough to describe⁽⁶⁾ how top-notch⁽⁷⁾ the ramen was.

I had such a blast and the rest of the trip was wonderful as well. She promised that she would come back to Vietnam next year and visit me.

That's all I want to say.

1. treat myself /tri:t/ /maɪ'self/:
tự thưởng cho bản thân

Ví dụ: I treat myself very formally with meals.

2. bumped into /bʌmp/ /'ɪn.tu:/:
bắt gặp một cách tình cờ
Ví dụ: You bumped into me.

3. At first glance: thoát đầu
Glance /gla:nс/: nhìn lướt qua
Ví dụ: At first glance, the idea seems great

4. hesitation /,hez.ɪ'teɪ.ʃən/: ngần ngại
Ví dụ: After a slight hesitation, she began to speak.

5. picked up where we left off :
nói tiếp những chuyện từ lần gần nhất
Ví dụ: He came right in and picked up where we left off

6. words are not enough to describe: không từ ngữ nào diễn tả được
Describe /dɪ'skraɪb/: diễn tả, miêu tả
Ví dụ: Words are not enough to describe you

7. Top-notch /,tɒp'nɒtʃ/: xuất sắc, đỉnh cao
Ví dụ: He's top-notch

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Do you think the family meal is important?

Gợi ý: practice (tập tục)

Definitely, especially during this modern age. You know, family meals are the time when everyone puts away their phone, gathers around the table and reconnects with each other. This short yet valuable period is like a reward after a hectic day and is a chance for family members to spend quality time together. Therefore, having a family meal should be a common practice everywhere.

2. What do you think when many people don't spend sufficient time for family dinners?

Gợi ý: strengthen family bonds : thắt chặt tình cảm gia đình

It's hard to tell because each person has their own reasons. But I think it's mostly because we are now having fast-paced lifestyles and the convenience of fast food has affected our family dinnertime. What we can do and should do is to spare some time for a cozy family dinner occasionally because like I have said, it would strengthen family bonds.

3. Do you often buy takeaway snacks to bring home and share with your parents?

It really depends on how far away I am from home. If I am close, I will take them home and invite my parents to take a bite. If I'm not, it would be a no because the food would lose its freshness and taste terrible. However, my parents aren't really big fans of snacks so most of the time, I wouldn't bring them home.

Program/App

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a program on computer/a mobile app on the phone that you use

You should say:

- What the program/app is,
- When/where you found it,
- How you use it,
- And explain how you feel about it.

Answer

Today I'd like to talk about Facebook, which is probably the most commonly-used⁽¹⁾ app on my phone. You know, I am not really sure why but Facebook can be very addictive.

If I'm not mistaken, I first knew about Facebook when I was in secondary school and at that time, not many people knew about it since the majority was all hooked on⁽²⁾ Zing Me, a Vietnamese social media platform. Unlike the others, I felt like using Facebook would help me to stay up-to-date much faster and expand my network throughout the world. My first username was such a joke that I had buried⁽³⁾ it over the years.

Anyway, when it comes to the reason why I spend a large amount of my time on Facebook, it is because Facebook really comes in handy whenever I need to reach out to someone instantly. Besides, I follow a lot of informative pages and blogs on Facebook so I am always up-to-date with the latest news. I find reading short stories and articles on Facebook very hard to resist for some reason.

I know it's an unhealthy habit but I can't help but glue my eyes to⁽⁴⁾ Facebook every time I use the phone!

1. commonly-used: thường sử dụng

Ví dụ: Backtrack is a commonly-used option.

2. hooked on /hʊk/ /ɒn/: bị hấp dẫn bởi

Ví dụ: I became hooked on the icy life.

3. Buried /'ber.i/: che giấu

Ví dụ: I found the article buried away in the business section of the newspaper.

4. glue my eyes to: dán mắt vào cái gì đó

Glue /glu:/ : Dán

Ví dụ: I glued my eyes to the desk

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What is the importance of apps in a person's life?

Gợi ý: (Gợi ý: come in handy (tiện lợi) -> health-monitoring (theo dõi sức khỏe), language-learning (học ngôn ngữ), entertaining apps (ứng dụng giải trí)

Definitely, especially during this modern age. You know, family meals are the time when everyone puts away their phone, gathers around the table and reconnects with each other. This short yet valuable period is like a reward after a hectic day and is a chance for family members to spend quality time together. Therefore, having a family meal should be a common practice everywhere.

2. Are there any drawbacks to apps?

Gợi ý: overuse (sử dụng quá mức) -> a sedentary lifestyle (lối sống ít vận động); scammed-fake apps (ứng dụng lừa đảo)

Yeah sure. Overuse or being addicted to any gaming app is a very common thing, especially among young children, and this could lead to a sedentary lifestyle. Besides, many people are scammed or have personal information stolen because they accidentally download fake apps.

Mobile phone

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a time you wouldn't use the mobile phone

You should say:

- When it was
- Where it was
- Why you would not use your mobile phone
- And how you felt about it

Answer

Well, I think that mobile phones have now become a must-have item⁽¹⁾ for everybody in daily life, so much so that we somehow feel we can't live without them.

I still remember the one time that I had to be apart from my phone when I was sitting my high school graduation exam 2 years ago, and I have to say it was quite uncomfortable.

So, my high school graduation exam is a mandatory⁽²⁾ examination that students have to take at the end of grade 12 to get their diploma and it's one of the most important events in a student's life, I guess, because it pretty much shapes their future⁽³⁾.

And of course, cell phones are not allowed in the test, to ensure that no one gets an unfair advantage⁽⁴⁾ by cheating. If your phone makes a noise, or if you are seen using it at any time, including during breaks, you may be dismissed from the examination immediately, and your scores will be cancelled without exception.

I myself had a bad habit of always going on the internet on my phone to make sure I got the right answers when doing the practice tests at home, so during the exam, I constantly had a burning desire⁽⁵⁾ to reach for my phone but obviously it was just a thought and I didn't dare to do it. However the feelings of uncertainty about my results were haunting⁽⁶⁾ me and made me really nervous, and it wasn't until I handed in my papers and checked the answers when I got home, was I able to feel calm again.

From this experience, I realized that I do rely too much on my phone. And although it's a great tool to assist studying, I think we should learn how to be more confident in ourselves.

1. must-have item /mʌst hæv 'ɪm/ : vật dụng phải có

Ví dụ: I predict this will replace the iPad as a must-have item this year.

2. mandatory /'mændətəri/: bắt buộc

Ví dụ: The test includes a mandatory essay question.

3. shapes their future /ʃeɪp ðeər 'fju:.tʃər/ : quyết định tương lai
Ví dụ: I can't over-emphasise the importance of education: education shapes their future.

4. unfair advantage: lợi thế 1 cách không công bằng

Unfair /ʌn'feər/ : không công bằng

Advantage /əd v n.t d/: lợi thế
Ví dụ: The defendant gets an unfair advantage

5. burning desire /'bɜː.nɪr/ : khát khao mãnh liệt
Ví dụ: He's got a burning desire to compete.

6. haunting /'hɔ:n.tɪŋ/ : ám ảnh

Ví dụ: the haunting beauty of Africa

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Do you think it is necessary to have laws on the use of mobile phones?

Gợi ý: personal rights (quyền cá nhân) – as long as we don't use them for illegal purposes (miễn là chúng ta không dùng chúng cho mục đích phi pháp)

Certainly not. I think mobile phones are personal belongings, which means what they do with their phone is part of their personal rights. However, bear in mind that if cell phones are used for illegal purposes like recording movies in theatre or spying on another person and so on, the owners should definitely be fined heavily. But, you know, even if having laws on mobile phone usage is essential, I don't think it is highly possible to carry it out on a large scale.

2. How do you like children having mobile phones? At what age should children have mobile phones?

Gợi ý : contact their parents (liên hệ với bố mẹ), keep in touch with their friends (giữ liên lạc với bạn bè)

Mobile phones could be necessary for children because they can use their cell phones to contact their parents after school, keep in touch with their friends for group work and also stay up-to-date in this tech age. But, parents have to be mindful that children can be addicted to their cell phone easily. Also, I think that children should be at least 15 years old to have a cell phone of their own.

A crowded place

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a crowded place you have been to

You should say:

- When you went there?
- Who you went there with?
- Why did you go there?
- And how you felt about it?

Answer

I would like to talk about my recent trip to Ba Den pagoda, which was an experience that I always remember due to the massive amount of visitors that I encountered⁽¹⁾ while I was there.

So usually, during Tet holiday, my family often drives to Tay Ninh province to visit my grandfather and last year we decided to take a short trip to Ba Den pagoda on Ba Den Mountain.

Before getting on the cable car to go up to the pagoda, I thought that maybe there might be a lot of Buddhist worshippers up there, as this sacred place tends to attract countless⁽²⁾ visitors all year round, let alone⁽³⁾ during Tet, which is the biggest holiday in Vietnam. And, I was right. There were people with flowers and candles everywhere. On one corner, lines of people were trying to light their incense sticks⁽⁴⁾, and inside the pagoda many people were kneeling and praying with their eyes closed. It was pretty hard for us to even find any room to stand.

But, in the end, we successfully managed to find a way through the crowd and got close to the worshipping place, however my grandfather stayed outside as he can't stand all the smoke and lack of oxygen.

Although I understand that most Vietnamese people enjoy going to pagodas and temples during these special days of the year to wish for good luck, and well-being and happiness, I really don't think I'll do that again anytime soon.

1. Encountered /ɪn'kaʊn.tər/: gặp phải

Ví dụ: I had an alarming encounter with a wild pig.

2. Countless /'kaʊnt.ləs/: rất nhiều không đếm xuể
Ví dụ: I've heard it played countless times on the radio.

3. let alone /let ə'ləʊn/: huống chi là
Ví dụ: Her characters never touch, let alone kiss.

4. incense sticks /'ɪn.sens stɪks/: cây nhang
Ví dụ: It's the fashion equivalent of incense sticks

5. Kneel /ni:l/: quỳ
Ví dụ: He knelt in front of the altar and prayed.

6. Well-being /'wel'bi:.ɪŋ/: sức khỏe
Ví dụ: People doing yoga benefit from an increased feeling of well-being

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Do people like to go to crowded places? Why?

Gợi ý: introvert (người hướng nội) – suffocated (ngột ngạt)

It depends. Some may like it and some may not. But personally I don't. As an introvert, I can't help but feel suffocated whenever being in a crowded atmosphere. You know, it feels like my personal space is being invaded.

2. How can the problem of traffic congestion be solved?

Gợi ý: renovating the public transportation system (cải tiến hệ thống giao thông công cộng), widening roads (mở rộng đường phố)

First, we can start with renovating the public transportation system to attract more passengers and reduce the number of vehicles on streets. Another solution is the government widening roads, but this would cost a lot of public money.

3. What public facilities does your city have?

There are plenty! From schools, healthcare centers or hospitals, universities to public transport and so on. Although Vietnam is still a developing country, I believe that the government is trying their best to make everything better.

An occasion

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe an occasion you helped your family members

You should say:

- When it was
- Who asked you for help
- How you helped
- And explain how you felt about it

Answer

Today I'd like to talk about the time I helped my grandfather fix his computer.

When I was in grade 7, I still lived under the same roof with⁽¹⁾ my grandparents because my middle school was close to their house. I have always been a technophile⁽²⁾ because my dad, who is the closest one to me in the family, has a passion for technology and technological devices. One time, during summer, my parents went on a business trip together so I stayed home with my grandparents.

At that time, my grandfather wanted to borrow my laptop to write an email to his university professor who he had lost contact with for a long time. My grandpa struggled right from the beginning! At first, he didn't know how to turn the laptop on because he had never used it before so he called me for help. Then, I decided to stick around⁽³⁾ for a bit longer to support him all the way. Then, his weak eyesight⁽⁴⁾ prevented him from seeing the keyboard clearly so I was the one who typed the entire letter while he was reading his message out loud.

Needless to say, he was really pleased and even bought me my favorite book back then. Now, I have moved out and have little chance to visit my grandparents regularly. I will definitely visit them this Tet holiday and spend more time with them.

1. lived under the same roof with /ɪvð 'ʌn.dər ðə seɪm ru:f wɪð/:

sống chung nhà

Ví dụ: Two of his three sons and a nephew, who all lived under the same roof with Mr. Toan.

2. Technophile /'teknəfəl/: người

yêu thích công nghệ

Ví dụ: These are the top-ten gadget gifts under $50 for the technophile.

3. stick around /stɪk ə'raʊnd/: ở

lại 1 nơi nào đó

Ví dụ: Players stick around and just do finishing.

4. weak eyesight: mắt kém

weak /wi:k/: yếu

Eyesight /'aɪ.sart/: thị lực

Ví dụ: Local children were often underweight, with weak eyesight or poor concentration in the classroom.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What can children help parents with?

Gợi ý : do household chores (làm việc nhà), be independent and take good care of themselves (tự lập và tự chăm sóc bản thân)

There are many things children can do like helping with simple household chores like washing dishes or wiping the floor. Besides, children can learn to think and act independently and take good care of themselves so that their parents could be less worried about them.

2. Should parents reward their children when they help others?

Gợi ý: sentimental rewards (phần thưởng tinh thần) > financial rewards (phần thưởng tiền bạc)

Oh certainly. Children should be reminded and encouraged to show actions or gestures of goodwill for being kind-hearted is one of the best qualities that anyone could have. However, parents should give their children sentimental rewards rather than financial ones because obviously, giving them money could make them feel like they are doing good for money.

3. Do parents help children because they need their children to help them when they are old?

Gợi ý : no – out of pure love (từ lòng yêu thương thuần khiết)

I think it's silly to think that way. Parents simply help and take care of their children out of pure love. Normally, parents wouldn't expect to receive anything from their kids because they mostly care about showing affection to their children.

A noisy place

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a noisy place that annoys you

You should say:

- What place it is
- Where it is
- Why it is noisy
- And explain whether you think it will be quieter and why

Answer

Today I'd like to talk about my trip to Vung Tau, one of the most popular tourist destinations during the holiday season. It is located in the South of Vietnam and very close to HCMC.

Last month wasn't the first time I visited Vung Tau but the experience I had there was so terrible that I even considered never coming back again.

Arriving at Vung Tau, the first thing we did was heading straight to the beach, as we were trying to escape from the heat of the city. The scene in front of my eyes was such a chaos. The swimming area was filled with people, and we could barely find a spot to lie on the beach let alone to swim. What bothered me the most was the noise of people talking to each other as if they were screaming and the kids were running around shouting out of joy.

I should have seen it coming because it was summertime but everything was out of hand⁽¹⁾ and we ended up leaving earlier than planned. I still remember how bad a headache the trip gave me and promise to myself that I wouldn't visit Vung Tau during the summer anymore. The place could have been much quieter if visitors had behaved in a well-mannered way.

1. out of hand /aʊt əv hænd/:
ngoài tầm kiểm soát

Ví dụ: This is seriously getting out of hand

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Why do you think some people like noisy places?

Probably because they enjoy the dynamic atmosphere. I could only think of bars and clubs when it comes to noisy places in the city and it is likely that the loud music as well as noises inside those places make them feel more youthful and alive. Other than that, I couldn't think of any other reason.

2. What harms does noise pollution bring? How to reduce the harm of noise?

As you may know, being in contact with constant loud noise can damage human health in many ways like increased levels of stress and headaches. The simplest way is just to avoid noisy activities by staying indoor instead of outdoor, and moreover, get yourself a pair of earplugs.

A foreign country

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a foreign country (culture) you want to know more about

You should say:

- What it is
- Where it is
- How you know it
- And explain why you want to know more about it

Answer

Since I was a teenager, I have always been fascinated about America and dreamt of visiting the country for once in a lifetime. As I remember, I first came upon the movie “How I met your mother” when I was in grade 8 and fell in love with every scene from the movie and New York city.

I noticed that the Americans in the movie were very strong-willed⁽¹⁾ and they weren't afraid to follow their dreams. Besides, the characters were good examples of hardwork and they only took a few days off on important occasions like Thanksgiving or Christmas. As a teenage girl, the movie was truly inspiring to me and empowered me to become a go-getter⁽²⁾.

As I grew older, I read many articles about how people described American as a diverse country, with all the races and ethnic groups living and working together. Moreover, there are on-going⁽³⁾ debates about equality in America and the more I look up for more information about America, the more intrigued I am.

Social media has portrayed America as a country of liberty⁽⁴⁾ and diversity to me and honestly, I can't wait to gain some first-hand experience in NYC, the heart of America.

Strong-willed /strɔŋ'wɪld/: ý chí mạnh mẽ

Ví dụ: She's very strong-willed.

a go-getter /ə gət'ær/: người muốn gì sẽ cố gắng để đạt được điều đó

Ví dụ: She was a go-getter.

On-going /ɒn, 'gəʊ.ɪŋ/: tiếp diễn
Ví dụ: On-going monitoring of soil fertility characteristics.

Liberty /'lɪb.ə.ti/: sự tự do
Ví dụ: Hundreds of political prisoners are to be given their liberty.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What do you think is the best way to learn foreign culture?

I don't think there is any most effective way as learners can personalize their learning experience to their interest. For example, one cost-free way is to learn through different forms of arts like movies and songs – I mean people can choose whatever category they are fond of. Another way would be to actually learn the language used in that culture; this method may take a lot of time but can be very effective.

2. What do you think is the biggest problem to work in a foreign country?

Gợi ý : language barrier (rào cản ngôn ngữ) – loneliness (sự cô đơn), staying healthy (giữ sức khỏe)

Definitely language barrier. People can reach a whole new level of loneliness, even when being surrounded with lots of people, if they can't speak the language of the country they work in. Besides, it is also hard to stay healthy and balanced under different living conditions. Just imagine how terrible it would be if you unfortunately got sick and lived alone.

3. Some people say that reading is the best way to know about a culture, do you agree?

It is an effective way, but not the best one I think. There is no doubt that many people don't enjoy reading at all and sometimes, words alone cannot describe how lively and original a culture could be. To me, there are better ways like actually living in that country or watching movies that deeply reflect a place's culture.

A time you took risk

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a time you took risk, you thought that bad things happened but still took it because you believed it had positives

You should say:

- What bad things were
- When you took risks
- And explain why it had positive results

Answer

It was 5 months ago when I decided to quit my job. Though it was a high-paying⁽¹⁾ and interesting one, the chances for promotion are not high. That's why I decided to quit even though I might be unemployed⁽²⁾ and broke for months after that. It was during the pandemic⁽³⁾ so the situation was even harder for me. It took me a lot of time to think before going to the final decision⁽⁴⁾. I believed that whatever happened, I would overcome the problems⁽⁵⁾ because I always had my family's support and I was not the kind of person who easily gave up⁽⁶⁾. Fortunately, I was between jobs⁽⁷⁾ for only 1 month and after the hard time, I was hired by a prestigious⁽⁸⁾ education company. That one month also helped me recharge my battery⁽⁹⁾ and get ready⁽¹⁰⁾ for the new journey ahead. My new position was challenging yet exciting. I got to handle a lot of new tasks that I've never done before. I also got new co-workers who were nice and supportive. The working environment was even beyond my expectations⁽¹¹⁾ and the salary was satisfying. This was just like my dream job.

Well, I'm not quite a risk-taker but I think I was so lucky this time. I think that was my very first time to take such a big risk⁽¹²⁾ in my life, but after all it's worth it.

1. high-paying /haɪ'peɪŋ/(a): trả lương cao

Ví dụ: I had a high-paying advertising job.

2. to be unemployed /,ʌn'.ɪm'plɔɪd/(a): thất nghiệp

Ví dụ: He's been unemployed for over a year

3. Pandemic /pæn'dem.ɪk/: đại dịch

Ví dụ: In some parts of the world malaria is still pandemic.

4. final decision (n): quyết định cuối cùng

Final /'faɪ.nəl/: cuối cùng

Decision /dɪ'sɪʒ.ən/: quyết định

Ví dụ: A final decision is set for July

5. to overcome the problems (v): vượt qua vấn đề, khó khăn overcome /əv.və'kʌm/: vượt qua

6. to easily give up (v): dễ dàng từ bỏ

Give up /gɪv ʌp/: từ bỏ

Easily /'eɪ.zə.li/: dễ dàng

Ví dụ: I do not easily give up anything I have earned.

7. between jobs /bɪ'twi:n dʒɔ:b/: chỉ tình trạng thất nghiệp và đang chờ cơ hội việc làm mới

Ví dụ: That night she was between jobs

8. prestigious /pre'stɪdʒ.əs/: uy tín, danh tiếng

11. beyond my expectation: vượt quá mong đợi

Beyond /bi'jond/: Vượt qua

Ví dụ: They have matured beyond my expectations

risk-taker (n): người liều lĩnh

12. Risk /rɪsk/: rủi ro

Ví dụ: She's an exciting risk-taker

Mở rộng

Những từ vựng và ý tưởng trong bài có thể áp dụng cho chủ đề:

- Describe a person who likes taking risks: I'm going to talk about my father, who is a risk-taker.
- Describe a time when you are happy: I got a luxury car for my birthday, which is beyond my expectations.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Who usually takes risks, why?

Gợi ý: entrepreneurs (chủ doanh nghiệp), nature of their work (tính chất công việc), cost of opportunity (cái giá cho cơ hội), calculated risk (rủi ro có tính toán trước), get out of comfort zone (ra khỏi vùng an toàn)

I don't think there is any most effective way as learners can personalize their learning experience to their interest. For example, one cost-free way is to learn through different forms of arts like movies and songs – I mean people can choose whatever category they are fond of. Another way would be to actually learn the language used in that culture; this method may take a lot of time but can be very effective.

2. Why do young people take risks more often than the elderly?

Gợi ý: properties (tài sản), have nothing to lose (không có gì để mất)

I think it's quite easy to understand. You know, most old people have gained a lot of things in their life, like properties, family and relationships. No normal person wants to take risk and lose any of those things. And old people aren't very open to learn from their mistakes, I believe. The young are different: they have nothing to lose, they still have plenty of time left in life so there's a whole lot for them to learn in case of failure. That's why they're willing to take risks, sometimes even a big one.

3. Why do boys take risks more often than girls?

Gợi ý: the differences in hormones between the two genders (sự khác biệt hormone ở 2 giới), underlying reason (lý do cơ bản), rewarding feeling (cảm giác thỏa mãn)

I think the differences in hormones between the two genders are the underlying reason for risk taking. Besides, personality is also an explanation. While boys are taught to be strong, fearless and tough, girls are expected to be more gentle and calm. Taking risks helps boys show their strength and power and it proves that they will be able to protect their female counterparts. This gives them a rewarding feeling.

4. What advice should parents give to children to avoid taking risks?

Gợi ý: Gợi ý: assess risks (đánh giá rủi ro), real-life experiences (trải nghiệm thực tế), consequences (hậu quả), consider carefully (cân nhắc kỹ lưỡng)

I think to reduce risk-taking, parents should teach their children how to assess risks. Some risks are worth a try, but some are dangerous. But children may not have enough real-life experiences to recognize when to step out of their comfort zone and when they should not. So parents should give some examples of different risks and ask their children to think about the consequences. This helps children learn to consider carefully before taking risks and know which risks that they should avoid.

5. Should we read about dangerous situations, why?

Gợi ý: Life is unexpected (Cuộc sống là không đoán trước được), drunk drivers (tài xế say xỉn), encounter (bắt gặp)

Certainly. Life is unexpected, you know. We never know when something dangerous is gonna come, so having some preparation is necessary. For instance, there are a lot of drunk drivers out there, and we don't know when we're gonna encounter them. So reading some articles or books about these situations can help us, at least, get a picture of how we should react in such a case.

An old person

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe an old person that you know and respect

You should say:

- Who the person is
- How you know the person
- What kind of person he or she is
- And explain why you respect/ admire the person.

Answer

I'm going to talk about my grandma who I admire a lot.

Actually, she passed away a few years ago but she was a very inspiring person. My earliest memories⁽¹⁾ of her are probably from when I was about 5 or 6 years old, because before that I didn't live with my grandparents so I didn't see them very often.

There are many reasons why I think she is very respectful. Firstly, she grew up in Australia during a time when men and women did not have equal rights⁽²⁾, especially in terms of salary, and she used to work in a leather factory and she knew that she was good at her job, better than a lot of the men in the factory. So one day, she demanded that her boss pay her the same wage as her male colleagues because she was better than a lot of them. This was a brave thing to do and her boss gave her a raise. I think this is a good example of her personality actually. She was an honest and fair person. She worked hard and she expected to be paid fairly. She always really loved to live in old houses in the countryside and filled them with all sorts of antiques and lots of interesting gadgets, so it was quite fascinating for me and my brothers to visit her house when we were young. Secondly, my grandmother was a real individual⁽³⁾. She loved to play video games even when she was 60 years old, and she used to ride a big motorcycle and she had some tattoos on her arms, which was very uncommon for a woman her age. But my brothers and I thought she was really cool. She was also a very talented artist as well. She painted many beautiful paintings, and learnt to play the piano when she was about 65. And because of these things, my grandmother is someone I really admire.

1. earliest memories: Những kỉ niệm đầu tiên.

Memories /'mem.ərɪz/: kỉ niệm
Ví dụ: My earliest memories are from Korea

2. equal rights /'iː.kwəl rɔːts/:
quyền bình đẳng.
Ví dụ: Women enjoy nearly equal rights.

3. a real individual /rɪəl individual/: độc đáo không giống ai.
Ví dụ: He's just a real individual

Mở rộng

Những từ vựng và ý tưởng trong bài có thể áp dụng cho chủ đề:

- Describe someone you want to become in the future: I want to become someone as cool as my grandma in the future.
- Describe someone you would like to work or study with: My grandma is an excellent co-worker who is willing to fight for fairness in the workplace.
- Describe an intelligent person you know: My grandma is intelligent (because of the cool gadgets and antiques).

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. How to take care of your grandparents? Who usually takes care of them?

Gợi ý: mental health (sức khỏe tinh thần), too sensitive (quá nhạy cảm)

Well, my grandparents are still healthy so they do not need much caretaking. But they live with my family and my parents take very good care of them. I believe the most important thing is to take care of their mental health, since old people are sometimes too sensitive. So every member in my family always tries to let them know that we love them and we will always be with them no matter how old they are.

2. What can old people learn from the young generation and vice versa?

Gợi ý : life experience (trải nghiệm cuộc sống), important life lessons (bài học cuộc sống quan trọng), In return (Đổi lại), behind the times (lạc hậu), a hard time (một khoảng thời gian khó khăn).

Well, I suppose there are plenty of things the old can teach the youth. For example, older people usually have a lot of life experience and have learnt a lot of important life lessons which they can teach younger people about. In return, young people can teach old people how to use technology. Many older people tend to live behind the times so they often have a hard time learning how to use computers, smartphones or some other tech devices so that's one thing they can learn from the youth.

3. If the old don't have relatives, who will take care of them?

Gợi ý: care home (viện dưỡng lão), poor health conditions (điều kiện sức khỏe không tốt), memory loss (mất trí nhớ), medical services (dịch vụ y tế).

I think care home is a good option. It's not safe for old people to live alone in their house, especially when they have poor health conditions or memory loss. Home care has everything they need. They will be taken care of by nurses every day and more importantly, the medical services are always ready if they have any problems. Besides, there are other old people in the care home whom they can make friends with so that they won't be lonely and have more fun.

4. Are the attitudes of young people today towards old people the same as they used to be years ago?

I believe that at least in Vietnam, there are not many changes in the way people treat the old. Old people are often receive good care from the younger. However, since people are better-educated, they realize that some life lessons of the old people such as not taking shower for a month after giving birth are unscientific. They no longer trust all old people's advice as in the past. Instead, they tend to do some careful research before deciding whether they should follow the tips.

5. What work (if any) is suitable for old people and what work is unsuitable for them?

Gợi ý: financial advisor (cố vấn tài chính), physical strength (thể lực), construction worker (thợ xây dựng), retirees (người đã về hưu).

I think teacher, speaker or financial advisor are suitable occupations for old people. These jobs do not require physical strength and besides, old people are experienced and they definitely have a lot of great things to teach and advise younger generations. Jobs as construction worker, gym coach or firefighter are obviously not for retirees because they do not have good health, endurance and strength.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe something difficult you would like to succeed in doing

You should say:

- What it is
- Why it is difficult
- How you would like to prepare for it
- And explain why you would like to be successful in doing it

Answer

I've always wanted to lose weight. My current weight is 70 kg while I am only 155 cm tall. I am considered an obese person and I suffer from a lot of body shaming. I want to lose at least 20 kg but it's never a piece of cake⁽¹⁾ for me because I'm always hungry and I cannot have much time for exercising since my job requires me to sit in a place and work with a computer all day. I manage to wake up at the crack of dawn⁽²⁾ and spend 30 minutes running. Besides, I cut off the starch⁽³⁾ in my diet and choose low-carb food⁽⁴⁾ such as chicken breast and leafy green veggies. I know that being overweight is bad for my health and if I am not determined to get a weight loss, I may get some more serious illnesses such as high blood pressure⁽⁵⁾ or heart attack in the future. I used to be a couch potato before, but now I spend most of my free time at the gym. I even spend a big amount of money hiring a private coach so that he will have more intensive advice for me in losing weight and keep an eye on⁽⁶⁾ my daily workout. I'm trying to cut off the sugar too but it's quite hard for me because I love sweet food. This is really the hardest thing in my life and hopefully I can make it. If I lose weight successfully, I will inspire people to adopt a healthy lifestyle. I always dream of the day when I have a fit body so that I can wear beautiful dresses and fashionable items that currently don't fit me well.

1. a piece of cake (idiom) /ə// /pi:s/ /əv/ /keɪk/: rất dễ dàng, dễ như ăn bánh

Ví dụ: The exam was a piece of cake.

2. crack of dawn /kræk əv dɔ:n/: rất sớm vào buổi sáng

Ví dụ: Music filters out to me in the crack of dawn.

3. cut off the starch: cắt tinh bột cut off /'kʌt.of/ : Cắt giảm
Starch /sta:tʃ/ : tinh bột

Ví dụ: He cut off the starch in his diet

4. low-carb food /ləʊka:b fu:d/: thức ăn có ít carbohydrate
Ví dụ: Others find prepared low-carb foods helpful.

5. high blood pressure: huyết áp cao
High /haɪ/: cao

blood pressure /blʌd preʃ.ər/: huyết áp

Ví dụ: He has high blood pressure.

6. couch potato /'kaʊtʃ pə.tə.təʊ/: người lười biếng, thường nằm trên ghế sofa xem TV
Ví dụ: I'm a couch potato in TET holiday

7. keep an eye on something /ki:p æn aɪ ɒn/: để mắt tới điều gì đó
Ví dụ: I Keep an eye on her.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. In your country, how is success defined or measured?

I think it's common in my country that success is measured based on how much money people earn. If a person has a lot of money and properties, he is definitely considered a successful person. I think there are no differences in other countries. When you search for the list of the most successful people in the world, the results you get are likely to be the names of rich businessmen.

2. What goals do most people in your country have in life?

worry-free (không lo lắng), latest technology inventions (phát minh công nghệ mới nhất), through thick and thin (qua mọi khó khăn, vất vả).

I think every Vietnamese person shares the same aim, which is to get a high-paying job and a partner. Good salary helps them to have a comfortable and worry-free life. They can go shopping, buy a house to live or get access to the latest technology inventions. Whereas, finding their true love will be helpful for mental health. They have someone to take care of and be with them through thick and thin.

3. How can people reach these goals?

Gợi ý: fate (định mệnh), start a conversation with someone of the opposite sex (bắt chuyện với người khác giới).

Well, the only way to get a well-paid job is to work hard. Regardless of your family financial background and academic achievement, if you try hard to improve yourself day by day, you will definitely become better at what you do and this helps you to have a good salary. Finding the right partner depends more on fate, I suppose. Just go to a crowded place and start a conversation with someone of the opposite sex.

4. Is there a lot of competition with others trying to achieve the same goals?

Gợi ý: find a light in the darkness (tìm được điều tốt/ tích cực trong lúc khó khăn)

Yes, there is. That's why people always have a lot of pressure in their life and they have to try hard continuously. The person who makes no effort or who gives up even before trying has no chance to succeed. Whereas, successful people are those who are not afraid of taking risks and always find a light in the darkness.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe an occasion you wore the best clothes

You should say:

- When it was
- What you wore
- What it looked like
- And explain why you wore it

Answer

The time that I put on my best clothes was on my brother's wedding 2 years ago, if I'm not mistaken. I am not a fashion icon or someone who is on trend⁽¹⁾ and I wear casual clothes⁽²⁾ most of the time. On that special day, I wore a long red form-fitting⁽³⁾ dress, which was chosen by my best friend. I had her pick the dress for me because she has a sense of style⁽⁴⁾ and always keeps up with the latest fashion trend⁽⁶⁾. The dress suited me perfectly. It helped me show my hourglass body. The dress looked simple with only one color and there was a flower on the chest for additional decoration. It helped me look formal enough for an important event but still elegant. I also wore red heels which matched the dress's color perfectly. When I attended the wedding, everyone told me that I looked so different and beautiful at the same time. I was so happy and felt thankful to my friend for choosing for me such a nice dress. Without her, I might wear something old fashioned⁽⁶⁾ or too casual. Recently, I wore the dress again on my 27th birthday and it still looked fashionable although three years has passed. I believe this is one of the timeless items⁽⁷⁾ that every woman needs in her closet.

1. be on trend /bi: ɒn trend/ : rất thời trang

Ví dụ: First, he manages to be on trend without looking on trend.

2. casual clothes: quần áo thông thường casual /'kæʒ.ju.əl/: thông thường

clothes /kləʊðz/ : quần áo

Ví dụ: Record-company presidents in casual clothes.

3. Form-fitting /'fɔ:m,fit.ɪŋ/: ôm dáng

Ví dụ: I had never seen her in something form-fitting before

4. have a sense of style: có mắt thẩm mĩ

Style /staɪl/: phong cách

Ví dụ: She have a sense of style

5. keep up with the latest fashion trend: bắt kịp xu hướng thời trang

Fashion /'fæʃ.ən/: thời trang

Trend /trend/ : xu hướng

Ví dụ: we always keep up with the latest fashion trends.

6. old fashioned /'fæʃ.ənt/: lỗi thời

Ví dụ: I don't like to wear old fashioned clothing

7. timeless item /'taɪm.lɛs ɪm.ɪt/ : tèm/ : loại quần áo không bao giờ lỗi mốt

Ví dụ: I believe a gold tooth is one of the timeless items

Mở rộng

Những từ vựng và ý tưởng trong bài có thể áp dụng cho chủ đề:

- Describe a piece of clothing you like to wear: I love wearing form-fitting clothes because it helps me show my hourglass body.
- Describe a time you wear uniform: I'm a fashion icon so I hate wearing uniforms.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Do you think people need to wear formally in the workplace? Why do some people like to wear traditional clothes?

Gợi ý: worry-free (không lo lắng), latest technology inventions (phát minh công nghệ mới nhất), through thick and thin (qua mọi khó khăn, vất vả).

I think it depends on the occupation. For those working in the government, the real estate, or in some financial institutions, they have to dress formally because they need to gain trust from others, and no one is gonna trust a person wearing shorts or tank top with their own money. However, people like artists or designers don't have to dress formally all the time; some others like a real estate agent or lawyer don't work for any particular company and they don't need to persuade people.

2. Why do some people like to wear traditional clothes?

There are two main reasons why people wear traditional clothes, I suppose. The first reason is they want to preserve the tradition from fading years after years. Besides, some people wear those clothes just simply because they like it. For example, my mother wears aodai, which is the traditional dress of Vietnamese women, to every wedding, because she thinks it suits her and she doesn't need to spend much time picking different items.

3. Will traditional clothes disappear in the future? Do old people change their style of dressing?

Gợi ý: long-sleeve (dài tay), loose-fitting (rộng, không ôm sát cơ thể), made of silk (làm từ vải lụa)

I think the answer is no, at least in Vietnam. Because high school students in Vietnam wear ao dai every monday and it is considered a timeless item which makes a woman look so beautiful and elegant In Vietnam, old people tend to keep their dressing style, which is a pair of long black pants and a long-sleeve loose-fitting T-shirt made of silk.

Planning

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a time when you missed an appointment

You should say:

- When it was
- Who you made it with
- Why you missed it
- And how you felt about it

Answer

It was just last month. I was supposed to meet my best friend at her apartment on Sunday and take her to her hometown so that we could enjoy a meal with her family. It was a super busy time because I have just got a new job. A lot of things to learn about and I buried myself in a mountain of workload⁽¹⁾. I even burned the midnight oil⁽²⁾ because I wanted to perform well at work. I was exhausted and there was nothing in my mind except work at that time. I even accepted my boss's request for a business trip to Hanoi on that Sunday and totally forgot about the appointment with my friend. On Saturday, I was on the flight to Hanoi and I posted a picture on my Facebook before my flight. After arriving at my hotel, I opened my phone and saw her messages asking me about the dinner with her family the next day. I felt extremely disappointed with myself for forgetting such a special appointment with my best friend. She has always been a thoughtful and supportive friend who gave me good advice and encouragement. She was not mad at me but I knew she was very sad. After this occasion, I promised myself that I will never ever forget an appointment again and no matter what happens, I need to maintain a work-life balance⁽³⁾. Coming back from my business trip, I came to her house with some Hanoi specialties and apologized to her. Thankfully she was happy again and still my bosom buddy⁽⁴⁾.

1. bury myself in a mountain of workload: tự chôn mình trong một núi công việc

Bury /'ber.i/ : chôn

Mountain /'maɔn.tn/ : núi

Workload /'wɜ:k.ləʊd/ : Khối lượng công việc

Ví dụ: I don't want to bury myself in a mountain of workload

2. burn the midnight oil /bɜ:n/ / ðə/ /'mɪd.naɪt/ /ɔɪ/: làm việc/ học tối khuya muộn

Ví dụ: We admire those who hunker down, stay the course, burn the midnight oil.

3. maintain a work-life balance: duy trì cân bằng giữa công việc và cuộc sống

Maintain /meɪn'teɪn/: duy trì

Balance /'bæl.əns/: cân bằng

Ví dụ: Women also expect to be able to maintain a work-life balance.

4. bosom buddy /'bɒz.əm 'bʌd.i/: người bạn thân thiết

Ví dụ: This is a city based on commerce and its bosom buddy, selling.

Mở rộng

Những từ vựng và ý tưởng trong bài có thể áp dụng cho chủ đề:

- Describe an occasion when you were late: Trả lời tương tự, nhưng thay vì không tới được, thí sinh có thể trả lời theo hướng nhớ ra lúc gần giờ hẹn và vẫn xoay sở để tới nhưng bị trễ

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Is it important to have a daily plan?

Gợi ý: get everything organized (mọi thứ được sắp xếp)

Definitely. Writing down things that need to be done will help people not be lost. Everyone, especially those who do more than 1 job at the same time, have a lot of tasks to finish, appointments and goals. A daily plan helps us to remember what has to be done in a day and get everything organized. Especially, when having a clear daily routine, you will be unlikely to forget an appointment with someone.

2. What kind of things do people need to plan carefully?

Gợi ý: long-term goals (những mục tiêu dài hạn), a dream come true (điều ước thành hiện thực), short-term targets (mục tiêu ngắn hạn)

I think that's their long-term goals. It's not easy at all to get a dream come true so people have to carefully plan the shorter-term targets and the steps to achieve it. If people don't spend enough time and effort on this, they may get lost on their way to success and unable to make it.

3. Is there anything that can't be planned?

Gợi ý: emergencies (những trường hợp khẩn cấp), dangerous situation (tình huống nguy hiểm), under your control (nằm trong tầm kiểm soát của bạn)

Of course! There are a lot of unexpected things that can occur in our life. Planning day-to-day activities is easy, but who knows what will come up in the middle. Just imagine on a typical working day when you are walking home at night, some strangers follow you and that's something which is definitely never on your daily plan.

4. Do you think it is important to have a work-life balance?

Gợi ý: separating personal and professional lives (Tách biệt đời sống chuyên môn và cá nhân)

Undoubtedly. Separating personal and professional lives helps people maintain both their mental and physical health. They are likely to have less stress and will be full of energy to work effectively and increase their creativity.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a large company that you are interested in

You should say:

- What it is
- What kind of business it does
- How you knew about it
- And explain how you feel about it

Answer

Polish Video game studio called CD Projekt Red, whose headquarter is in Krakow, Poland IIRC

So basically it's a company which develops and publishes many video games, with the most notable one being a series called The Witcher. It's the biggest game developer in Poland, and perhaps one of the most well-known and reputable game developers⁽¹⁾ at the moment, not only in Europe but also around the world.

I knew about CD Projekt Red when I was watching The Game Awards 2015 ceremony, which is like an Oscar for video games. In this event, The Witcher 3: Wild Hunt – the final part of the legendary Witcher trilogy - accomplished a brilliant achievement after winning a total of three major categories⁽²⁾, which had happened only twice in the history of the award. And what struck me most profoundly⁽³⁾ was the acceptance speech⁽⁴⁾ delivered by the company's co-founder. The speech was short, but very powerful. And from that moment, I knew there was something very special about this game developer. I became their fan not too long after that, and I've never regretted it.

1. well-known and reputable game

developers: nhà phát triển game nổi tiếng và uy tín

Reputable /'rep.jə.tə.bəl/ : uy tín

Well-known /'wel'naʊn/ : nổi tiếng

Developers /dɪ'vel.ə.pər/: nhà phát triển
Ví dụ: Vinagame is a well-known and reputable game developers

2. to win a total of three major categories:

thắng cả 3 hạng mục chính

Win /wɪn/ : chiến thắng

Category /'kæt.ə.gri/ : hạng mục

Ví dụ: He win a total of three major categories for streamer

3. struck me most profoundly: gây ấn tượng cho tôi một cách sâu sắc nhất

Profoundly /prə'faʊnd.li/: sâu sắc

Ví dụ: He struck me most profoundly

4. acceptance speech /ək'sep.təns spi:tʃ/:

phát biểu nhận giải

Ví dụ: She delivered an impassioned acceptance speech

I admire CDPR mostly because of their genuine passion for video games, the insane amount of effort they put in their brainchild⁽⁵⁾, and the fact that they really respect their fanbase. From my observation, the problem for most well-known developers nowadays is that rather than making a short game that is consistently good, they would make a long, fancy looking game which only draws the players' attention for the first few hours, and feel like a long, boring checklist rather than something we're interested to do. These games might look impressive due to their ultra realistic graphics or an insane amount of content, but they sorely lack a solid foundation regarding story and gameplay – which are, for me, the two most fundamental elements. CDPR, on the other hand, always focuses on these core values. That's why their games always feel more like an interactive cinematic experience where the player's totally immersed in a different world, and it's almost impossible to stop playing once the story starts to pick up

5. the insane amount of efforts they put in their brainchild: khối lượng công sức khổng lồ mà họ đặt vào đứa con tinh thần
Insane /ɪn'seɪn/: điên rồ

Efforts /'ef.ət/: nỗ lực

Brainchild /'breɪn.tʃaɪld/: đứa con tinh thần

6. ultra realistic graphics /'ʊl.tra rɪə'lɪs.tɪk 'græf.ɪks/: đồ họa siêu thực
Ví dụ: The game looks a bit crude because it doesn't have ultra realistic graphics.

7. lack a solid foundation: thiếu nền tảng vững chắc

Lack /læk/: thiếu; solid /'sol.ɪd/: vững chắc

Foundation /faʊn'deɪ.ʃən/: nền tảng

Ví dụ: Many students lack a solid foundation.

8. an interactive cinematic experience: trải nghiệm điện ảnh tương tác

Interactive /,ɪn.tæ'ræk.tɪv/: tương tác

Cinematic /'sɪn.e.mæ/: điện ảnh

Experience /ɪk'spiə.rɪ.əns/: trải nghiệm

Ví dụ: He believed that it was "more an interactive, cinematic experience than a video game".

9. immersed in a different world: đắm mình vào một thế giới khác

Immerse /ɪ'mɜ:s/: đắm chìm

Ví dụ: when I play videogame I'm totally immersed in a different world.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What are the differences between a big company and a small company?

Gợi ý: separated departments (phòng ban tách biệt), limited human resources (nguồn nhân lực hạn chế)

A big company has separated departments with its own manager and a great number of employees while a small company has limited human resources and the boss is probably the one who decides everything.

2. What are the advantages of working in a big company?

Gợi ý: Promotion chance (cơ hội thăng tiến).

It's the opportunity to learn, I believe. Besides, training is held regularly so employees in big companies will have more opportunities to improve their knowledge and skills. Also, the leaders in big companies are excellent people so you will learn great lessons from them.

3. Is it difficult to get a promotion in a large company?

Gợi ý: get promoted (thăng tiến), competitive rate (tỉ lệ cạnh tranh), career ladder (nấc thang nghề nghiệp)

Certainly. There are many chances to get promoted in those companies but due to the great number of employees, it's also very competitive. So if an employee wants to get higher in their career ladder, they need to make great effort and find opportunities to show their managers what they have for a higher position compared to others.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe something you enjoyed doing with a group of people

You should say:

- What it was
- Where you did it
- Who you did it with
- And explain why you think it was enjoyable

Answer

I'd like to tell you about Bang – my all-time favorite card game, which is something I always love playing with my close friends.

So Bang is a social deduction⁽¹⁾ card game which takes inspiration⁽²⁾ from the Wild West. It is best when played between 7 players who'll be divided into three fractions: The first one includes a Sheriff and two Deputies, the second one includes 3 outlaws , and the last one includes the one and only Renegade. Each fraction has its own winning conditions⁽³⁾. The Sheriff and deputies' primary goal is to eliminate all outlaws and renegade. The three outlaws must kill the The Sheriff to win, while the Renegade has the most complex objective⁽⁴⁾ of them all. In order to come out victorious, he must first side with the Law enforcers and eliminate all Outlaws. Then, he must kill the deputies, before finally revealing his treachery⁽⁵⁾ and face his ultimate nemesis⁽⁶⁾: the Sheriff.

The main reason why I love this game is the mysterious and thrilling vibe⁽⁷⁾ it creates. The main reason for this is because the true identity⁽⁸⁾ of every player, except for the Sheriff, will remain unknown until he or she's eliminated

1. deduction /dɪ'dʌk.ʃən/: khấu trừ
Ví dụ: All we can do is make deductions from the available facts.

2. takes inspiration: lấy cảm hứng
Inspiration /ɪn.spi'reɪ.ʃən/: cảm hứng
Ví dụ: This is a book that takes inspiration from that feeling.

3. winning conditions: điều kiện thắng cuộc
Conditions /kən'dɪʃənz/: điều kiện

4. complex objective: mục tiêu phức tạp
Complex /'kɒm.pleks/: phức tạp
Objective /'əb'dʒek.tɪv/: mục tiêu
Ví dụ: An iterative reweighted algorithm is used to solve the complex objective function.

5. revealing his treachery: tiết lộ sự phản bội revealing /rɪ'veɪ.lɪŋ/: tiết lộ treachery /'tretʃ.ər.i/: sự phản bội
Ví dụ: Dwight calls and reveals his treachery.

6. ultimate nemesis /'ʌl.tɪ.mə /'nem.ə.sɪs/: kẻ thù cuối cùng
Ví dụ: I assume the pilot episode will have Ironside facing his ultimate nemesis

7. mysterious and thrilling vibe: cảm giác bí ẩn và li kỳ
Mysterious /mɪ'strə.ri.əs/: bí ẩn
Thrilling /'θrɪl.ɪŋ/: li kỳ
Ví dụ: I find it much more mysterious and thrilling

8. true identity: danh tính thật
Identity /aɪ'den.tə.ti/: danh tính from the game. This means that in order to win, not only do you have to make careful observations⁽⁹⁾ and deductions to identify the real enemies⁽¹⁰⁾, but also plan out a specific strategy⁽¹¹⁾ and wait for the ripe moment⁽¹²⁾ to strike. It makes for really fun and unpredictable scenarios where, for example, the Sheriff mistakenly kills one of his deputies and loses all of his equipment as a punishment, or when an Outlaw accidentally activates a dynamite and blows one of his friends' head off.

Another thing I particularly enjoy about Bang is its limitless replayability⁽¹³⁾. At the start of a game, each player can randomly choose one character with a specific passive ability⁽¹⁴⁾ which has a huge influence on his or her playstyle. There are more than 20 characters with different abilities, which means that you can't just use the same tactics over and over again because each character's ability will only work best under a certain approach and situation. Therefore, each game you play is a completely different experience, which explains why I could play Bang for literally hours without feeling bored.

9. make careful observations: quan sát cẩn thận

Observations /'ɒb.zə'veɪʃən/: quan sát

Careful /'keə.fəl/: cẩn thận

Ví dụ: Make careful observations and you might notice something.

10. identify the real enemies: xác định kẻ thù thật sự

Identify /aɪ'den.tɪ.fai/ xác định

Real /rɪəl/ thật sự

Ví dụ: He doesn't identify the real enemies

11. specific strategy: chiến lược cụ thể

Specific /spə'stɪf.ɪk/ cụ thể

Strategy /'stræt.e.dʒi/ chiến lược

Ví dụ: The hurdle would vary depending on the specific strategy the fund employs.

12. ripe moment /raɪp 'məʊ.mənt/: thời khắc chín muồi

Ví dụ: It was a ripe moment for a photograph

13. limitless replayability /'lɪm.it.ləs ri:pli:

ə'bɪl.e.ti/: tính năng chơi lại không hạn chế

Ví dụ: As with all Mario games, limitless replayability is key.

14. passive ability /spə'stɪf.ɪk 'pæs.ev.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What kinds of jobs need people to work in a team?

Gợi ý: form an essential part (đóng một phần không thể thiếu), accomplish their missions (hoàn thành nhiệm vụ của họ)

Teamwork is crucial for people working as firefighters, construction workers, policemen and so on. These kinds of jobs can't be done by only one person because each member has an essential part in the tasks and they need to support each other in order to accomplish their missions.

2. What can parents do with their children to make them happy?

Gợi ý: innocent angels (thiên thần ngây thơ), quality time (thời gian chất lượng), be over the moon (cực kì hạnh phúc), be pampered (được nâng niu, yêu chiều)

Well, children are innocent angels so I believe they need nothing more than quality time with their parents, some sweets and toys. Today, a lot of parents are so busy with their work that sometimes they let their children play with computers or a babysitter. But I believe kids will be over the moon if they are pampered by their parents and listen to their bedtime stories and have a kiss on their cheek before sleep.

3. How can children improve their social skills?

Gợi ý: enhance (nâng cao), scared and shy (sợ sệt và ngại ngùng), teamwork games (trò chơi cần teamwork)

I think the best way to enhance children's social skills is to encourage them to talk and be confident even when they are in a new environment. Some children are scared and shy when their parents are not around. But if parents let them make new friends and let them play teamwork games such as soccer or rope jumping, they will be braver and have better communication skills.

4. What are the benefits of boys and girls playing together?

Gợi ý: cooperation (hợp tác), adroit(khéo léo), sex discrimination (phân biệt giới tính), treat equally (đối xử công bằng)

When boys and girls play together, they can develop cooperation, I suppose. While boys are stronger and faster, girls tend to be more adroit and calm. So they support each other well when they play and they also can learn from each other. Besides, letting boys and girls play together since they are little will decrease sex discrimination. When these boys or girls grow up, they understand that their counterparts have their own talents and they deserve to be treated equally.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a job you would like to do in a foreign country for a short period of time

You should say:

- What the job is
- Where you want to do it
- How you knew it
- And explain why you want to do it

Answer

Well, at the moment, I'm thinking of becoming an au pair which may not be a popular job among Vietnamese.

As you know, being an au pair means I will have a life abroad in a short period of time, usually for 1 or 2 years. During that time, I will live with a host family and help them to look after their children or clean the house. In return⁽¹⁾, I receive a small payment. Well, the country I wanna visit is Australia, which is halfway across the world from my hometown.

As for the reason why I want to get this job, well, I've always dreamed of travelling overseas once to learn a second language as well as gain more experiences about life and culture in a foreign country. I would say that I'm pretty adventurous⁽²⁾ and eager to learn⁽³⁾ new things. However, as a student with a tight budget⁽⁴⁾, I'm unable to afford⁽⁵⁾ the fee. Last month, I came to my cousin⁽⁶⁾ for advice and she instantly recommended this job. Speaking of my cousin, she has been working as a designer in Australia for almost 5 years. She knows a lot of local people here and one of them is looking for an au pair. To tell the truth, I used to think that an au pair is neither a housekeeper or a babysitter but after doing a bit of research, I know that I'm

1. In return /ɪn rɪ'tɜ:n/: đổi lại
Ví dụ: In return they got content.

2. Adventurous /əd'ven.tʃər.əs/: thích phiêu lưu
Ví dụ: I'm trying to be more adventurous with my cooking.

3. Be eager to learn /'i:.gər tu: lɜ:n/: ham học hỏi

4. A tight budget: ngân sách hạn hẹp
Tight /taɪt/ : eo hẹp
Budget /'bʌdʒɪt/ : ngân sách
Ví dụ: I am on a tight budget.

5. Be unable to afford /ʌn'eɪ.bəl tu: ə'fɔ:d/:
không có khả năng chi trả
Ví dụ: She was unable to afford having them replaced

6. Come to someone for advice: tìm đến ai đó để xin lời khuyên
Advice /əd'veɪs/: lời khuyên
Ví dụ: Tell them to come to me for advice totally wrong. This job can be a great chance for me to be exposed to⁽⁷⁾ a new lifestyle and culture. Honestly, I haven't lived far from my family. Perhaps I will encounter lots of difficulties when living independently without parental care and guidance, but I'm ready to push myself out of the comfort zone. I can't wait to set my foot⁽⁸⁾ in Australia. Unfortunately, due to the coronavirus pandemic⁽⁹⁾, many countries around the world have been in lockdown, so every plan that I had made was postponed⁽¹⁰⁾. I'm still looking forward to good news so that I can depart⁽¹¹⁾ soon.

7. To be exposed to /ɪk'spəʊzd/ /tu:/: tiếp xúc với
Ví dụ: About 800,000 children are exposed to poisons each year.

8. Set foot in /set fʊt ɪn/: đặt chân đến
Ví dụ: Steadman had never set foot in Nevada

9. Pandemic /pæn'dem.ɪk/: đại dịch
Ví dụ: In some parts of the world malaria is still pandemic.

10. Postpone /pəʊst'paʊn/: trì hoãn
Ví dụ: They decided to postpone their holiday until next year.

11. Depart: khởi hành
Ví dụ: The plane departs at 6 a.m

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What kind of work can young people do in foreign countries?

Gợi ý: Any job, enough experience and knowledge (đủ kinh nghiệm và kiến thức), communicate in foreign language (giao tiếp ngoại ngữ), manicurists (thợ làm móng)

Well, I suppose that any job can be done abroad, as long as the person has enough experience, specific knowledge and can communicate in a foreign language. Particularly in Vietnam, manicurists are among the most common jobs among the young who decide to work overseas. I guess the reason is because this job doesn't require any academic knowledge or special skills. People may only have to take a short vocational training before doing the job. The pay they receive is pretty high as well because there is always a high demand for beauty in some European countries but they lack skilled workers.

2. Is it good for young people to have the experience of living in other countries?

Gợi ý: acquire a wealth of knowledge & cultivate more soft skills (có được nhiều kiến thức và trau dồi kỹ năng), explore and immerse in new culture (được tiếp xúc và trải nghiệm văn hóa mới), independent (tự lập), are pushed out of their comfort zone (rời khỏi vùng an toàn)

I think yes. Living abroad allows people to not only acquire a wealth of knowledge but also cultivate more soft skills. I mean, they can get the opportunity to explore and immerse themselves in a new culture or to meet people from all over the world. People living overseas can also boost their confidence and learn to become independent. You know, in unfamiliar surroundings, everyone is forced to adapt quickly and that is when they are pushed out of their comfort zone. Those are only some of the perks I can think of, not to mention the chance to be fluent in a foreign language.

3. Why are some people unwilling to work in other countries?

Gợi ý: language barrier (rào cản ngôn ngữ), struggle to get used to a new environment (gặp khó khăn khi làm quen với môi trường mới), cultural shock (shock văn hóa), financial burden (gánh nặng tài chính)

To my knowledge, there are many reasons for this. One of those is obviously the language barrier. You know, not being able to communicate in the foreign language will definitely prevent people from performing the task well at work since they can't understand and express ideas. What's more, some people may struggle to get used to such a new environment with so many differences. That's what we normally called cultural shock. On top of that, high cost of living is another factor which makes people reluctant to settle in a foreign country. You see, they must work really hard to make ends meet, otherwise, the financial burden will increase gradually.

4. What's the difference between working in an international company and working in a domestic one?

Gợi ý: collaborate with people from different cultures in international environment (hợp tác với mọi người đến từ nhiều nền văn hóa trong môi trường quốc tế), sugarcoat, straightforward (thẳng tính)

Well, that's pretty hard to say because I haven't worked in an international company before. I guess those who work in an international environment have to collaborate with people coming from different cultures. It may be a chance for them to learn new things from each other, but also a challenge since there will be differences in the way they work or even in their mindset. Like, Asian people are said to be more likely to sugarcoat everything while those coming from Europe may be a bit more straightforward.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a thing you once forgot to do

You should say:

- What it is
- When you forgot it
- Why you forgot it
- And explain how you felt about this experience

Answer

Well, I would like to tell you about a time when I got into trouble because I forgot to lock the door when going out. It happened 4 years ago when I had just moved to HCMC. At that time, I was living in a tiny student bedsit which was located on a bustling street⁽¹⁾ in Thu Duc district. Actually, my neighborhood was not very safe due to the high crime rate⁽²⁾. Although robberies did happen on a regular basis, I still lived there since the accommodation was affordable⁽³⁾ for a student like me.

On that day, I had a really important exam at school. I should have got up earlier but in fact, I didn't. I spent hours binge-watching⁽⁴⁾ my favorite TV series the night before and that's why I slept in⁽⁵⁾ the next morning. After pressing the snooze button many times, I finally woke up. Since it was only 10 minutes left before the exam, I had to do everything in a rush⁽⁶⁾ so that I could go to school on time. Fortunately, I was not so late to get in the exam room but then I realized that I forgot to lock the door of my house. Needless to say, I panicked and instantly returned home. You know what, my laptop was gone. It was stolen. Well, there was no surveillance camera⁽⁷⁾ in the area, which meant the chance for me to get it back was nearly 0%. I can't help crying⁽⁸⁾ and honestly I didn't sleep a wink⁽⁹⁾ for nights. This laptop cost me a fortune⁽¹⁰⁾. On top of that, it was a must-have device for my study. If I hadn't lost it, I wouldn't have struggled with all my online assignments during that whole semester. I now have a new one but I still regret forgetting to do such an important thing.

1. Bustling street /'bʌstlɪŋ stri:t/: Con đường đông đúc, nhộn nhịp

Ví dụ: The experience of exploring a new place through a bustling street food experience.

2. High crime rate: tỷ lệ tội phạm cao

Crime /kraɪm/ tội phạm

Rate /reɪt/ tỷ lệ

High /haɪ/ cao

Ví dụ: She feels their high crime rate is due to easier access to liquor now than formerly.

3. Affordable (price): mức giá phải chăng, có thể chi trả được

Ví dụ: This is nice clothes at affordable prices

4. Binge-watch /'bɪndʒ ,wɒtʃ/: xem liên tục

hết tập này đến tập khác

Ví dụ: We binge-watched an entire season of "Breaking Bad" on Sunday.

5. Sleep in: ngủ nướng

Ví dụ: I usually sleep in on Saturdays.

6. In a rush /ɪn ə rʌʃ/: trong tình thế vội vàng, hối hả

Ví dụ: A surveillance camera recorded what happened next.

8. Can't help crying /kænt help 'kraɪ.ɪŋ/:

Ví dụ: The president became so anxious that he could not sleep a wink.

10. Cost a fortune /kɒst ə 'fɔ:.tʃu:n/: tốn cả

Ví dụ: They cost a fortune.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. How can we improve our memory?

Gợi ý: reminders (công cụ nhắc nhở), to-do list, keep track of important tasks (nắm rõ công việc quan trọng), be organized (ngăn nắp)

Well, for those who are not good at memorizing things, I suggest using some sorts of reminders. Starting with a to-do-list on our smartphone, or just by setting up an online calendar that will send reminders to you. It does help people to keep track of all important tasks or appointments and ensure they don't forget anything that needs to be completed. Another way, I think, is to be organized. I mean, planning things carefully, making a list of all obligations or just keeping everything neat and tidy is enough to help people keep a better track of them.

2. What kind of people might easily forget things? What kind of things do people often forget?

Gợi ý: The elderly (người lớn tuổi), memory loss (suy giảm trí nhớ), disorganized (không ngăn nắp), mess up (làm bừa bộn)

First, it would be the elderly, I suppose. You know, old people are more likely to suffer from gradual memory loss. As people get older, their brain functions are not good anymore. Like my neighbor, she is now in her late eighties and she always mistakes my name for my mother's. Besides, people who are disorganized can also forget things quickly. Take me for example, I always mess my room up just to find a book that I don't remember where I had put it.

3. What do you think of people using calendars to remind themselves of things?

Gợi ý: terrible memory (trí nhớ tệ), struggle with time management (gặp khó khăn trong quản lý thời gian), use calendars (tận dụng lịch), keep track of necessary things to do, consistently scheduled (lên lịch nhất quán), unconscious habit (thói quen vô thức)

Well, I don't think it matters. Those who have a terrible memory or are struggling with time management can definitely use calendars to help them keep track of necessary things to do. To be honest, since I downloaded the calendar app to my phone, I haven't missed any deadlines. For some people, they may be a bit reliant on those kinds of reminders at first, but then when things are consistently scheduled on your calendar, it's much more likely to transform into an unconscious habit.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe an event you experienced but you didn't like the music played there

You should say:

- What the event was
- Where you were
- What the music was like
- And explain why you did not enjoy the music

Answer

I'll tell you about the time I was really annoyed by the terrible and repulsive⁽¹⁾ music which was played at a music competition in a café near Hoan Kiem lake.

So, a couple of months ago my friend invited me to a rap competition held among university students called FB. At first, I didn't really want to go because I'm not really into rap. Then my friend told me that the competition's gonna be held in Snoboo Café – one of my favorite places to chill⁽²⁾ – so I changed my mind. He also said the drinks are on him so yeah, another reason not to refuse. After all, it's just a music competition. What could possibly go wrong, right?

I was dead wrong. When I saw the first few performances, I immediately regretted my decisions... Although the beat and melody⁽³⁾ used for the songs weren't terrible, some of them even sound catchy⁽⁴⁾, I was extremely annoyed by the edgy lyrics written by some of the candidates. They're full of swear words⁽⁵⁾ and offensive lines⁽⁶⁾ which, besides having basic rhymes, serve no purpose whatsoever. Besides, the sound quality was frequently distorted⁽⁷⁾, which created a very unpleasant metallic sound. Apparently, the musical instruments⁽⁸⁾ weren't well set up by the competition organizer.

The only reason why I didn't leave the cafes immediately was because the drinks and snacks they serve taste phenomenal. The staff there was also observant and helpful. But of course, it wasn't enough to make the experience more enjoyable.

1. Terrible and repulsive: tệ và khủng khiếp

Terrible /'ter.ə.bəl/: tệ

Repulsive /rɪ'pʌl.sɪv/: khủng khiếp

Ví dụ: This is a terrible and repulsive song

2. Chill /tʃɪl/: thư giãn

Ví dụ: I've put the beer in the fridge to chill.

3. The beat and melody: nhịp điệu và giai điệu

Beat /bi:t/ nhịp điệu

Melody /'mel.ə.di/ giai điệu

Ví dụ: Eight Bit Beats is a collaborative, social beat and melody sequencer.

4. Catchy /'kætʃi./: bắt tai

Ví dụ: A song with catchy lyrics

5. Swear words /swear wɜ:d/: những lời chửi thề

Ví dụ: We screen a list of swear words.

6. Offensive lines /ə'fen.sɪv laɪn/: những dòng xúc phạm

Ví dụ: It can create unusual matchups for opposing offensive lines.

7. Distorted /dɪ'stɔ:.trɪd/: bị bóp méo

Ví dụ: Everything looks distorted through the glass

8. Musical instruments /'mju:.zɪ.kɪl 'ɪn.strə.mənt/: nhạc cụ

Ví dụ: Musical instruments are important throughout the Americas

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Why do many young people spend a lot of money on music concerts?

Gợi ý: meet idols in person (gặp thần tượng ngoài đời), ask for an autograph (xin chữ ký), take picture, more exhilarating (vui nhộn, phấn khích hơn), like-minded crowd (đám đông cùng sở thích, chí hướng), evoke excitement (khơi dậy sự thích thú, phấn khởi), once-in-a-lifetime experience (kinh nghiệm để đời)

Well, a concert ticket may cost someone a fortune but some people still spend money on it. I think the reason is that they just want to have a chance to meet their idols in person and if they're lucky, they can ask for an autograph or take a picture with their favorite celebrity. Also, being in a concert is much more exhilarating since the cheer of a like-minded crowd can evoke excitement. If I had earned much money 5 years ago, I would have attended a music concert in Korea. To me, it's well worth it to pay money and get a once-in-a-lifetime experience.

2. Do you think older people like the same music as young people?

Gợi ý: different generations have own taste of music (mỗi thế hệ có gu âm nhạc riêng), classical or soothing music (nhạc cổ điển nhẹ nhàng), fast tempo and catchy tunes (nhiều độ nhanh và giai điệu bắt tai)

That's not what I think, to be honest. In fact, people of different generations have their own taste of music. Old people tend to like classical or soothing music while their children are more into pop and rock songs with fast tempo and catchy tunes. Also, you know, there are always changes in the music industry. Even though many new kinds of music are released and become instantly popular among youngsters, some old people still only prefer music they can relate to and have grown up with.

3. Do you think music concerts are suitable for old people to attend?

Gợi ý: crowded and noisy places (nơi đông đúc và ồn ào), prefer enjoying it alone (muốn tận hưởng không gian một mình), passion for music (đam mê âm nhạc)

I think it depends on the kind of concert we're talking about, but mostly no. Old people, at least the ones I know, don't like crowded and noisy places like a concert. They may like music, but I think they prefer enjoying it alone or just with a couple of friends. That said, if the elderly still find their passion for music, they can absolutely attend live gigs.

4. Why do shopping malls often have background music?

Gợi ý: increase enjoyment and help them have a sense of relaxation (tăng sự thích thú và giúp khách hàng có cảm giác thư giãn), draw attention (gây sự chú ý)

Well, many people would love to enjoy music while shopping as it can increase enjoyment and help them have a sense of relaxation. Also, music can draw people's attention. That's what I think.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a time when you saw children behaved badly in public

You should say:

- Where it was
- What the children were doing
- How others reacted to it
- And explain how you felt about it

Answer

I'll tell you about the time when I almost slapped a kid in the face. This may sound harsh but that's exactly what happened, and I'm going to tell you the story from the beginning.

So last year I wanted to take the IELTS test for the 3rd time with a higher target, and as you can imagine, I needed time to practice. However since I can't work whenever I stay at home, I gotta go somewhere else to, you know, get into the mood⁽¹⁾. It didn't take me long to choose a small café called Lilac & Gooseberries since it's always been my priority⁽²⁾ whenever I want a place to get down to some work.

When I arrived at the café, everything was as great as usual. I chose a seat near a small corner on the 2nd floor for as much privacy as possible. About 1 hour later, a woman and her kid approached⁽³⁾ and sat right next to me. Little did I know it was the start of a disaster.

When the woman received a phone call, she left her table and her son behind and went downstairs. Apparently, the boy was listening to music on his smartphone. Then, he started to sing along⁽⁴⁾. He was putting on his earphones so obviously he couldn't be aware of his own terrible voice.

1. Get into the mood: có tâm trạng (để học)

Ví dụ: How do you get into the mood to write war poetry

2. Priority /prə'tɔr.i/: sự ưu tiên

Ví dụ: The management did not seem to consider office safety to be a priority.

3. Approach /ə'prəʊtʃ/: tiến lại gần

Ví dụ: We could just see the train approaching in the distance.

4. Sing along /sɪŋ ə'lɔŋ/: hát theo (bài nhạc)

Ví dụ: Sing along to your favorite song

At first, the level of noise was endurable⁽⁵⁾, so somehow I was hoping that I could live with it. But gradually, the kid got louder and louder⁽⁶⁾ and did not care about other people in the café.

Finally, my patience ran out⁽⁷⁾. I remembered that moment quite well. I was writing an IELTS essay and was having some difficulties generating ideas⁽⁸⁾, which made me a little bit cranky and upset⁽⁹⁾. So when the terrible noise started again, I was boiling with rage⁽¹⁰⁾. In the heat of the moment⁽¹¹⁾, confronted the kid, looked him straight in the face, and warned him that if he doesn't shut up, I swear I will slap him in the face. The boy was surprised, of course, and scared. He didn't dare to make any sound after that. About 5 minutes later, his mom came back, and I talked with her about what happened. I said that I didn't mean to threaten⁽¹²⁾ the kid, and I just want to have some quietness to focus on my work. Fortunately his mom was a reasonable woman. She told her son to apologize to me and other people, and said that there are no hard feelings.

5. Endurable /ɪn'dʒʊə.rə.bəl/: có thể chịu được

Ví dụ: The workload was barely endurable, but the experience was priceless.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What bad behavior do children usually have?

Gợi ý: form an essential part (đóng một phần không thể thiếu), accomplish their missions (hoàn thành nhiệm vụ của họ)

As far as I see, the most common disruptive behaviour, normally among toddlers, is temper tantrum. This is when kids are tired, hungry or just frustrated about something, they start to whine, throw themselves on the floor and cry, then scream or even throw their toys. Actually, tantrums can be seen as a common and normal part during some first ages of life, but that can upset parents. Besides, as a child becomes a bit older, they may have some other inappropriate behaviour like telling lies or keeping pestering for the thing they want.

2. How should parents stop their children from behaving badly in public?

Gợi ý: pamper (nuông chiều), scold and punish (la mắng và phạt), educate and encourage a child to express feeling (giáo dục và khuyến khích trẻ giải bày cảm xúc)

I'm not a parent and I also don't spend much time with children, so I actually have no experience. Normally, I see many parents pamper their angry kids with toys or sweets. Some choose to scold and punish them but honestly, I don't think any of them is a good way. Instead, mom and dad should gradually educate their child by talking to them, encouraging them to express their feelings and see what caused it.

3. Are parents these days stricter than those in the past?

Gợi ý: Becoming friends rather than acting strictly (làm bạn hơn là nghiêm khắc), aggressive behaviour (hành vi hung hăng), trying to go easier on their own kids (cố gắng nhẹ nhàng hơn với trẻ).

I don't think so. To my knowledge, parents nowadays are learning to become friends with their children rather than acting strictly like they did in the past. You know, kids are becoming more emotional, every aggressive behaviour from parents can easily make them hurt and depressed. Therefore, many are trying to go easier on their own kids. Well, talking and sharing like friends would be much better for both.

4. Whose influence on children is more important? Friends' or parents'?

Gợi ý: equally crucial (quan trọng ngang nhau), shaping kids' behaviours (uốn nắn, hình thành hành vi cho trẻ).

Well, it really depends on the age of a child to see whether parents or peers will have more influence on them. I think both will be equally crucial in shaping kids' behaviours. During the first seven years in life, kids are only close to their moms and dads so they learn solely from them regarding their manner, language, habits, things like that. Then when a child starts going to school, he or she spends almost all day with their friends and learns from each other.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe the book you read that you found useful

You should say:

- What it is
- When you read it
- Why you think it is useful
- And explain how you felt about it

Answer

Well, it doesn't take me so long to come up with an idea for the question since I'm truly an avid reader⁽¹⁾. And the book I want to share with you now is called "No time to cook", which I have read thousands times up until now.

If my memory serves me right, the book was given to me as a birthday gift 5 years ago. This was from my mom. "No time to cook" is actually a cookbook which used to be the best seller⁽²⁾ that year with more than 300.000 copies printed and sold.

Honestly at first, I'm not really into cooking because it's not my forte⁽³⁾. That was also the reason why I didn't know much about cooking at that time. I did dabble in⁽⁴⁾ cooking sometimes but then I always ended up messing up the kitchen. It was not until the year 2015 that I took up cooking so that after moving to HCMC study at university, I can feed myself without ordering too much processed food⁽⁵⁾.

For a person who didn't know the first thing about⁽⁶⁾ cooking like me, learning to cook is not that easy. Therefore, my mom decided to give me that book. The book includes 150 pages in which many simple recipes⁽⁷⁾ to cook various dishes were introduced. The thing that really impressed me about this book is that it not only included everything in clear details but also used vivid and colorful pictures for illustration, which made it so interesting and appealing to me. From the book, I also know how to recognize and use different ingredients or spices⁽⁸⁾ used in cooking. It just took me half a day to read through it and practice. I'd say that "No time to cook" is an extremely useful and informative book for anyone who wants to learn cooking and live independently.

1. An avid reader /'æv.ɪd rɪ:dər/: Một người yêu thích đọc sách
Ví dụ: Mr. Brazier was an avid reader and an avid talker.

2. Best seller /best 'sel.ər/: sản phẩm bán chạy nhất
Ví dụ: The book was a best seller.

3. Forte /'fɔ:tər/: sở trường
Ví dụ: Cooking was not exactly her forte

4. Dabble in /'dæb.əl ɪn/: thử làm việc gì
Ví dụ: He first dabbled in politics when he was at law school.

5. Processed food: đồ ăn làm sẵn
Ví dụ: I bloody love processed food

6. Not know the first thing about:
không biết gì về...
Ví dụ: She does not know the first thing about English.

7. Recipes /'res.ɪ.pi/: công thức nấu ăn
Ví dụ: You'll need a can of tuna for this recipe.

8. Ingredients and spices: nguyên liệu và gia vị nấu ăn
Ingredients /ɪn'grɪ:.di.ən/ nguyên liệu
Spices /spɪsɪz/ gia vị nấu ăn
Ví dụ: The menu lets fly with a barrage of ingredients and spices

Mở rộng

Những từ vựng và ý tưởng trong bài có thể áp dụng cho chủ đề:

- Describe a new skill you would like to learn: I wanna learn cooking since now, I'm living far from my mom so I need to cook by myself and not depend on processed food anymore. I was recommended a cookbook named "No time to cook" and I think I'll learn from it.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What are the types of books that young people like to read?

Gợi ý: the choice of genre can vary (thể loại lựa chọn đa dạng), self-help book (sách tự lực), gives lessons to solve different problems in life (đưa ra những bài học để giải quyết những vấn đề khác nhau trong cuộc sống), novels (tiểu thuyết), read for pleasure (đọc cho vui, để thư giãn)

Well, that's hard to say because the choice of genre can vary from person to person. Just a guess, I think youngsters tend to prefer self-help books. You know, that type of book often interests young people because it gives them lessons to solve different problems in life, or just teach them a useful skill. Novels can be considered to be another choice of many young people to read for pleasure.

2. What's the difference between the reading habits of old people and young people?

Gợi ý: old people lean towards reading newspapers/ magazines (người già nghiêng về đọc báo / tạp chí), make it a habit (tạo thành thói quen), have preferable time to read (có khoảng thời gian thích hợp để đọc sách), young people read a variety of genre (giới trẻ đọc nhiều thể loại)

Well, I suppose that old people can only read and get a small amount of information at a time, so they lean towards reading newspapers or magazines. Also, the elderly tend to make it a habit. I mean, they have their preferable time to read books. As for youngsters, they can read anytime they want and they read a variety of genres. Additionally, young people may find it interesting to read books that allow them to learn, to think and to imagine.

3. What's the difference between paper books and e-books?

Gợi ý: paper books: less eye strain (bớt mỏi mắt), gluing eyes in a phone or computer screen (dán mắt vào điện thoại hay màn hình máy tính), ebook: more flexibility, portable devices (thiết bị cầm tay)

Of course you can hold a printed book and turn its pages, which is not the case with electronic ones. Some people may find it easier to read paper books because there is less eye strain than when gluing your eyes in a phone or computer screen to read e-books. However, I must say that ebooks come with more flexibility. You know, everyone can read books on portable devices without having to carry so many books around. What's more, e-books are usually less expensive than paper books.

4. Some people say that it is easier for children who start reading from a young age to succeed, do you agree?

Gợi ý: intellectual abilities develop fast (khả năng trí tuệ phát triển nhanh), curious and eager to learn (tò mò và ham học hỏi), enhance cognitive potential (mở rộng tiềm năng nhận thức)

I suppose so. Well, I reckon that children's intellectual abilities develop much faster when they read at a young age. Besides, kids are always curious and eager to learn from things around. Therefore, starting reading at that time may help them acquire knowledge better and enhance their cognitive potential.

Conversation

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a conversation topic that you were not interested in

You should say:

- Who you talked with
- When you had the conversation
- What the topic was
- And explain why you were not interested

Answer

I'd tell you about the most boring conversation I've ever engaged in.

So about 4 years ago, I applied for a teaching assistant position in ABC, a local language training center near my house. My goal back then was to find a suitable environment to gain some teaching experience, as I had developed a particular interest in this field. Before that I've tried my hand at being a tutor for high school students, so I was pretty confident that I had what it took to pursue a language teaching career.

I sent my CV to ABC and much to my surprise, they replied to me within only 4 days. I was exhilarated⁽¹⁾ to hear the news and prepared everything carefully the night before the meeting. I chose what to wear, ironed the set of clothes to leave a good impression on⁽²⁾ the HR manager, and even put a notebook in my backpack in case I had to take important notes during the meeting.

But it was, sadly, all for nothing. I was expecting to be a part of a rewarding and challenging interview, but what I got were, in fact, a bunch of generic, pointless and even strangely irrelevant questions⁽³⁾. The only part that had something to do with my English proficiency⁽⁴⁾ was a short test focusing on Receptive skills⁽⁵⁾, and that's it. The follow-up questions given by the HR manager, like I said, cover a wide range of topics, but most of them are about things like my studying schedule at university, my ability to learn things by heart, and my sense of humour. The interview doesn't involve any meaningful exchange about teaching experience and mindset, which were supposed to be the core elements⁽⁶⁾. The only good thing about this boring conversation was that it only lasted for roughly 15 minutes, but for me it felt like an eternity.

1. Exhilarated: thích thú, phấn khởi

2. To leave a good impression on someone: để lại một ấn tượng tốt cho ai đó

Impression /ɪm'preʃən/ : ấn tượng
Ví dụ: She leave a good impression on us.

3. A bunch of generic, pointless and even strangely irrelevant questions: một loạt các câu hỏi chung chung, vô nghĩa và thậm chí không liên quan một cách kỳ lạ

Generic /dʒə'ner.ɪk/ chung chung
Pointless /'poɪnt.ləs/ vô nghĩa
Irrelevant /ɪ'rel.ə.vənt/ không liên quan

4. English proficiency: độ thành thạo tiếng Anh

Proficiency /prə'fɪʃ.ən.si/ độ thành thạo
Ví dụ: Rules on ages and English proficiency will be relaxed

5. Receptive skills: kỹ năng tiếp nhận (trong tiếng Anh là kỹ năng nghe và đọc)

Receptive /rɪ'sep.tɪv/ : tiếp nhận
Ví dụ: They tapped into the productive and receptive skills of the learners.

6. Core elements: yếu tố then chốt

Elements /'el.ə.mənts/: yếu tố
Core /kɔ:r/ : lõi
Ví dụ: Core elements of performance evaluation.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What topics do young people in Vietnam talk about?

Gợi ý: a common theme of the conversation (chủ đề chung của cuộc hội thoại)

Well, when young people hang out with their friends, they normally catch up on what each of them has been up to. I mean, all the things about their daily life such as work, family, finance, or idols can become a common theme of the conversation.

2. What's the difference between the topics popular now and those in the past?

Gợi ý: hot news spreading on the internet (tin nóng lan truyền trên internet), news related to celebrities, political issues (tin tức liên quan đến người nổi tiếng, các vấn đề chính trị)

Well, there have been some changes in the amount of news and information people get through years and therefore, the topic of their conversation has also changed. I think, nowadays, people tend to talk more about some hot news spreading on the internet, you know, kind of news related to celebrities, political issues or events happening around the world. Meanwhile, regarding time in the past, I guess people cared more about each other and they only discussed things that mattered to them about family, work, food and so on

3. How do you know if others are not interested in your conversation?

Gợi ý: positive responses (phản hồi tích cực), eager to know more (mong muốn biết thêm), be silent or just doing other tasks while listening (im lặng hoặc làm việc khác trong khi lắng nghe)

Well, I suppose that if a person is interested in what you're saying, he/she will get excited and keep asking questions to continue the conversation. That shows their positive responses to your information and that they are eager to know more. Otherwise, they may be silent or just doing other tasks while listening as a sign. However, I would say that in some cases, it's really hard to detect whether people are genuinely interested or they just do that for other reasons like motivating you, cheering you up.

4. What's the influence of modern technology, such as the internet and e-mails, on our communication?

Gợi ý: keep in touch with each other regardless of distance (giữ liên lạc với nhau bất kể khoảng cách), reduce the amount of face-to-face interaction (giảm các tương tác trực tiếp)

First, I must mention the positive impacts. You know, thanks to the advances of modern technology, people now can keep in touch with each other more quickly and easily regardless of distance. You see, I'm currently living halfway across the country from my parents but I can still contact them regularly by calling video via facebook. It's just like a face-to-face conversation. Having said that, depending too much on technology can reduce the amount of face-to-face interaction and eventually ruin their real-life relationships.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a friend you lost contact with and started contacting again

You should say:

- Who this friend is
- When and Where you met
- What you talked about
- And explain your feelings about the meeting

Answer

So now I'm gonna tell you about Thalia, a friend of mine with whom I often hang out recently. Actually, she is a Vietnamese, but I usually call her by English name because she told me she really loved that name.

Thalia is now in her early twenties. We've been friends for donkey's years⁽¹⁾, and I vaguely remember that I got to know her in secondary school when we both were in grade 9. I would say she is a gorgeous⁽²⁾ and super talented girl. She started working as a designer in a well-known advertising company just about a couple of months ago. Before that, probably in 2012, she migrated to Ireland, settled down and finished her tertiary education there. That's also the reason why we lost touch with each other⁽³⁾ in almost 7 years.

Well, back then, we got on really well with each other since we had a lot in common⁽⁴⁾. We hardly ever fell out⁽⁵⁾, and we saw eyes to eyes⁽⁶⁾ in almost every situation. I just enjoyed her company very much until she told me that she decided to study overseas in a European country halfway across the world from Vietnam. I was really sad about that. After she had arrived in Ireland, we did try to keep in touch by sending text messages and calling videos, but due to her hectic studying schedule⁽⁷⁾, we both eventually stopped contacting each other.

3 months ago, I bumped into⁽⁸⁾ her while going shopping in a mall. I recognized her instantly because of a small tattoo on her neck. It's so unique. Needless to say, I was so surprised and excitedly gave her a warm hug. At that time, she nearly burst into tears⁽⁹⁾. We spent the whole afternoon talking and catching up on what we'd been up to until then. She shared a lot about her student life abroad, about her new boyfriend and she just kept saying sorry for not contacting me. Well, of course I didn't get angry about that. Now she is there and we are still friends. Currently, we often hang out on the weekends. That's enough for us to keep our long-lasting friendship.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Why do people lose contact with their friends after graduation?

Gợi ý: make a different decision (đưa ra những quyết định khác nhau), settle down (định cư và ổn định cuộc sống), bury themselves in work (vùi mình vào công việc), lose touch with each other (mất liên lạc với nhau)

Actually, there are many reasons for that. After graduating, each person will probably make a different decision about where they're going to work and settle down. Some choose to move to another city or even another country where they can find good job opportunities, and some may study overseas while the others will come back to their hometown. Then they just bury themselves in work, study, family and eventually lose touch with each other.

2. Do people in your country tend to make new friends?

Gợi ý: form new relationships (hình thành những mối quan hệ mới), an introvert (một người hướng nội), get to know each other (tìm hiểu, làm quen với nhau), hospitable (hiếu khách)

Yes, of course. I suppose that almost everyone has to form new relationships, even an introvert. During different periods of life, anyone will definitely meet new people and get to know each other. Especially in Vietnam, people are so friendly and hospitable that they always warmly welcome new people to become their friends.

Laugh

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe a film that made you laugh

You should say:

- What it was
- When you watched it
- Who you watched it with
- And explain why it made you laugh

Answer

Actually, I'm not a fan of typical comedy films so I can't recall the last time I actually laughed when watching a funny movie. Instead, I'll tell you about a time I laughed when watching a movie.

The film's name was The Witcher, which is a movie adaptation⁽¹⁾ of the first part in a fantasy novel series written by a Polish author. The series revolves around Geralt – the witcher with superhuman abilities in his journey to find Ciri – his long lost adopted daughter. It's a pretty long series so I'll just focus on its first part – The Last Wish.

So in this part, Geralt met a sorceress called Yennefer – who would later be bound to him by destiny⁽²⁾, and became the love of his life. And what the movie does really well – also the thing that makes me laugh and adore – was the palpable chemistry between them. Geralt is famous for his dry humour⁽³⁾, and Yennefer can literally destroy a person's ego with her razor sharp sarcasm and witty remarks⁽⁴⁾. As you can expect, whenever Geralt and Yen are together, they never fail to amuse the audience⁽⁵⁾ with their genuine interactions⁽⁶⁾. The way they mock⁽⁷⁾ each other, banter back and forth⁽⁸⁾, speaks so much about their personality, sense of humour, and most importantly the unbreakable bonds⁽⁹⁾ between them. Apart from the super talented actor and actress who play G and Y – two very hard characters to portray⁽¹⁰⁾ - I also gotta give credits to the movie producer for staying faithful to the source material. IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. Do people like comedy?

Gợi ý: comedies (phim hài), induce laughter (gây ra/ đem lại tiếng cười), a sense of happiness and relaxation (cảm giác vui vẻ và thư giãn), all-time favorite film genre (thể loại phim yêu thích nhất)

I think yes, not all but most people are into comedies. You know, watching any funny content can help induce laughter, which in turn gives them a sense of happiness and relaxation. Comedy is also my all-time favorite film genre which I watch nearly on a daily basis to unwind and relieve stress after hard days at work.

2. Why do people of all ages like cartoons?

Gợi ý: fun and entertaining (vui nhộn và mang tính giải trí), straightforward plot (cốt truyện dễ hiểu), memorable part of their childhood (phần đáng nhớ của tuổi thơ), trigger their interest (khơi gợi sự thích thú)

Well, maybe because cartoons are fun and entertaining. You know, their plots are both meaningful and straight forward, which helps people understand easily even when they are too busy to pay full attention. Besides, as I see, most adults grew up watching cartoons so it's just like a memorable part of their childhood and that can definitely trigger their interest.

3. Why do some people like to make others laugh?

Gợi ý: a great sense of humor (khiếu hài hước), leave a good impression on others. (để lại ấn tượng tốt với người khác), bring happiness and positive energy (mang lại niềm vui và năng lượng tích cực)

Actually, those who have a great sense of humor enjoy making people laugh. They may find it fun to do so or perhaps they want to leave a good impression on others. You know, people tend to like being with someone who can bring them happiness and positive energy.

4. Should teachers tell jokes in class?

Gợi ý: tell some jokes or funny stories (nói đùa hoặc kể chuyện hài), reduce stress (giảm căng thẳng), shares a good laugh (cùng có một trận cười sảng khoái), bond as a group (kết nối với nhau thành một nhóm)

I think yes. Compared to teachers being serious all the time, students perhaps like those who can tell some jokes or funny stories and laugh along with them. That really helps to reduce stress during the whole long lesson. On top of that, I do believe that laughter is a good thing in class since anyone who shares a good laugh can bond as a group.

Tradition

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe an interesting tradition in your country

You should say:

- What it is
- How old it is
- Whether the people in your country follow this tradition
- And explain how you personally feel about this tradition

Answer

Well, speaking of traditions, I instantly come up with one I think is the most interesting among all Vietnamese traditions. This is normally called "the birthday grab".

So, to make it more precise, this tradition is carried out on the first birthday of a child which is considered to be one of the most important milestones⁽¹⁾ in their life. On this day, a small party is held for the family to say a big thanks to god for sending them a healthy and intelligent child. All family members and relatives also gather, celebrate and make best wishes for the baby or give him/her presents.

After praying, it's time for "the birthday grab" to begin. First, parents have to prepare a bunch of items⁽²⁾, including a pen or a book, a mirror, scissors, clay, money, and a small piece of steamed sticky rice, then place them in front of the child. This child is encouraged to crawl⁽³⁾ forward and grab anything that he or she finds interested in. Well, it's his own choice to pick up a favorite item and whatever is held in his hand first will be seen as an indicator⁽⁴⁾ for his future career. Well, each item represents a particular job or personality, like, if it is a pen or book, then the child is more likely to become a teacher. Otherwise, who chooses money is expected to become a successful businessperson, or with the mirror and scissors, the child can be a make-up artist or a barber.

As you may not know, this tradition dates back in the time of dynasties⁽⁵⁾ and is performed mainly in Buddhist families⁽⁶⁾. Although many modern parents nowadays adopt⁽⁷⁾ Western tradition of blowing candles on birthdays, they still keep "the birthday grab" alive. Perhaps these days people don't take it seriously like in the past so whatever the result is, they still find it interesting to have a potential look into the baby's future.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. How do people value traditional festivals?

Gợi ý: passed down from generation to generation (truyền từ thế hệ này sang thế hệ khác), treasure the value (trân trọng giá trị), hold traditional activities (tổ chức các hoạt động truyền thống), enjoy some quality time (tận hưởng khoảng thời gian quý báu)

Well, I don't know about other countries but in Vietnam, traditional festivals have been passed down from generation to generation. Vietnamese treasure the value of those festivals very much. You see, they often hold traditional activities or cook special food to celebrate, like on Tet holiday, workers and students also have a long break from work/school just to enjoy some quality time with their family.

2. What's the difference between festivals now and those in the past?

Gợi ý: look forward to (trông đợi), disconnect from work and unwind (tạm rời xa công việc và thư giãn), family gatherings (hẹp mặt gia đình)

Perhaps the most different thing is in the way it is celebrated. Well, in the past, I guess everyone might have much more time to enjoy. Back then, festivals were something which people always looked forward to because it was time to disconnect from work and unwind. There were family gatherings, parties or reunions. Nowadays, however, you wouldn't be surprised to see people working even on festivals and holidays. People tend to concentrate on their career rather than spending time and catching up with their beloved one.

3. Do you think western festivals like Christmas are replacing traditional festivals in your country?

Gợi ý: an indispensable part of Vietnamese culture (một phần không thể thiếu của văn hóa Việt Nam), a controversial idea (ý kiến gây tranh cãi), abolished (bãi bỏ), remains preserved (vẫn được bảo tồn)

No, not really. Although it can't be denied that more and more families are adopting western festivals in modern days, traditional ones are still an indispensable part of Vietnamese culture. Well, there used to be a controversial idea that Tet holiday is old-fashioned and therefore should be abolished. But then, as you can see, Tet still remains preserved as most people oppose this opinion.

4. Do you think it is wrong for children not to celebrate traditional festivals?

Gợi ý: keep our traditions going on (giữ cho truyền thống được tiếp tục), learn and experience such cultural values from our ancestors (học hỏi và trải nghiệm những giá trị văn hóa đó từ tổ tiên), makes the cultural diversity shrink (làm cho sự đa dạng văn hóa bị thu hẹp)

Kind of. You know, involving kids in the traditional festivals' celebrations can be a good way to keep our traditions going on, so children should be encouraged to learn and experience such cultural values from our ancestors. Let see, what if the future generation knows nothing about those festivals? Of course, the festivals will gradually get lost, which somehow makes the cultural diversity shrink.

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe an area of science (physics, biology, psychology, etc.) that interests you

You should say:

- What it is
- When you knew it
- How you learned it
- And explain why you are interested in it

Answer

I'd like to talk about the area of science in which I've recently developed a particular interest. It is mental health.

If you asked me this question years ago, then mental health wouldn't even be in the top 10 of the things I'd think of. You know, I was always a super-confident guy who didn't have much difficulty getting what he wanted. I always thought of myself as someone full of positive energy⁽¹⁾, and thus immune to any kinds of mental illnesses⁽²⁾. But I was wrong. At the end of last year, I went through the darkest period in my life, mostly because of the stumbling blocks⁽³⁾ I've encountered in my career, and a toxic relationship that had been ruining my self-esteem⁽⁴⁾ for more than 6 years. I felt as if everything was against me, and the worst part is that I didn't have the guts to free myself⁽⁵⁾.

It was at that moment that I realized the most frightening thing about depression. It doesn't spare any victim⁽⁶⁾. No one is 100% safe from it, no matter how glorious their career is or how many achievements they've got. Sometimes when we look at the Facebook page of a well-known celebrity, we don't see any sign of negativity, let alone suicidal thoughts⁽⁷⁾. We'd ask ourselves: What could possibly go wrong with this guy? He has everything so many others long for. He must be really happy with his life. While in reality, that person's probably sitting alone in his room in sorrow, asking himself what's his purpose in this life, and burying himself in the thought of death as an escape.

When I was aware of my own conditions, I tried everything I could to ease the excruciating pain⁽⁸⁾ I had to endure. I tried to reach out for help. Fortunately, some people noticed the problem I was having. They listened to me, gave me small useful

1. Full of positive energy: tràn đầy năng lượng tích cực

Ví dụ: Lack of willingness to compromise on both sides is the major stumbling blocks to reaching a settlement.

4. Ruining my self-esteem /'ru:.ɪnɪŋ mə self ɪ'sti:m/ : hủy hoại lòng tự trọng

5. Not have the guts to free myself /nɒt hæv ðə: guts tu: fri: mə self/: không có can đảm để giải phóng bản thân

Ví dụ: I don't have the guts to free myself

6. spare any victim /speər 'en.i 'vɪk.tɪm/ : tha cho bất kỳ nạn nhân nào

Ví dụ: Covid-19 will not spare any victim

7. Suicidal thoughts /su:.ɪ'saɪ.dəl θo:ts/: suy nghĩ tự vẫn (tự tử)

Ví dụ: Suicidal thoughts weren't far away

8. Ease the excruciating pain /i:z: ðə: ɪk'skrū:.ʃi.ez.tɪŋ peɪn/ : làm dịu cơn đau dữ dội

Pain /peɪn/ cơn đau

Excruciating /ɪk'skrū:.ʃi.ez.tɪŋ/ dữ dội

Ví dụ: To ease the excruciating pain during filming, Wally was given advice, and eventually, I finally managed to pull it together, and escape from that living hell⁽⁹⁾.

After barely surviving that nightmare, I started to seriously consider being a psychiatrist⁽¹⁰⁾ in the future, though of course I didn't receive any proper training in this field. I guess I just want to save those who are going the same hell as I did, you know? I want to reach out for those broken souls, and remind them that We're here, and we care for you. Because for someone who suffers from mental illnesses, nothing is more important than being loved.

9. Escape from that living hell: thoát

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What's the best invention in the past one hundred years?

Gợi ý: The most striking one is the telephone, regardless of far distance (bất kể khoảng cách)

Well, that's really hard to choose because you know, there have been thousands of great inventions, but perhaps the most striking one to me is the telephone. Being able to talk with anyone regardless of far distance is so amazing and convenient.

2. What's the influence of science on human life?

Gợi ý: positive impacts (tác động tích cực), the advance of science (tiến bộ của khoa học), effective solutions to the challenges that humanity is facing (giải pháp hiệu quả cho các vấn đề mà nhân loại đang đối mặt), cure or treatment (việc chữa trị bệnh), renewable energy (năng lượng tái tạo)

Obviously, science has brought many positive impacts on people's life. As we can see, thanks to the advance of science, there are always effective solutions to the challenges that humanity is facing. You know, from cure or treatment to serious health problems to the advent of renewable energy which helps reduce heavy pollution. Those are just some typical examples of science that do wonders for human beings. Up to now, many basic human needs have been satisfied and the living standards have been improved too.

3. What can individuals do for scientific research?

Gợi ý: funding (ngân sách), donating money (quyên góp tiền), deal with financial problems (giải quyết vấn đề về tài chính), contribution from young talented generations (đóng góp từ thế hệ trẻ tài năng)

Probably funding is the major problem to all. To facilitate the process of doing research, scientists need modern equipment, gadgets, material or even infrastructure like laboratories that may cost millions of dollars. Thus, as ordinary people, we may help by donating money to help deal with financial problems. What's more, I guess they also seek contribution in terms of ideas from young talented generations.

4. What influence can international cooperation in science bring about?

Gợi ý: providing access to valuable additional expertise (tiếp cận các nguồn kiến thức chuyên môn có giá trị), sharing costs (chia sẻ kinh phí), combating this serious disease (chống lại đại dịch nghiêm trọng)

You know, science is a long process of continuously learning and researching in which scientists all across the globe may have common goals. Hence, working and collaborating with their international counterparts can benefit all, like providing access to valuable additional expertise or sharing costs. You see, during the coronavirus pandemic, many countries have supported each other so as to combating this serious disease and in fact, we are making faster joint progress.

Languages

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe the time when you first talked in a foreign language

You should say:

- Where you were
- Who you were with
- What you talked about
- And explain how you felt about it

Answer

Well, it is a bit embarrassing⁽¹⁾ to tell you the truth that although I have learned English for half my life, until now, I still don't have many chances to talk to native speakers. The first time I attempted to⁽²⁾ talk to foreigners was about 2 years ago when I was a freshman⁽³⁾ whose English level was so low.

At that time, I had just finished my final test at university. I had lots of time on my hands so I decided to unwind a bit by going to the movies and catching up on the latest movie. Everything was okay until I got inside the theater and realized that someone had taken my reserved seat. They were a young American couple. Because It was too dark inside so I guessed they just mistook⁽⁴⁾ mine for theirs, so of course I needed to talk with them about that. Well, It wouldn't have been a big problem if my speaking skill was a bit better. Honestly, at that moment I nearly froze and couldn't get any words out of my mouth⁽⁵⁾. Of course my English was not that bad, I think I can exchange a few words but I didn't know why I still struggled to⁽⁶⁾ start speaking. Perhaps I had overestimated⁽⁷⁾ my ability, or just my confidence.

The film almost started and I was forced to say or I would not have my seat. I showed my ticket to them and recalled all of my limited vocabulary range just to convey the meaning that they were taking my seat. I even used my body language⁽⁸⁾ since through their facial expression⁽⁹⁾, I thought they didn't actually catch it. Fortunately, the Americans were so patient to try to hear what I was saying. At last, I did manage to get myself understood. They instantly stood up and kept saying sorry to me. Of course I didn't get angry but the thing that really bothered me at that time was the idea that I had to sign up for

ngượng ngùng

Ví dụ: I found the whole situation excruciatingly embarrassing.

2. Attempt to V: cố gắng làm việc gì đó

Ví dụ: I attempt to understand this lesson

3. Freshman /'freʃ.mən/ : sinh viên năm nhất

Ví dụ: He's a freshman at Harvard.

Mistake something/ someone for...: nhầm lẫn ai/ cái gì

4. Mistake /mɪ'steɪk/ nhầm lẫn

Ví dụ: You can't mistake their house

5. Couldn't get any words out of my mouth: không thể thoát ra được lời nào

6. Struggle to V /'strʌg.əl tu:/ : gặp khó khăn

Ví dụ: I struggle to understand this article all afternoon.

7. Overestimate /əʊ.və'res.tɪ.mate/:

đánh giá quá cao

Ví dụ: I overestimated and there was a lot of food left over after the party.

8. Body languages: ngôn ngữ cơ thể

Body /'bɒd.i/ : cơ thể

Languages /læŋ.gwɪdʒ/: ngôn ngữ

Ví dụ: I could tell from her body language that she was very embarrassed.

9. Facial expression /'feɪ.səl ek'spreʃən/:

biểu đạt gương mặt

Ví dụ: Take a look at her facial expression, her facial expression doesn't change.

an English course immediately.

Well, I still enjoyed the film. After that, I met the couple again outside the theater, they gave me a bottle of soft drink as their apology and told me something I guessed was about the film. One more embarrassing moment, I wish I could understand it.

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. At what age should children start learning a foreign language?

Gợi ý: ideal age (độ tuổi lý tưởng), be exposed to English (được tiếp xúc với tiếng Anh), develop their mother tongue first (phát triển ngôn ngữ mẹ đẻ trước tiên), children's acquisition of their first language is nearly enough (sự tiếp thu ngôn ngữ đầu tiên của trẻ em đã gần đủ)

I personally think that 6 or 7 is the ideal age for children to learn a second language. Actually, many Vietnamese parents want their kids to be exposed to English as much as possible, even right after their birth. I don't think it is a good idea since at that time, kids need to develop their mother tongue first. Wrong methods of teaching 2 languages at the same time can make a child get confused. Therefore, I think they'd better learn a new language when they start school because at that time, children's acquisition of their first language is nearly enough.

2. Which skill is more important, speaking or writing?

Gợi ý: used more frequently (sử dụng thường xuyên), be more prioritized (được ưu tiên hơn), communicate and socialize (giao tiếp và hòa nhập xã hội), thesis (luận án)

Actually, both are equally important. It kind of depends on each person's need: which skill that they need to use more frequently would be more prioritized. For instance, those who want to communicate and socialize only in everyday conversations or at the workplace, speaking skills tend to be more necessary. However, writing also plays a vital role in certain circumstances like doing research, writing a thesis and so on.

3. Does a person still need to learn other languages if he or she is good at English?

Gợi ý: settle down (ổn định cuộc sống)

It depends, I suppose so. Although English is now considered as the most popular language across the globe, it is not always widely used in many countries and so people still need to learn other languages. You see, some developed countries like China or Japan always encourage their citizens to use their first language because they want to develop it. Thus, if anyone wants to work or settle down in those countries, they definitely need to learn those languages.

4. Do you think minority languages will disappear?

Gợi ý: do nothing to preserve languages (không làm gì để bảo tồn ngôn ngữ), international collaboration is enhanced (hợp tác quốc tế được đẩy mạnh), leans towards using the same language (thiên về dùng chung 1 ngôn ngữ), minority languages will be abolished (ngôn ngữ thiểu số sẽ bị xóa bỏ)

I'm afraid it would happen in the future if governments do nothing to preserve languages which are spoken by a minority of people. You see, in modern days, when international collaboration is enhanced, everyone leans towards using the same language so that people all around the world can understand and exchange ideas. Hence, minority languages will be abolished to make way for only a handful of common ones.

Ambitions

IELTS Speaking Part 2

Describe an ambition that you have had for a long time

You should say:

- What it is
- What you did for it
- When you can achieve it
- And explain why you have this ambition

Answer

To tell the truth, I have always dreamed of becoming a female leader in the near future. My real model is Mrs. Ha who is now the president of the Vietnam Women's Union. Well, I have a really strong desire⁽¹⁾ to become a person like her.

As for the reason why I have this ambition, you know, during my whole life, I have seen many Vietnamese women who were the victims of child marriage⁽²⁾ and domestic violence⁽³⁾. You see, despite many accomplishments⁽⁴⁾ in striving for gender equality⁽⁵⁾ and protecting women's rights, there is still not enough development of females in modern society. That's why I want to become a leader and give my great contribution.

Honestly, it's not easy to become what I desire. As you know, a leader needs to be not only talented but also dedicated⁽⁶⁾ and determined⁽⁷⁾, and on top of that, it's their leadership skills⁽⁸⁾ that really matter. To cultivate those skills, I'm now trying to study and engage in various charitable⁽⁹⁾ work and campaigns to help eradicate women's illiteracy⁽¹⁰⁾ and support those who live in poverty. Also, I'm applying to work for a new project which raises funds to support opening career centers for women. This center will specialize in⁽¹¹⁾ providing job training for women, ranging from soft skills to short courses about running a small business.

It will be a long journey ahead but I believe in myself. I will keep trying my best to make my dream come true.

1. Strong desire /strɔŋ dɪ'zɪər/: mong muốn mãnh liệt

3. Domestic violence /də'mes.tɪk 'vaʊə.ləns/: bạo lực gia đình

Ví dụ: Domestic violence is always unacceptable.

4. Accomplishments /ə'kʌm.plɪʃ.mənt/: thành tích

Ví dụ: Getting the two leaders to sign a peace treaty was his greatest accomplishment.

5. Strive for gender equality: đấu tranh cho bình đẳng giới

Strive /straɪv/ đấu tranh

Gender /'dʒen.dər/ giới tính

Equality /'ɪ.kwɒl.e.ti/ bình đẳng

Ví dụ: We want to strive for gender equality across the world.

6. Dedicated /'ded.i.ket.tid/: tận tâm

Ví dụ: She's completely dedicated to her work.

10. Eradicate illiteracy: xóa mù chữ

Eradicate /ɪ'ræd.i.ket/: loại bỏ

Illiteracy /'ɪlt.ər.o.si/: mù chữ

Ví dụ: Attempts were made to eradicate illiteracy, and colleges and schools were built everywhere.

11. Specialize in /'speʃ.əl.aɪz ɪn/: chuyên về

Ví dụ: Some pros specialize in bird control

Mở rộng

Các ý tưởng và từ vựng trên có thể được sử dụng cho các chủ đề sau:

- Describe a female leader you would like to meet: The person whom I admire the most is Mrs. Ha, the president of the Vietnam Women's Union
- Describe a friend who is a good leader
- Describe a goal that you hope to achieve in the future: My goal is to become a good leader

IELTS Speaking Part 3

1. What kinds of ambitions do people have?

Gợi ý: desire for success and happiness in life (mong muốn thành công và hạnh phúc trong cuộc sống), a steady and well-paid job (một công việc ổn định và lương cao), an ideal family (một gia đình lý tưởng)

Well, it really depends, but for the most part, people tend to have a desire for success and happiness in life. To be more precise, a steady and well-paid job and an ideal family is always the thing that everyone strives for. Actually, whatever they dream of, it's all about having a better life.

2. Why should parents encourage children to have ambitions?

Gợi ý: a source of motivation (một nguồn động lực), move forward and try their best (tiến lên và cố gắng hết sức), a strong wish to do something (một mong muốn mạnh mẽ để làm điều gì đó)

To me, ambitions can be seen as a source of motivation which encourages people to move forward and try their best to achieve them. As for children who can be more likely to give up, it appears to be more crucial that they need a strong wish to do something. Therefore, parents can help by guiding them in setting their own goal and support them to achieve it.

3. Should parents interfere with their children's ambitions?

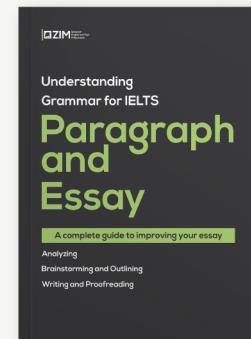

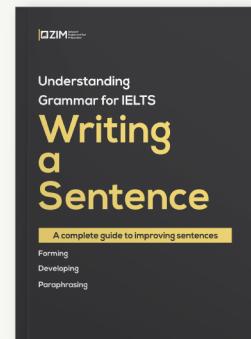

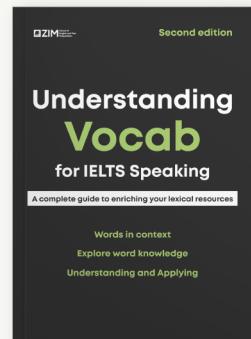

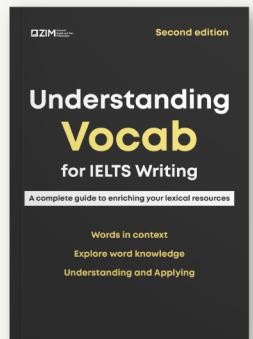

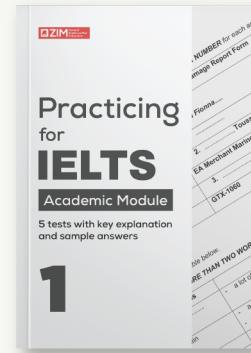

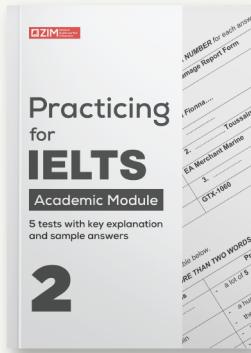

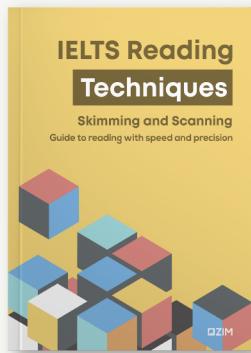

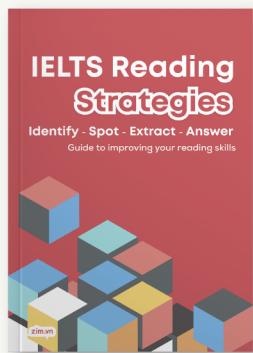

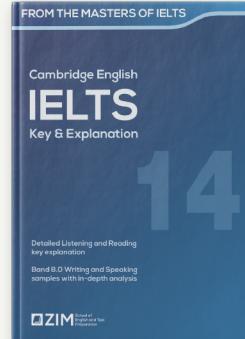

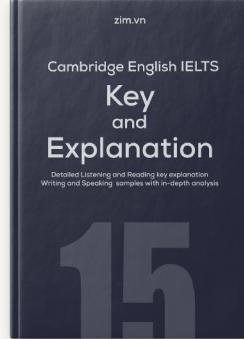

Gợi ý: not mature enough (không đủ trưởng thành), lead the right direction (chỉ dẫn đúng hướng), give support (hỗ trợ), not becoming a hurdle (không trở thành một trở ngại)

Parents need to interfere, but only in certain cases. I mean, kids are not mature enough to make their own decisions about what they should and should not do, so parents' role is to lead the right direction and give children support when they need, but not becoming a hurdle to their children's ambition. Children may make mistakes sometimes but then they can learn from it and become stronger.

4. Is there any difference between children's ambitions and those of grown-ups?

Gợi ý: Children have smaller and short-term desires (trẻ em có những mong muốn nhỏ hơn và ngắn hạn), more ambitious with long-term goals (tham vọng hơn với nhiều mục tiêu dài hạn)

Sure there is. You know, people's ambitions are not the same at different stages of life, obviously. Children tend to have smaller and short-term desires, mostly the things that interest them, like to have new toys or win a school competition. However, when people grow up, they become more ambitious with long-term goals from money, power to success and happiness in life.
